PROCEEDINGS AND DEBATES OF THE 115th CONGRESS, SECOND SESSION

Vol. 164

WASHINGTON, TUESDAY, JANUARY 16, 2018

No. 9

House of Representatives

The House met at noon and was called to order by the Speaker pro tempore (Mr. ARRINGTON).

DESIGNATION OF SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore laid before the House the following communication from the Speaker:

WASHINGTON, DC,

January 16, 2018.

I hereby appoint the Honorable JODEY C. ARRINGTON to act as Speaker pro tempore on this day.

PAUL D. RYAN,

Speaker of the House of Representatives.

MORNING-HOUR DEBATE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the order of the House of January 8, 2018, the Chair will now recognize Members from lists submitted by the majority and minority leaders for morning-hour debate.

The Chair will alternate recognition between the parties. All time shall be equally allocated between the parties, and in no event shall debate continue beyond 1:50 p.m. Each Member, other than the majority and minority leaders and the minority whip, shall be limited to 5 minutes.

DOYLESTOWN TOWNSHIP BICENTENNIAL

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. FITZPATRICK) for 5 minutes.

Mr. FITZPATRICK. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to thank and recognize the leaders of the Doylestown Township community in my district for their hard work, generosity, and support for the community as Doylestown Township celebrates its bicentennial, 200 years of history and community that I am proud to be a part of.

I would like to recognize the Doylestown Township Board of Supervisors: Barbara Lyons, Rick Colello, Ryan Manion, Jennifer Herring, and Ken Snyder; and the Volunteer Bicentennial Committee: Arthur Zapolski, Joe Paternostro, Ted Feldstein, Stu Abramson, David Hansen. Dr. Vail Garvin, Tina Mazaheri, Mary Lou Parry, Renu Dalal, Beth Long, Chris Nardo, and John Arnold.

I would also like to recognize the community sponsors whose generosity made the celebration possible: my friend Senator Chuck McIlhinney and State Representative Marguerite Quinn, Pine Run Retirement Community Center, Covenant Bank, Delaware Valley University, Boucher & James, Bucks County Water & Sewer Authority, Gilmore & Associates, Pennoni, Pennsylvania Soup & Seafood House, Pickering, Corts & Summerson, FRANC Environmental, Doylestown Hospital, Worth & Company, Shelley Law Offices, Greenstreet, CB Cares Educational Foundation, Mazaheri Law, Monument Bank, and Doylestown Health for sponsoring the opening gala I was privileged to attend.

I ask the House of Representatives to join me in saying thank you for their commitment to our community.

RECOGNIZING SOUDERTON AREA HIGH SCHOOL

Mr. FITZPATRICK. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize a school in my district. On November 30, 2017, Souderton Area High School was recognized as a National Banner Unified Champion School by the Special Olympics International headquarters.

Through the diligence and compassion of Athletic Director Dennis Stanton and Supervisor of Special Education Megan Zweiback, the introduction of unified sports into the school has greatly enhanced the curriculum of special-needs students and allowed them to compete with other students in interscholastic competition.

One of only four schools in the Nation and the first in Pennsylvania to have been honored in this respect, I am proud of the work done at Souderton Area High School to support and enhance the education and recreational development of all students.

FUNDING THE CHILDREN'S HEALTH INSURANCE PROGRAM

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from Oregon (Ms. BONAMICI) for 5 minutes.

Ms. BONAMICI. Mr. Speaker, I am a Member of Congress, but I am also a mom. And as a mom, I am puzzled and, frankly, dismayed because Congress has not found a bipartisan way to provide long-term funding for the Children's Health Insurance Program.

More than 9 million children and pregnant mothers, including thousands in Oregon, receive basic health care through CHIP. In the past, this popular program has always had broad bipartisan support.

We must do better than the stopgap Band-Aid that is forcing States to rely on short-term funding and, importantly, leaving vulnerable families with uncertainty and with distress.

Recently, I met a wonderful family in Oregon that relies on CHIP for the health of their two kids. Their story pulled at my heart.

This is David. David is 5, and his brother, Jacob, is 20 months old, and both children have neurological conditions. Both require long-term medical care. David battles a life-threatening form of epilepsy that requires expensive medications as well as regular physical and occupational therapy.

Their mom, Renee, fears the worst. I spoke with her and their pediatrician, and she told me that, without long-term funding to support Medicaid and CHIP, she said: "David could die. It's that simple."

Mr. Speaker, this is about real people, and their lives are on the line. Funding CHIP is a good investment. In fact, the Congressional Budget Office recently predicted that a 10-year reauthorization of CHIP would actually save the Federal Government $6 billion. It turns out preventing illness not only saves lives, it saves money.

There is no excuse for leaving CHIP unfunded. Working families like David and Jacob's family need to know that they will have health care when their kids need it. David and Jacob are children whose lives are at stake, but there are millions more like them in Oregon and across the country.

Mr. Speaker, David and Jacob deserve better. All of our Nation's children deserve better. It is that simple, and we must not let them down.

SUPPORTING THE BORN-ALIVE ABORTION SURVIVORS PROTECTION ACT

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. FITZPATRICK). The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Texas (Mr. ARRINGTON) for 5 minutes.

Mr. ARRINGTON. Mr. Speaker, on Friday thousands of people from all across America will come to Washington to march in support of the dignity and equal protection of every God-given human life in this great land. It is in that spirit that I rise to join my colleagues in supporting H.R. 4712, the Born-Alive Abortion Survivors Protection Act. This bill ensures that, if a baby survives a failed abortion, that baby must be given the same medical care as a baby born under any circumstances.

In a moral society, the strong have a responsibility to protect the weak. It is a stain on the moral fabric of our Nation that some lives are deemed less worthy than others with respect to protection.

America is a city on a hill whose light shines bright for all the world to see. That light is dimmed, however, as long as the dark practice of leaving a baby to die continues.

It is my hope that even those who believe in abortion can recognize that a baby who survives a botched abortion should be afforded the same protections that you and I are.

This week, we celebrate not only the March for Life, we also celebrate the life of Martin Luther King, Jr. In his day, Martin Luther King, Jr., worked tirelessly, in the face of enormous adversity and personal risk to himself and his family, to help all of us as Americans live up to the highest of our American ideals: the self-evident truth that all men are created equal.

Through his work, King helped our Nation better realize its charter for forming a more perfect Union. Mr. Speaker, the Born-Alive Abortion Survivors Protection Act builds on King's legacy by ensuring that the unalienable right to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness are protected for everyone, especially for those whose voices have been silenced.

Passing this legislation would restore some of our Nation's light that has been lost and make our Nation a more perfect Union than it was yesterday. That, after all, is our job.

In the words of the great American hero, Martin Luther King, Jr.: "It is always the right time to do the right thing."

Let's do the right thing, and let's protect these helpless little babies.

RECOGNIZING SOPHIA CAMPA-PETERS

Mr. ARRINGTON. Mr. Speaker, I have the privilege of representing one of the most courageous little girls in all the world, Sophia Campa-Peters. She may be a little girl, little in stature, but there is nothing small about Sophia's heart and her courage.

She has suffered, for the last 3 years, with a rare disease that has caused her to have multiple strokes, and she is now facing the biggest challenge in her journey, major brain surgery.

God says: "Come to Me as little children." Sophia represents the faith of a child like nobody I have encountered since I have been in this office, and she requested that I help her rally the world to pray on January 24 that, while she is having that surgery at Boston Children's Hospital, we would encourage people and implore people to pray for her.

I was delighted and honored to join her and many others in asking folks to take a knee and appeal to the Great Physician to protect her, to heal her, and to make provision for her to have a strong, healthy, and happy life for many, many years to come.

What a testament to her faith in God and the power of prayer. What a testament of someone who, in the face of trial and tribulation, would choose hope, would choose to believe, would choose to dream that her best days are ahead of her.

Thanks, Sophie. Thank you for your faith. Thank you for your testimony. Thank you for your courage. And most of all, thank you for teaching us that every day is an opportunity, every day is a gift from God.

Sophia, we are rallying the world for you. We will pray for you, and we will appeal to Almighty God on your behalf.

God bless her. God bless her family.

RECESS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 12(a) of rule I, the Chair declares the House in recess until 2 p.m. today.

Accordingly (at 12 o'clock and 11 minutes p.m.), the House stood in recess.

□ 1400

AFTER RECESS

The recess having expired, the House was called to order by the Speaker pro tempore (Mr. COMER) at 2 p.m.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, the Reverend Patrick J. Conroy, offered the following prayer:

Dear God, we give You thanks for giving us another day.

We ask Your special blessing upon the Members of this people's House. They face difficult decisions in difficult times, with many forces and interests demanding their attention. In these days, give them wisdom that they might execute their responsibilities to the benefit of all Americans.

Give, as well, on this day, acknowledging religious freedom in our land, confidence to all people who are concerned about the issues most pressing in our Nation at this time.

May all that is done be for Your greater honor and glory.

Amen.

THE JOURNAL

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair has examined the Journal of the last day's proceedings and announces to the House his approval thereof.

Pursuant to clause 1, rule I, the Journal stands approved.

Mr. THOMPSON of Pennsylvania. Mr. Speaker, pursuant to clause 1, rule I, I demand a vote on agreeing to the Speaker's approval of the Journal.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the Speaker's approval of the Journal.

The question was taken; and the Speaker pro tempore announced that the ayes appeared to have it.

Mr. THOMPSON of Pennsylvania. Mr. Speaker, I object to the vote on the ground that a quorum is not present and make the point of order that a quorum is not present.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8, rule XX, further proceedings on this question will be postponed.

The point of no quorum is considered withdrawn.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Texas (Mr. SMITH) come forward and lead the House in the Pledge of Allegiance.

Mr. SMITH of Texas led the Pledge of Allegiance as follows:

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under clause 5(d) of rule XX, the Chair announces to the House that, in light of the resignation of the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. TIBERI), the whole number of the House is 431.

SOARING STOCKS

(Mr. WILSON of South Carolina asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. WILSON of South Carolina. Mr. Speaker, all American families benefit when the Dow Jones Industrial Average closed at a record high of nearly 26,000 last week. Students benefit as college endowments grow, reducing tuition costs. Retirees benefit as their retirement accounts appreciate. With increased liquidity, jobs are created for small businesses.

It is undeniable that the stock market, with the positive leadership of President Trump, has soared.

Rush Limbaugh was correct on his program today that the growth is unprecedented. One year after President Trump was elected, the stock market increased by 28.5 percent. Today, the Dow Jones hit another record high, up over 7,200 points since the 2016 election. Since the start of the year, the stock market has already reached six new record highs.

I am grateful for the leadership of President Trump, who has tweeted this achievement, with the leadership of Speaker PAUL RYAN and House Republicans. This has promoted economic growth through the anticipation and enactment of bills creating immediate jobs, reduced regulations to allow small businesses to begin hiring again, and reformed our Tax Code so that families will be able to keep more of their hard-earned paycheck.

In conclusion, God bless our troops, and we will never forget September the 11th in the global war on terrorism.

MEDIA DISDAIN FOR THE AMERICAN FAMILY

(Mr. SMITH of Texas asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. SMITH of Texas. Mr. Speaker, we already knew, from their daily attacks, that the media disdained the President. What we didn't know with a certainty, until last week, was that the media also disdained the American family.

How else to explain their front-paging and televising, at all hours, a four-letter expletive that would be seen by children across America?

CNN reportedly used the word 195 times in one day. Sad.

There was a time when the media would show some respect for family values, but no more. Words that might have been omitted or not spelled out are now broadcast in their entirety. That is the media's decision to make, but it is a poor decision for the American family.

HONORING RELIGIOUS FREEDOM DAY

(Mr. THOMPSON of Pennsylvania asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. THOMPSON of Pennsylvania. Mr. Speaker, I rise today on Religious Freedom Day to celebrate the numerous faiths that people hold across this great Nation.

Today, we commemorate the 232nd anniversary of the passing of a State law that has shaped and secured our important legacy on religious liberty.

On January 16, 1786, the Virginia General Assembly passed the Virginia Statute for Religious Freedom. The bill, written by Thomas Jefferson, states: "... all men shall be free to profess, and by argument to maintain, their opinions in matters of religion. . . ."

Just a few years later, this bill served as the inspiration for the First Amendment, which affirms our right to choose and exercise faith without government coercion or retaliation.

Today, Americans from diverse ethnic and religious backgrounds remain committed to the values of faith, honesty, integrity, and patriotism.

Mr. Speaker, our Constitution and laws guarantee Americans the right not just to believe as they see fit, but to freely exercise their religion.

We observe this day in our homes and schools and houses of worship because we have the freedom and the right to do so.

LORI LOWERY SHOWS THE BEST IN TEXAS

(Mr. OLSON asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. OLSON. Mr. Speaker, the people of my hometown of Sugar Land, Texas, are amazing.

Last Thursday, something terrible happened on a road I drive on every day at home. On Interstate 69, an 18-wheeler jackknifed during heavy rain. It flew off an overpass, crashing down on a small Toyota Camry. Look. That Camry is about 3 feet tall.

The first miracle is that the driver, Karan Singh, is still alive. The second miracle that day is named Lori Lowery. Lori is training to be a nurse, most likely across the street at the University of Houston Sugar Land. The crash happened right in front of her. She jumped out of her car, crawled through metal and broken glass, and got Karan out.

Lori Lowery shows the best in Texas and my hometown of Sugar Land, and I am proud to call her my boss in Congress.

PUERTO RICO DESERVES BETTER

(Miss GONZÁLEZ-COLÓN of Puerto Rico asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Miss GONZÁLEZ-COLÓN of Puerto Rico. Mr. Speaker, 4 months after Hurricane Maria hit Puerto Rico, 40 percent of our people still lack electricity, with a system barely patched up. Of almost 80,000 homes approved to receive the temporary "blue roof," only half of them have been installed.

Those are only two examples. The hurricane season will be back in 5 months, and then we will be required to start all over again. The situation demands extreme urgency from all Federal agencies.

What is taking so long? Where is the sense of urgency?

This would never be tolerated in any State.

The provisions of the Stafford Act limit us to only patching things up. The supplemental disaster appropriations bill addressed this, but it is stalled in the Senate.

We expect better. We deserve better. We will work to lift ourselves up, but we need the tools to do so. We expect the Federal agencies to act urgently.

BENEFITS OF THE TAX CUTS AND JOBS ACT

(Mrs. HANDEL asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Mrs. HANDEL. Mr. Speaker, last month, the House passed the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act. Already these pro-growth policies are having a positive impact. Businesses are making investments in operations and people.

Thane Brooks operates a resource center for children with special needs in Alpharetta, Georgia. Because businesses can now immediately expense new equipment purchases, Thane is able to open a second facility to serve even more special needs children.

Georgia-based Aflac announced that it will increase contributions to employee retirement plans. AT&T, with nearly 3,000 employees in the Sixth District, gave a $1,000 bonus to non-management employees as a direct result of the tax cut bill.

Overall, more than 2 million workers across the country are feeling the benefits of this law through increased wages, bonuses, and more retirement dollars. And with paychecks for nearly every American set to increase in the coming weeks, there is even more good news on the horizon for American families.

□ 1617

AFTER RECESS

The recess having expired, the House was called to order by the Speaker pro tempore (Mr. YOUNG of Iowa) at 4 o'clock and 17 minutes p.m.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX, the Chair will postpone further proceedings today on motions to suspend the rules on which a recorded vote or the yeas and nays are ordered, or votes objected to under clause 6 of rule XX.

The House will resume proceedings on postponed questions at a later time.

FAMILY SELF-SUFFICIENCY ACT

Mr. DUFFY. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 4258) to promote the development of local strategies to coordinate use of assistance under sections 8 and 9 of the United States Housing Act of 1937 with public and private resources, to enable eligible families to achieve economic independence and self-sufficiency, and for other purposes, as amended.

Funds appropriated pursuant to this section shall remain available for 3 years in order to facilitate the re-use of any recaptured funds for this purpose.

“(5) PERFORMANCE REPORTING.—Programs under this section shall be required to report the number of families enrolled and graduated, the number of established escrow accounts and positive escrow balances, and any other information that the Secretary may require. Program performance shall be reviewed periodically as determined by the Secretary.

“(6) INCENTIVES FOR INNOVATION AND HIGH PERFORMANCE.—The Secretary may reserve up to 5 percent of the amounts made available under this subsection to provide support to or reward Family Self-Sufficiency programs based on the rate of successful completion, increased earned income, or other factors as may be established by the Secretary.”;

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. DUFFY) and the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. HIMES) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Wisconsin.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. DUFFY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on this bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Wisconsin?

There was no objection.

Mr. DUFFY. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself as much time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of H.R. 4258, the Family Self-Sufficiency Act. This legislation will streamline a program designed to help those unable to purchase a home while reducing their dependency on welfare assistance and rental assistance provided by the government.

I want to thank my colleague and friend from Missouri (Mr. CLEAVER) for all of his bipartisan and helpful work on this legislation. It passed out of our committee 58–0, which is somewhat historic for the Financial Services Committee.

Now, the Family Self-Sufficiency Act, or FSS program, is focused on helping families in public housing and the housing choice voucher program. The goal is to utilize a number of services coordinated through the program to help families with individual training to increase their employability and become less dependent on assistance.

These services can include basic education, childcare, transportation, education, financial literacy, mental health referrals, and homeownership counseling. While receiving services, an interest-bearing escrow account is established for the family that can be used for any purpose once the family has graduated from the program.

Currently, HUD operates one program for families served by the housing choice voucher program and a separate program for those families served by the public housing program. This legislation will combine those two separate FSS programs into one to streamline and reduce regulatory burdens.

The bill also broadens the scope of supportive services that may be offered to these families to include attainment of a GED, education in pursuit of a postsecondary degree or certification, and—I think this is important—training in financial literacy. Lastly, H.R. 4258 opens the FSS program to families that live in privately owned properties that are subsidized by project-based rental assistance.

Mr. Speaker, 4,793 families have successfully completed the program, with 1,557 graduates exiting rental assistance, within a year and another 606 graduates that eventually went on and were able to purchase a home. So more than 10 percent of the people who graduate from the program go on to buy a home.

I want to leave you with just a quick anecdote on written testimony that came to our committee from the Compass Working Capital Group. It is a story about Tanya. She graduated from the FSS program in Lynn, Massachusetts.

Now, when Tanya enrolled in the FSS program, she had been receiving housing assistance for about 4 years. She was working full-time and raising two children, but she had bigger dreams. One of those dreams was to one day own a house. At the time, Tanya believed that owning a home was, in her words, “not for families like mine,” a low-income single mother who came from a family where no one has ever owned a home.

So when Tanya graduated from the program, she got the assistance, got the counseling, and in the end, she was able to increase her annual income by $8,000, improve her credit score 140 points, pay down her debt, and save $3,000. She graduated from the program in 2015 and achieved her dream of becoming a homeowner, the first person in her family to do so.

She said: But what makes me happiest of all is seeing my children love their new home. Thanks to the Compass FSS program, now I, too, believe that families like mine can get ahead, live better, and accomplish our big dreams and goals such as buying a home.

This is a remarkable story of a program that actually works, that helps people get from public assistance into self-sufficiency and hopefully into homeownership.

I think it is this kind of artful review of policy that our committee has done on a bipartisan level that brings us to reforms that can look at the successes of a program and build upon those successes and make them work for more families.

Again, I want to thank my colleagues and friends across the aisle for working on this legislation and, again, bringing it out with such a bipartisan vote.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. HIMES. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, H.R. 4258, the Family Self-Sufficiency Act of 2017, makes several commonsense improvements to HUD’s Family Self-Sufficiency program, or FSS, which is the only asset-building program at HUD to help increase economic opportunities for its low-income households.

Anecdotally, Mr. Speaker, when I was a commissioner of a housing authority many years ago, I saw this program in action. It deals with one of the challenges of what happens to a family as their incomes go up and they find it increasingly hard to invest and save because their rents typically go up.

Mr. Speaker, this bill expands the scope of supportive services provided to residents to include GED training, education, and pursuit of a post-secondary degree or certification and training in financial literacy.

The bill also expands the program to include families who live in privately owned properties and ensures that low-income families can continue to participate in this program as their incomes increase. This is a particularly important improvement since under current law, once a family reaches 50 percent of area median income, they no longer are able to accrue additional savings in their escrow accounts. This bill fixes that issue.

This bill is an important step in the right direction, and I hope we can continue to find ways to expand this very successful program beyond the current 72,000 households it can serve.

I am glad to see that my friend from Wisconsin and my colleagues on the other side of the aisle recognize the success of this voluntary program, and I hope we can work together to find ways to improve it and to give energy to other programs which allow people to lift themselves out of lower income circumstances.

Mr. Speaker, this bill was passed out of committee 58-0. I urge my colleagues to support the bill.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 5 minutes to the gentleman from Missouri (Mr. CLEAVER).

Mr. CLEAVER. Mr. Speaker, let me, first of all, state the obvious. I am rising to support H.R. 4258, the Family Self-Sufficiency Act.

I would like to thank Chairman DUFFY for the spirit of bipartisanship that he has demonstrated on this and on other legislation as well; and Mr. HIMES, the gentleman from Connecticut, who is managing this piece of legislation. It is also appropriate to thank the chair and the ranking member of the committee for giving their support to this piece of legislation.

H.R. 4258 would make important updates to the Department of Housing and Urban Development Family Self-Sufficiency program, the FSS program, which is a voluntary program that encourages residents who use housing vouchers or who live in public housing to connect with program coordinators to create self-sufficiency plans, obtain educational resources, and pursue work opportunities.

This program also creates an interest-bearing escrow account for participants that can be accessed upon graduation from the program. Money from this account can be used for job-related expenses or as savings for a home.

I deviate from my written comments to say that there are a number of great stories like Tanya's that Mr. DUFFY shared. As a 5-year resident of public housing when I was growing up, during that time my father was working on three jobs trying to save money for a house and to buy what became his first car. Our first car was an Oldsmobile Rocket 88—Rocket 88 I want emphasize—and it was the pride of our family and our community, frankly, when that happened. But it would have been infinitely easier if there had been some kind of escrow account that my father could have moved money into to save so that when he found that lot and the house that he lives in today, that would have been money right there available for him to pay down on it or pay it off. It seems like a lot of money then, but the lot was $5,000, and the money that he could have saved over that period of time could have been so significant. We managed to do it anyway.

This program would help countless numbers of people who want to take advantage of the help that the Federal Government can give them with housing but at the same time work and strive toward independence. That is what I think the great value of this program is.

I don't want to repeat what has already been said, so I want to just give you a list of the organizations supporting this legislation: the Center on Budget and Policy Priorities, Preservation of Affordable Housing, the National Leased Housing Association, the National Low Income Housing Coalition, Compass Working Capital, National Association of Housing Redevelopment Officials, Housing Partnership Network, the National Housing Trust, and Stewards of Affordable Housing for the Future.

A similar version of this bill was introduced by Senator REED and Senator BLUNT from my home State of Missouri over in the Senate, and I am encouraged by this bipartisanship and the bicameral process.

I am also hopeful that we can continue to work, as Mr. HIMES said, on further improvements of housing resources all across the country, and I urge my colleagues to support this bill.

Mr. HIMES. Mr. Speaker, I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. DUFFY. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I want to briefly say in closing that we oftentimes find people who get stuck in a cycle of poverty. I think the goal of the program should be to help people get out of poverty and get to self-sufficiency.

□ 1630

If you look at this program, it takes an initiative by the person in FSS to say: I am going to raise my hand; I want to take advantage of these opportunities. It is about helping them get an education.

I have 8 kids, and I have a wife. For a single mom with a couple of kids who is trying to go to school or do job training or get a job, without some help on child care, that can't work. You can't make that happen. That is offered in this program.

Again, it offers additional education, financial literacy training, and counseling on home ownership. If you have some mental health issues, you can get training in that.

It is what is right about government, in the sense we don't want people to get stuck. We don't want people to get caught in a cycle of poverty, we want to help lift them up, and it is this kind of a program with these kinds of reforms that I think we have worked together on that accomplishes that goal: help people live the American Dream, which is get a job that allows them to eventually save enough money and buy a house. On the escrow part of this, when you get out of the program, you might have a small, little nest egg that you can use as a deposit for that home.

So I think this is a great program that does the right thing. If you are a Liberal or a Conservative, no matter what side of the political spectrum you sit on, this program is making the government work for people.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to support this legislation, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. DUFFY) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 4258, as amended.

The question was taken.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. In the opinion of the Chair, two-thirds being in the affirmative, the ayes have it.

Mr. DUFFY. Mr. Speaker, on that I demand the yeas and nays.

The yeas and nays were ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX, further proceedings on this motion will be postponed.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. DUFFY) and the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. HIMES) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Wisconsin.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. DUFFY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on this bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Wisconsin?

There was no objection.

Mr. DUFFY. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of H.R. 770, the American Innovation $1 Coin Act, introduced by my friend from Connecticut (Mr. HIMES). The legislation seeks to honor that which is best about America: her innovative spirit.

If enacted, the legislation would authorize a program under which the Treasury Department’s United States Mint would produce a series of $1 coins celebrating the innovative capacity of the United States. By the way, it is that innovative capacity that makes us so great and competitive and allows our salaries and incomes to rise.

Under the program, the front of the coins would have the standardized image symbolic of liberty, and the design on the reverse would be an image or images emblematic of one of a significant innovation, an innovator or pioneer, or a group of innovators or pioneers.

Four different reverse images would be issued annually, representing innovations or innovators from each State, territory, or the District of Columbia. The order of issue would be strictly alphabetical. That means the first issue would go to the great State of Alabama.

The number of coins of each design would be determined by the Treasury Secretary. While the coins technically would be circulating coins and usable in ordinary commerce, there is no real demand for circulating $1 coins at present. So the demand would strictly be determined by collector interest.

The program would be produced at no cost to the taxpayer. I think that is important. Mr. HIMES made sure of that. Depending on the collector demand, it actually might produce a surplus that would then be returned to the Treasury’s General Fund.

The legislation explicitly states that minting of the innovation coins would in no way interfere with the minting and issuing of the $1 coins honoring Native Americans. Those coins similarly have a standardized front design and a reverse design that changes regularly, honoring the great contributions that have been made to this country by Native Americans.

So, Mr. Speaker, the Presidential dollar, when produced for collectors, had a demand of a little more than 5 million coins per design. That seems to indicate enough interest that would and should approve this program, as it can proceed at no cost to the taxpayer, while allowing the Mint to fully use its facilities. The language we are considering contains some minor technical amendments that will allow the coin production to begin more swiftly, which I think makes sense.

I think this is a good bill, and Mr. HIMES has kind of thought through any red flags that could be risen by any Member on the floor. He has addressed those.

Mr. Speaker, I support this bill and encourage my colleagues to do the same, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. HIMES. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I thank my friend from Wisconsin for his support of this bill and the kind things he said about it.

Mr. Speaker, the American Innovation $1 Coin Act addresses the decreasing numismatic coin sales resulting from the discontinuation of the Presidential $1 coin series.

When enacted, this bill will first commission the U.S. Mint to create a year-long introductory coin series bearing the semblance of George Washington's signature on the first patent.

The bill will then direct the Mint to release four $1 coins each year, as my friend from Wisconsin said, featuring a great American innovation from each State over the next 14 years. Coins will be issued in alphabetical order, starting with Alabama. State innovations will be chosen with input from State Governors, territory executives, the Commission of Fine Arts, and the Citizens Coinage Advisory Committee.

Mr. Speaker, I am particularly excited about the concept of commemorating and honoring innovation. As Mr. DUFFY has said, this is one of the core strengths of our country. We have fights across the aisle, as we should, over our economy and where this government intervenes. I think we agree that one of the key strengths of the United States is our entrepreneurial capacity and the remarkable innovations that come out of all 50 States and the territories of the United States.

It is right that, in some small way, we honor those innovations and those innovators who help our economy grow, give us competitive advantage, and make us all proud to be part of the United States of America.

Mr. Speaker, these coins will be sold as a product for collectors and minted to demand with oversight from the Treasury.

Per U.S. Mint reports, to the point made by my friend from Wisconsin, the $1 coin costs less than 35 cents to make. As a product for collectors, the $1 coins sell for more than face value, up to $1.32 each. That is nearly a $1 profit on every coin. Proceeds from this coin will return money to the Treasury. In addition, the infrastructure producing these coins is already in place.

This program will sunset once all States and territories have been honored and cannot be resumed, except by an act of Congress.

This legislation has the support of members of the coin industry and their local suppliers and service providers across the States, including a number of small businesses in my district. These businesses represent scores of small businesses and thousands of jobs around the country.

I believe this bill will engage the public, fill the void of a terminated coin series, help increase the Mint's profitability, and create and sustain coin-related jobs in both public and private sectors, all while honoring and commemorating the remarkable innovative capacity of our country.

I urge my colleagues to support H.R. 770, and I thank Chairman HENSARLING, Ranking Member WATERS, Chairman BARR, and Ranking Member MOORE, as well as my friend from Wisconsin, for their support and determination to get this important bill scheduled and passed.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. DUFFY. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, again, I think it is important to note that we are using the capacity of the Mint, which costs no additional money. But as Mr. HIMES pointed out, we are celebrating innovation. As a country, we continue to innovate and create in a way that no one else does in the world. It is that innovation and creation that creates more and better jobs for our society, our community, and our families. So I think it is a wonderful idea to celebrate that by way of a coin that costs the taxpayers no money but celebrates this great American trade.

Mr. Speaker, I encourage all Members to support this bill, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. HIMES. Mr. Speaker, I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. DUFFY) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 770, as amended.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds being in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the bill, as amended, was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

EXPANDING INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITIES ACT

Mr. DUFFY. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill

(H.R. 4279) to direct the Securities and Exchange Commission to revise any rules necessary to enable closed-end companies to use the securities offering and proxy rules that are available to other issuers of securities, as amended.

The Clerk read the title of the bill.

The text of the bill is as follows:

H.R. 4279

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the "Expanding Investment Opportunities Act".

SEC. 2. PARITY FOR CLOSED-END COMPANIES REGARDING OFFERING AND PROXY RULES.

(a) REVISION TO RULES.—Not later than the end of the 180 period beginning on the date of enactment of this Act, the Securities and Exchange Commission shall propose and, not later than 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act, the Securities and Exchange Commission shall finalize any rules, as appropriate, to allow any closed-end company, as defined in section 5(a)(2) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 (15 U.S.C. 80a-5), that is registered as an investment company under such Act, and is listed on a national securities exchange or that makes periodic repurchase offers pursuant to section 270.23c-3 of title 17, Code of Federal Regulations, to use the securities offering and proxy rules, subject to conditions the Commission determines appropriate, that are available to other issuers that are required to file reports under section 13 or section 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (15 U.S.C. 78m; 78o(d)). Any action that the Commission takes pursuant to this subsection shall consider the availability of information to investors, including what disclosures constitute adequate information to be designated as a "well-known seasoned issuer".

(b) TREATMENT IF REVISIONS NOT COMPLETED IN A TIMELY MANNER.—If the Commission fails to complete the revisions required by subsection (a) by the time required by such subsection, any registered closed-end company that is listed on a national securities exchange or that makes periodic repurchase offers pursuant to section 270.23c-3 of title 17, Code of Federal Regulations, shall be deemed to be an eligible issuer under the final rule of the Commission titled "Securities Offering Reform" (70 Fed. Reg. 44722; published August 3, 2005).

(c) RULES OF CONSTRUCTION.—

(1) NO EFFECT ON RULE 482.—Nothing in this section or the amendments made by this section shall be construed to impair or limit in any way a registered closed-end company from using section 230.482 of title 17, Code of Federal Regulations, to distribute sales material.

(2) REFERENCES.—Any reference in this section to a section of title 17, Code of Federal Regulations, or to any form or schedule means such rule, section, form, or schedule, or any successor to any such rule, section, form, or schedule.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. DUFFY) and the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. FOSTER) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Wisconsin.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. DUFFY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on this bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Wisconsin?

There was no objection.

Mr. DUFFY. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, closed-end funds are important retirement savings and investment vehicles for retail investors and serve as a long-term source of capital for operating companies, which helps promote job creation, research and development, and economic growth.

Despite the many benefits of closed-end funds, the number of closed-end funds has been declining over the last several years.

Closed-end funds occupy a unique space within a framework of regulated investment companies. They have opportunities to invest in small enterprises and stocks and bonds that they may issue that would not necessarily be ones that are open-ended or invested in by mutual funds.

Since the SEC has adopted its 2005 offering reform for traditional operating companies, the SEC has had more than 12 years to consider a parallel framework for closed-end funds, but has failed to do so. H.R. 4279 would direct the SEC to draft rules as appropriate to permit closed-end funds to take advantage of the 2005 offering reforms.

If the SEC does not finalize these rules within 1 year, closed-end funds that otherwise meet the requirements could take advantage of the 2005 offering reforms until the SEC adopts a rule. By simplifying the closed-end fund offering process and liberalizing existing restrictions on communications, the legislation would reduce unnecessary regulatory burdens that raise cost for investors. In turn, this would enhance the ability of closed-end funds to act as a source of financing for the economy.

I think this is a commonsense piece of legislation. I would also note that, in a committee that often doesn't see a lot of bipartisanship, this bill passed out of committee with a vote of 58-2, signifying broad and wide support amongst the parties and from our committee.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. FOSTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume, and rise today in support of H.R. 4279.

This was a thoroughly negotiated bill, incorporating the views of affected funds and consumer and investor advocacy groups.

My staff worked with Congressman HOLLINGSWORTH's staff up to the eleventh hour in committee, demonstrating the importance of bipartisan relationships in creating legislation. The ranking member's staff and the chairman's staff worked with us throughout this process, and I offered an amendment that we all agreed to.

My amendment simply changed the approach the bill used to accomplish parity for closed-end investment funds with operating companies under the SEC's securities offering reforms of 2005.

Moving this bill in regular order, we heard in a legislative hearing that there were reasons why parity might not mean identical treatment. This amendment would direct the SEC to propose, within 180 days, a rule that would allow closed-end funds that are listed or have periodic redemptions—interval funds—to be treated as well-known seasoned issuers, WKSIs.

This rule will have to be finalized within a year, or else the bill will provide a statutory ability for these companies to qualify if they meet the other criteria currently applicable to operating companies. The SEC can act at any time thereafter to propose rules that would be controlling for closed-end funds covered by the bill.

I encourage the SEC to consider the disclosure regime under the Investment Company Act of 1940 to promulgate a rule that will allow listed closed-end funds and interval funds to use the streamlined offering and proxy rules that are available to WKSIs.

This bill will increase options for investors and savers while ensuring that protections appropriate to a WKSI are applied to closed-end and interval funds.

Mr. Speaker, I encourage all of my colleagues to support this bill as it comes to a decision on the floor, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. DUFFY. Mr. Speaker, I yield 5 minutes to the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. HOLLINGSWORTH), the sponsor of this legislation.

Mr. HOLLINGSWORTH. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of H.R. 4279.

There are two big problems that I hear a lot about in district. The first is ensuring that mom-and-pop investors in retail Main Street America have all of the options available to them to be able to invest for their future retirement and invest for their kids' college education. They want a cornucopia of different investment opportunities for them to be able to pursue: making the decision as to whether mutual funds are the right answer, making the decision as to whether open-end funds are the right answer, making the decision as to whether ETFs are the right answer, and making the decision as to whether, yes, closed-end funds are the right answer.

Over the last 10 years, we have seen closed-end funds decline in number by 81 percent. Some of that decline has been because of the regulatory burden, the onerous burden that is on them, compared to some of their counterparts. We want to make sure that ultimately there might be reasons for a level playing field between them and some other well-known seasoned issuers.

The second big problem that I continue to hear about is how dynamic the market is; how fleeting opportunities are; and how we need to make sure that there is not long, duplicative timelines and not onerous, duplicative paperwork that companies and closed-end funds are having to fill out and having to wait in order to take advantage of the opportunities that may exist in the market. We want to truncate down that time without removing any of the regulation and governance that is so important to ensuring the transparency and credibility of U.S. markets around the world.

I want to thank Mr. FOSTER because, as he well said, from day one he has been diligently working on both of those problems. We have been able to work together and, as he said, negotiate all the way through the eleventh hour, not to come up with a shotgun solution that doesn't address both of these, but, instead, to come up with a comprehensive solution that solves both of these problems: the problem for the Main Street mom-and-pop 401(k) investor that wants to be able to pursue different opportunities in saving for their retirement, and for companies that are pursuing dynamic opportunities in the market. I want them to be as competitive as possible in this global marketplace.

Mr. Speaker, I thank Mr. FOSTER for all of his effort along the way. I want to thank the committee for their 58-2 support of this legislation. I am hopeful and I urge my colleagues on the floor to vote for this legislation as well. I think this is a commonsense, thoughtful approach to both of those problems that I hear far too often when I am back home in my district.

Mr. FOSTER. Mr. Speaker, at this point I have no further speakers, so I would like to close with a few words here.

This bipartisan bill will increase options for investors and savers while ensuring that the protections appropriate to a WKSI are applied to closed-end fund and interval funds. It is my hope that we can do more bipartisan work like this in our committee and in our Congress for the remainder of this term.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. DUFFY. Mr. Speaker, this is a unique space where, oftentimes, we would look to the SEC to actually act. Because they haven't acted, I am proud to say I am part of a group in Congress that are willing to act proactively to make sure, again, we are protecting investors, protecting savers, but also helping capital flow into spaces that are so needed by this reform.

Mr. Speaker, again, I encourage all of my colleagues to support this commonsense, bipartisan bill, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. DUFFY) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 4279, as amended.

The question was taken.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. In the opinion of the Chair, two-thirds being in the affirmative, the ayes have it.

Mr. DUFFY. Mr. Speaker, on that I demand the yeas and nays.

The yeas and nays were ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX, further proceedings on this motion will be postponed.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. BISHOP) and the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. PASCRELL) each will control 20 minutes.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. BISHOP of Michigan. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days in which to revise and extend their remarks and to include extraneous material on the bill, H.R. 4318, currently under consideration.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Michigan?

There was no objection.

Mr. BISHOP of Michigan. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I am proud to be here today to speak in support of H.R. 4318, the Miscellaneous Tariff Bill Act of 2018.

This bipartisan bill will provide long-awaited tariff relief to our American manufacturers, who require certain inputs that are simply not made in the United States. Forcing them to pay tariffs for these inputs runs up their manufacturing costs and makes them uncompetitive compared to manufacturers in other countries. It also limits their ability to create more good-paying jobs here at home.

For companies in my home State of Michigan, the Miscellaneous Tariff Bill Act will provide nearly $27 million in cost savings, which can, instead, be used to employ more Americans, create new products, and boost the United States economy.

For years, American manufacturers have been asking Congress for tariff relief to help them reduce costs, create jobs, and compete globally. Today, we can take critical steps in delivering that relief.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to join us in supporting this bill, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. PASCRELL. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, the Miscellaneous Tariff Bill Act has historically had broad bipartisan support in both Chambers of Congress as a means to bolster U.S. manufacturing and competitiveness.

Right now, the Miscellaneous Tariff Bill Act has been expired for more than 5 years. I am pleased that today we are finally able to consider updating this bill.

The Miscellaneous Tariff Bill Act is designed to provide relief to domestic firms by reducing or lifting tariffs on imported goods, as long as those goods are not produced here in the United States of America.

It is estimated that this legislation will provide more than $1 billion in tariff relief to U.S. businesses. Many of these businesses are needlessly paying more to acquire inputs to manufactured products here in the United States.

My home State of New Jersey will benefit greatly from this program, with firms projected to save more than $100 million over the course of a 3-year program. As a result, these New Jersey companies will receive a competitive boost and will be able to use their resources more productively, whether by raising wages or investing in research and development.

Consider ICF Mercantile, located in Fort Lee, New Jersey, which will obtain duty relief on high-tenacity rayon yarn, an input for material used for naval defense systems. Unfortunately, this specialty yarn has not been produced domestically in 20 years. That means that removing the tariff here would help, not hurt, U.S. industry.

New Jersey has a robust presence of chemical companies—it is our largest industry—employing directly or indirectly over 100,000 jobs. Several of those firms will receive tariff relief from numerous imported chemicals that I dare not try to pronounce.

All of these folks who like their antipasti, their Italian subs, salad, or pizza with some extra heat will be pleased to enjoy tariff relief on little green pepperoncini, either packed in oil or not.

The Miscellaneous Tariff Bill Act is also intended to carefully prevent domestic companies from being harmed. Under the current process, the International Trade Commission and the Department of Commerce analyzed whether products are currently or could be eminently produced in the United States. If such production or potential for production was found, the ITC recommends excluding that product.

The American Manufacturing Competitiveness Act, which passed in 2016 with only two votes against it in the House, established the current process that invites U.S. firms to submit petitions that the ITC, the Department of Commerce, and the U.S. Customs and Border Protection analyze, vet, and recommend to Congress for inclusion or exclusion.

I would like to thank each agency for its hard work in coordination with Congress throughout the process. Boosting the competitiveness of American manufacturers and manufacturing workers should be one of our highest priorities in Congress. The Miscellaneous Tariff Bill Act is a program that helps do that, and I want to make sure its impact is maximized.

This bill covers more than 1,600 products compared to the previous MTB, which covered only half as many products. Because this is the first time that this new process has been used, I am interested in reviewing both the process and, more importantly, the results, and working together with those who have constructive suggestions for any improvements that can be made.

But I also want to note that this program is not enough. We, as a Congress and as a nation, need to be doing more in looking for opportunities to enhance American competitiveness meaningfully. The global economic environment is not just tough, but it is becoming more and more challenging and hostile to our companies and our workers.

I urge my colleagues to join me in supporting a bill that will provide some important relief to U.S. firms across the country.

Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the folks on the other side. We have worked very closely on this legislation over a number of years, and it is finally coming to fruition.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. BISHOP of Michigan. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. KELLY).

Mr. KELLY of Pennsylvania. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding.

Mr. Speaker, first of all, we need to ask ourselves, what does H.R. 4318 do, the Miscellaneous Tariff Bill Act? It is going to make it easier for American manufacturers to compete globally.

As my friend, Mr. PASCRELL, has just said to you, for so many years, we have put ourselves at the wrong end of the way things should work. We add tariffs, we add taxes on the people who manufacture.

This is a commonsense bill. In every measurable way, our country and our people are the beneficiaries of this bill.

Now, through this legislation, Congress will be able to reduce or totally suspend the tariffs, which are essentially a tax. At the end of the day, by giving tariff relief to U.S. businesses, this will reduce manufacturing costs, therefore, making products more competitive for U.S. consumers. It is a win-win for America's consumers and for American workers.

For decades, Congress has passed this type of legislation to boost the competitiveness of U.S. manufacturing by lowering the cost of imported goods without unnecessarily harming U.S.-based companies that produce competing products.

Now, let me just take, for example, a company back in Pennsylvania, Lasko Products. Mr. PASCRELL and I sat in a hearing and we listened to these folks as they talked about what makes them competitive, what takes them off the shelf where they can't compete, and too often it was their own country that was making it difficult. Lasko is an 11-year-old company. They employ 1,000 people.

Now, Mr. McCassey, who is the chief operating officer, came and talked to us. When you hear what goes on with Lasko—this is in his words, and I think this is where we have to really concentrate—Mr. McCassey says: We are in a business of pennies and can sometimes lose the sale of a fan to an overseas competitor due to a cost differential of 20 to 30 cents.

So what is it that Lasko makes? It makes fans. Seventy-two percent of their fans are portable fans. Why in the world would their own government make it harder for them to compete in a global economy? It makes absolutely no sense.

We have come together, both sides, in agreement that, if there is something that we can do, why wouldn't we do it? Why wouldn't we make it easier for our own companies to compete? Why wouldn't we make it easier not just for us to compete, why wouldn't we make it easier for us to win, and win in big ways?

This piece of legislation is so commonsense. There is nothing in it that both sides don't agree on. Quite frankly, and I agree with Mr. PASCRELL, this is the first step, but we have got to go even further.

When we see what has happened in our country since last year, the Trump administration's policies and the numbers that we have seen rising and escalating at such an ascent that we didn't ever expect this to happen this quickly, when we see America winning again, we know that that means America's workers, every man and woman, everybody in America benefits through this legislation because we make ourselves competitive on the global stage.

There is no reason for America ever to take a backseat to anybody else in the world, and we do it through commonsense legislation.

Mr. Speaker, I thank the chairman and Mr. PASCRELL. It is good to be on the same team. It is good to be winning and keeping America winning as we go forward.

Mr. PASCRELL. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. BISHOP of Michigan. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, for far too long, American manufacturers have been put at a disadvantage because they are forced to pay tariffs on products they need but are not made in the United States. This has increased their costs, limited their ability to create new jobs, and decreased their competitive edge.

Today we have the opportunity to change that by passing the Miscellaneous Tariff Bill Act of 2018. This bipartisan bill would deliver the tariff relief our manufacturers need to strengthen their competitive edge, create new, good-paying jobs, provide more benefits to their employees, and boost the American economy. At the same time, because relief is temporary, we continue to create an incentive for United States manufacturers to decide to make these products here at home.

For years, American manufacturers have been asking for tariff relief. Today we can do our part to deliver it. I urge my colleagues to join us in supporting this bill.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. BRADY of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I include in the RECORD the following:

There was no objection.

Mr. GIANFORTE. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, the Alex Diekmann Peak Designation Act of 2017, introduced by Senator STEVE DAINES from Montana, would designate an unnamed peak in the Lee Metcalf Wilderness in my home State of Montana the Alex Diekmann Peak.

Alex Diekmann was a renowned conservationist who lived in Bozeman, Montana. He dedicated his professional life to protecting the scenic resources of more than 50 district areas in Montana, Wyoming, and Idaho and conserving more than 100,000 acres.

Mr. Diekmann brought together communities, landowners, sportsmen, and the general public in his conservation efforts and contributed to the future of natural treasures, such as the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem, Glacier National Park, and the Cabinet-Yaak Ecosystem.

Mr. Diekmann left a noteworthy impact on the preservation of natural wonders in and near the Madison Valley and Madison Range of Montana. This pristine area is home to majestic scenery, fishing, wildlife, and recreational opportunities that will remain conserved and accessible to the public thanks to Alex's diligent work.

Mr. Diekmann lost his heroic battle with cancer on February 1, 2016, at the age of 52. He is survived by his wife, Lisa, and their two sons, Logan and Liam. He leaves a legacy of conservation across Montana and the northern Rockies that will continue to benefit the United States for generations to come.

The designation of this unnamed peak in the Lee Metcalf Wilderness in Montana will honor the life and legacy of Alex Diekmann. I thank Alex for his work on behalf of the American people and look forward to paying tribute to him by hiking Alex Diekmann Peak this coming summer with my wife and those of my children who can join us.

Mr. Speaker, I urge adoption of the measure, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. HANABUSA. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, S. 117 designates a peak in the Beaverhead National Forest as the Alex Diekmann Peak.

Alex Diekmann was a renowned conservationist who lived in Bozeman, Montana, not far from the Beaverhead National Forest and the peak that will soon bear his name.

As a senior project manager for The Trust for Public Land, Mr. Diekmann dedicated his professional life to protecting the natural and scenic resources of the northern Rockies. His conservation legacy is apparent throughout Montana, Wyoming, and Idaho, where he was directly involved in the conservation of more than 100,000 acres of public and private lands.

At the age of 52, Mr. Diekmann lost a heroic battle with cancer on February 1, 2016. To honor his enduring legacy, this bill renames a peak in the Lee Metcalf Wilderness in Montana as the Alex Diekmann Peak.

This is a good bill, and I urge my colleagues to support its adoption.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to close by encouraging my colleagues to vote in support of the naming of Alex Diekmann Peak in S. 117.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. GIANFORTE. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentlewoman from Hawaii for her help on this, and I would also urge my colleagues to vote for the bill.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to express my support for S. 117, the Alex Diekmann Peak Designation Act. Although I didn't work with Alex Diekmann personally, I am very familiar with the work that the Trust for Public Land has done across the West, and I have been told of all of Alex's individual achievements in protecting important wildlife corridors, fly-fishing streams, and ecosystems across Montana and the Northern Rockies. He spent the better part of two decades making the American West better, protecting landscapes within the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem and securing places for our children's children to enjoy. This legislation is a fitting memorial to Alex Diekmann's life and legacy, and I urge my colleagues to join me in supporting it.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Montana (Mr. GIANFORTE) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, S. 117.

The question was taken.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. In the opinion of the Chair, two-thirds being in the affirmative, the ayes have it.

Mr. GIANFORTE. Mr. Speaker, on that I demand the yeas and nays.

The yeas and nays were ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX, further proceedings on this motion will be postponed.

TITLE I—CHECKERBOARD LAND RESOLUTION

SEC. 101. FINDINGS.

Congress finds that—

(1) since the passage of the Act of July 1, 1862 (12 Stat. 489, chapter 120) (commonly known as the “Pacific Railway Act of 1862”), under which railroad land grants along the Union Pacific Railroad right-of-way created a checkerboard land pattern of alternating public land and privately owned land, management of the land in the checkerboard area has been a constant source of frustration for both private landholders and the Federal Government;

(2) management of Federal land in the checkerboard area has been costly and difficult for the Federal land management agencies, creating a disincentive to manage the land effectively;

(3) parcels of land within the checkerboard area in the County will not vary significantly in appraised value by acre due to the similarity of highest and best use in the County; and

(4) consolidation of appropriate land within the checkerboard area through sales and as acre-for-acre exchanges for development and Federal management will—

(A) help improve the tax base of the County; and

(B) simplify management for the Federal Government.

SEC. 102. DEFINITIONS.

In this title:

(1) ELIGIBLE LAND.—The term “eligible land” means—

(A) any land administered by the Director of the Bureau of Land Management that is within the area identified on the Map as “Checkerboard Lands Resolution Area” that is designated for disposal by the Secretary through—

(i) the Winnemucca Consolidated Resource Management Plan; or

(ii) any subsequent amendment or revision to the management plan that is undertaken with full public involvement; and

(B) the land identified on the Map as “Additional Lands Eligible for Disposal”.

(2) MAP.—The term “Map” means the map entitled “Pershing County Checkerboard Lands Resolution” and dated February 9, 2017.

SEC. 103. SALE OR EXCHANGE OF ELIGIBLE LAND.

(a) AUTHORIZATION OF CONVEYANCE.—Notwithstanding sections 202 and 203, subsections (b) through (i) of section 206, and section 209 of the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976 (43 U.S.C. 1712, 1713, 1716, 1719), the Secretary, in cooperation with the County, in accordance with this Act and any other applicable law, and subject to valid existing rights, shall conduct sales or exchanges of the eligible land.

(b) JOINT SELECTION REQUIRED.—The Secretary and the County shall jointly select which parcels of eligible land to offer for sale or exchange under subsection (a).

(c) COMPLIANCE WITH LOCAL PLANNING AND ZONING LAWS.—Before carrying out a sale or exchange under subsection (a), the County shall submit to the Secretary a certification that qualified bidders have agreed to comply with—

(1) local zoning ordinances; and
(2) any master plan for the area approved by the County.

(d) METHOD OF SALE OR EXCHANGE.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The sale or exchange of eligible land under subsection (a) shall be—

(A) consistent with subsections (b), (d), and (f) of section 203 and section 206(a) of the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976 (43 U.S.C. 1713, 1716(a)); and

(B) conducted through—

(i) a sale, which shall be—
(I) through a competitive bidding process, under which adjoining landowners are offered the first option, unless otherwise determined by the Secretary;

(II) for not less than fair market value, based on an appraisal in accordance with the Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice; and

(III) conducted in accordance with subsection (f); or

(ii) subject to paragraph (3), an acre-for-acre exchange for private land located within a Management Priority Area identified under paragraph (4)(A).

(2) MASS APPRAISAL.—Not later than 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act, and every 5 years thereafter, the Secretary shall—

(A) conduct a mass appraisal of the eligible land to determine whether any parcel of eligible land is likely valued at equal to or greater than $500 per acre (in 2017 constant dollars, as measured by the Consumer Price Index); and

(B) make available to the public the results of the mass appraisal conducted under subparagraph (A).

(3) EXCLUSION.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—If the Secretary determines that a parcel of eligible land is likely valued at equal to or greater than $500 per acre (in 2017 constant dollars, as measured by the Consumer Price Index) under paragraph (2)(A), the Secretary shall exclude that parcel from the acre-for-acre exchange described in paragraph (1)(B)(ii).

(B) PUBLICATION IN FEDERAL REGISTER.—If a mass appraisal of eligible land under paragraph (2)(A) is not finalized, or up-to-date and publicly available, before an acre-for-acre exchange described in paragraph

(1)(B)(ii) is completed, the Secretary may finalize the exchange if the Secretary publishes in the Federal Register—

(i) a determination stating that the one or more parcels of eligible land included in the exchange are likely valued at less than $500 per acre (in 2017 constant dollars, as measured by the Consumer Price Index); and

(ii) a description of the methodology used to arrive at that determination.

(4) MANAGEMENT PRIORITY AREAS.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—Subject to subparagraph (B), not later than 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act, for the purpose of the exchanges authorized under paragraph (1)(B)(ii), the Secretary—

(II) part of an identified wildlife corridor or designated critical habitat;

(III) of value for outdoor recreation or public access for hunting, fishing, and other recreational purposes;

(IV) of significant cultural, historic, ecological, or scenic value; or

(V) of value for improving Federal land management; and

(ii) as appropriate, may identify additional management priority areas in the County any time after the identification under clause (i) is completed.

(B) LIMITATION.—Management of Federal land within any Management Priority Area identified under subparagraph (A) shall not be changed based solely on that identification.

(c) WITHDRAWAL.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Subject to valid existing rights and mining claims for which the claims maintenance fees have been paid in the applicable assessment year, effective on the date on which a parcel of eligible land is selected for sale or exchange under subsection (b), that parcel is withdrawn from—

(A) all forms of entry and appropriation under the public land laws, including the mining laws;

(B) location, entry, and patent under the mining laws; and

(C) operation of the mineral leasing and geothermal leasing laws.

(2) TERMINATION.—The withdrawal of a parcel of eligible land under paragraph (1) shall terminate—

SEC. 104. DISPOSITION OF PROCEEDS.

(a) DISPOSITION OF PROCEEDS.—Of the proceeds from the sale of land under section 103 or 201—

(1) 5 percent shall be disbursed to the State for use in the general education program of the State;

(C) establishes a precedent with regard to any future wilderness designations;

(D) affects the interpretation of, or any designation made under, any other Act; or

(E) limits, alters, modifies, or amends any interstate compact or equitable apportionment decree that apportions water among and between the State and other States.

(4) NEVADA WATER LAW.—The Secretary shall follow the procedural and substantive requirements of State law in order to obtain and hold any water rights not in existence on the date of enactment of this Act with respect to the wilderness areas.

(5) NEW PROJECTS.—

(A) DEFINITION OF WATER RESOURCE FACILITY.—

(i) IN GENERAL.—In this paragraph, the term “water resource facility” means irrigation and pumping facilities, reservoirs, water conservation works, aqueducts, canals, ditches, pipelines, wells, hydropower projects, transmission and other ancillary facilities, and other water diversion, storage, and carriage structures.

(ii) EXCLUSION.—In this paragraph, the term “water resource facility” does not include wildlife guzzlers.

(B) RESTRICTION ON NEW WATER RESOURCE FACILITIES.—Except as otherwise provided in this Act, on and after the date of the enactment of this Act, neither the President nor any other officer, employee, or agent of the United States shall fund, assist, authorize, or issue a license or permit for the development of any new water resource facility within the wilderness areas.

(1) IN GENERAL.—Nothing in this Act prevents the placement of a temporary telecommunications device for law enforcement or agency administrative purposes in the Selenite Peak Wilderness in accordance with paragraph (2).

(2) ADDITIONAL REQUIREMENTS.—Any temporary telecommunications device authorized by the Secretary under paragraph (1) shall—

(A) be carried out in accordance with—

(i) the Wilderness Act (16 U.S.C. 1131 et seq.); and

(B) to the maximum practicable, be located in such a manner as to minimize impacts on the recreational and other wilderness values of the area; and

(C) be for a period of not longer than 7 years.

SEC. 303. WILDLIFE MANAGEMENT.

(a) IN GENERAL.—In accordance with section 4(d)(7) of the Wilderness Act (16 U.S.C. 1133(d)(7)), nothing in this Act affects or diminishes the jurisdiction of the State with respect to fish and wildlife management, including the regulation of hunting, fishing, and trapping, in the wilderness areas.

(b) MANAGEMENT ACTIVITIES.—In furtherance of the purposes and principles of the Wilderness Act (16 U.S.C. 1131 et seq.), the Secretary may conduct any management activities in the wilderness areas that are necessary to maintain or restore fish and wildlife populations and the habitats to support the populations, if the activities are carried out—and more naturally distributed wildlife populations that would enhance wilderness values with the minimal impact necessary to reasonably accomplish those tasks.

(c) EXISTING ACTIVITIES.—Consistent with section 4(d)(1) of the Wilderness Act (16 U.S.C. 1133(d)(1)) and in accordance with appropriate policies such as those set forth in Appendix B of the Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs of the House of Representatives accompanying H.R. 2570 of the 101st Congress (House Report 101-405), the State may continue to use aircraft, including helicopters, to survey, capture, transplant, monitor, and provide water for wildlife populations, specifically sage-grouse, in the wilderness areas.

(d) WILDLIFE WATER DEVELOPMENT PROJECTS.—Subject to subsection (f), the Secretary shall authorize structures and facilities, including existing structures and facilities, for wildlife water development projects, including guzzlers, in the wilderness areas if—

(2) the visual impacts of the structures and facilities on the wilderness areas can reasonably be minimized.

(e) HUNTING, FISHING, AND TRAPPING.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary may designate areas in which, and establish periods during which, for reasons of public safety, administration, or compliance with applicable laws, no hunting, fishing, or trapping will be permitted in the wilderness areas.

(B) subject to all applicable laws (including regulations).

(2) REFERENCES; CLARK COUNTY.—For the purposes of this subsection, any references to Clark County in the cooperative agreement described in paragraph (1)(A) shall be considered to be a reference to the wilderness areas.

SEC. 304. RELEASE OF WILDERNESS STUDY AREAS.

(a) FINDING.—Congress finds that, for the purposes of section 603(c) of the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976 (43 U.S.C. 1782(c)), the approximately 48,600 acres of public land in the portions of the China Mountain, Mt. Limbo, Selenite Mountains, and Tobin Range wilderness study areas that have not been designated as wilderness by section 301(a) and the portion of the Augusta Mountains wilderness study area within the County that has not been designated as wilderness by section 301(a) have been adequately studied for wilderness designation.

(b) CULTURAL USES.—Nothing in this title precludes the traditional collection of pine nuts in a wilderness area for personal, non-commercial use consistent with the Wilderness Act (16 U.S.C. 1131 et seq.).

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Montana (Mr. GIANFORTE) and the gentlewoman from Hawaii (Ms. HANABUSA) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Montana.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. GIANFORTE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on the bill under consideration.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Montana?

There was no objection.

Mr. GIANFORTE. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, H.R. 1107, introduced by Congressman MARK AMODEI of Nevada, is a bipartisan bill that consolidates over 300,000 acres of checkerboard land previously identified for disposal by the Bureau of Land Management in Pershing County, Nevada. This bill conveys land for mining and other public purposes, creates a new wilderness area, and releases certain wilderness study areas, all to benefit conservation, recreation, and economic development in the county.

Mr. Speaker, 85 percent of Nevada's land is owned and operated by the Federal Government. Not only does this deprive the State final say on management decisions in its own backyard, but it also deprives the State of the tax base utilized by other States to fund roads, school districts, and police departments.

Pershing County, Nevada, is no different. Seventy-five percent of the county is federally owned. This bill is a result of over a decade of negotiations between locally elected officials, miners, conservationists, sportsmen, ranchers, and residents in the county. Their hard work and commitment to bipartisanship has resulted in a bill that benefits all parties, guaranteeing that both the economic and ecological future of the county are protected.

This bill, in addition to being cosponsored by all Nevada congressional Representatives, is supported by Pershing County, Friends of Nevada Wilderness, the Nevada Chapter of the Backcountry Hunters and Anglers, Coalition for Nevada's Wildlife, and several Nevadan mining companies, including Clover Nevada, Coeur Mining, EP Minerals, Gold Acquisition Corp., and Solidus Resources.

Mr. Speaker, I urge adoption of the measure, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. HANABUSA. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, H.R. 1107 is a bill cosponsored by the entire Nevada delegation that will enhance both economic development opportunities and the conservation of public land in Pershing County.

First, I want to mention that this bill will designate over 130,000 acres of wilderness. This is a significant conservation victory and I would like to congratulate everyone who has worked on making this a reality.

In addition to the wilderness designation, this bill establishes a process to exchange or sell up to 400,000 acres of Federal land throughout Pershing County. I understand that the BLM and other interested parties have raised some concerns with the appraisal process set up in the bill. Unfortunately, we were not able to address these concerns at markup, but I hope we can continue working with our colleagues in the Senate to make any necessary changes to the bill.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. GIANFORTE. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from Nevada (Mr. AMODEI).

Mr. AMODEI. Mr. Speaker, I thank my colleagues from Montana and Hawaii for their supportiveness.

Briefly, Mr. Speaker, this is what you get when people talk about issues and not cliches. This is a long time in the making, as has been previously indicated, folks from the wilderness areas, folks from economic development areas, folks from the resource extraction areas all coming together on this.

But just in case there is some concern about, oh my God, potentially we are transferring the Federal estate, let's remind people of a couple of things that are in this legislation.

First of all, nothing is transferred for nothing. It talks about the appraisal process and how, if you are going to purchase the Federal estate, you are going to pay for it.

Secondly, it is talking about exchanges along the Trans-Pacific legislation on the checkerboard from 1862, which talks about the Secretary of the Interior is a full partner with the county commission in identifying those lands that are appropriate for exchange.

Why is this important?

This is important because if they don't think it is a good idea to exchange, then the Secretary of the Interior can stop that process, so it doesn't force the Secretary of the Interior to exchange land that he or she, in the future, doesn't want to.

But let's remind ourselves of one other thing. Exchanges of checkerboard land are not just something that benefits perhaps economic development along the Interstate 80 corridor, or somebody who does a cow-calf operation somewhere. It also allows resource managers, Federal land managers, wildlife people to consolidate checkerboard lands where they need to be consolidated, to do things like preserve habitat, preserve special resource areas, whether it is for mule deer, whether it is for the endangered species potential of the sage hen, and other things like that. So it is a two-way street.

So my congratulations to the folks of Pershing County and the BLM employees in the Winnemucca district.

By the way, no lands are subject to this that haven't been identified in their resource management plan, their planning document, as potentially available for either exchange or disposal.

Finally, I want to remind you of this: there are 150,000 acres that can be bought out of a potential Federal estate of over 9 million acres in that county. So it is a fraction of 1 percent. And of the potential available for exchange, it sets an upper limit of 300,000, potential. The county has to ask for it, the Secretary has to agree to an exchange.

So when you talk about the size of the Federal estate in Pershing County—which, by the way, is the home to the Burning Man festival, for those of you who follow that sort of stuff—it is something that is, quite frankly, not going to change the landscape, literally speaking, in terms of the ownership and the diminishment of the Federal estate. They are still the major player to the tune of—at the end of the day, 95 percent of the Federal estate is still intact.

Finally, on wilderness study areas and wilderness creation areas, in this bill, you have created about 148,000 acres of new wilderness areas and you have released parts of five different wilderness study areas that are about 48,000 acres. So when you start talking about this is a good housekeeping measure, it allows Pershing County to come into the new age in terms of what they think is appropriate for their economic diversification and vitality, but also gives Federal land managers, resource folks, wildlife groups, and conservation groups, the tools to do good things in Pershing County, too.

Mr. Speaker, I want to thank my colleague for his generous provision of the time.

The last piece is this: the most successful public lands legislation in the country is probably the Southern Nevada Public Lands Management Act, which turns 20 this year. Much of this is patterned on that.

When you talk about what happens when they sell land, money goes to education and it goes to the county, and then 85 percent of every dollar brought in goes for the benefit of those Federal lands, for those land managers in Pershing County.

It has been working in southern Nevada for 20 years. This is a good step. I encourage bipartisan, nationwide support.

Ms. HANABUSA. Mr. Speaker, I am just going to close by saying that I request that all of our colleagues vote to support H.R. 1107, Pershing County Economic Development and Conservation Act.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. GIANFORTE. Mr. Speaker, I would echo the sentiments of the gentlewoman from Hawaii (Ms. HANABUSA). I urge my colleagues to vote for this bill, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Montana (Mr. GIANFORTE) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 1107, as amended.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds being in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the bill, as amended, was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Montana (Mr. GIANFORTE) and the gentlewoman from Hawaii (Ms. HANABUSA) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Montana.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. GIANFORTE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days to revise and extend their remarks and to include extraneous material on the bill under consideration.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Montana?

There was no objection.

Mr. GIANFORTE. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

H.R. 1532, sponsored by the gentleman from Alabama (Mr. BYRNE), would ratify the trust status of lands the Secretary of the Interior currently holds for the benefit of the Poarch Band of Creek Indians of Alabama. The lands are located in the State of Alabama, with the exception of 1 acre of land in the State of Florida.

The Tribe's trust lands are used for a variety of Tribal purposes, including the operation of casinos authorized under the Indian Gaming Regulatory Act, a health clinic, an assisted living facility, and other facilities and development serving the needs of the Tribe and the local communities.

H.R. 1532 applies only to specific tracts of land taken in trust prior to a 2009 ruling by the Supreme Court, a ruling whose significance I will describe in a moment.

Lands held in trust by the Secretary of the Interior have a unique political status. The lands are regulated by Tribes and the Federal Government pursuant to a variety of statutes that restrict their alienation, and protect them from taxation and from State civil and criminal jurisdiction.

In addition, gaming may not be conducted by a Tribe under the Indian Gaming Regulatory Act of 1988 unless the casino is located on trust or reservation lands.

H.R. 1532 is necessary because there is a cloud of uncertainty over the title of the Poarch Band's existing trust lands. The Poarch Band obtained formal Federal recognition in 1984 and lands for the benefit of the Tribe were taken by the Secretary of the Interior in trust pursuant to the Indian Reorganization Act of 1934, or the IRA.

In a 2009 Supreme Court opinion commonly called Carcieri, the Court held that the Secretary may not use the IRA to acquire land in trust for a Tribe unless the Tribe was under Federal jurisdiction when the IRA was enacted in 1934. While the Poarch Band was not a party to the case, the effect of the Supreme Court case calls into question the lawfulness of the Secretary's acquisition of the Tribe's lands because the Tribe was federally recognized 50 years after the IRA.

H.R. 1532 would clear up any question over the validity of the Secretary's action to take the Tribe's existing lands into trust. It will create a needed certainty for the Tribe to use it for a variety of uses that might otherwise be prohibited were the lands to fall under State jurisdiction.

Because the bill ratifies the trust status for lands acquired by the Secretary prior to 2009, there is no concern that we are ratifying any action taken by the Secretary that might violate the IRA, as defined by the Supreme Court.

There is precedent for this legislation. In 2013, Congress enacted legislation to ratify the trust status of lands for the Gun Lake Tribe in Michigan, a Tribe that was recognized in recent years, like the Poarch Band.

Mr. Speaker, I urge adoption of this measure, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. HANABUSA. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, the Poarch Band of Creek Indians is the only federally recognized Tribe in Alabama. The Tribe was administratively recognized by the Bureau of Indian Affairs in 1984 and, thereafter, acquired trust land in both Alabama and Florida.

However, like other Tribes recognized post-1924, the status of Poarch Band's trust lands have been under legal attack due to the ramifications of the 2009 Supreme Court Carcieri decision.

The Tribe currently maintains several facilities for use of its members on its trust lands, as well as owning and operating two casinos. H.R. 1532 would simply ratify and reaffirm this trust status of the Poarch Band's lands, protecting the lands against further litigation.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to support adoption of this legislation, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. GIANFORTE. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Alabama (Mr. BYRNE).

Mr. BYRNE. Mr. Speaker, H.R. 1532, the Poarch Band of Creek Indians Land Reaffirmation Act, is a commonsense, bipartisan bill that will provide much-needed certainty to an Indian Tribe in my district.

The Poarch Creek Indians are a valued and trusted part of our community in southwest Alabama. Their economic impact in Escambia County, Alabama, speaks for itself. From their help with funding for community projects to their business enterprises that employ thousands of Alabamians, the Poarch help make life better for so many people in our area.

This legislation is necessary due to the legal uncertainty caused by the Supreme Court decision in Carcieri v. Salazar. This decision has unnecessarily created legal ambiguity about whether the Poarch Creek land is actually in trust or not.

To be clear: this legislation would not have any change over the way the Poarch Band or their land are currently being treated in Alabama. In fact, this legislation simply provides legal certainty to help prevent future challenges regarding the status of the Tribe's land.

I am pleased we were able to attract bipartisan support for the legislation, including a unanimous vote out of the Natural Resources Committee last year. I also want to extend my gratitude to Chairman BISHOP, Ranking Member GRIJALVA, and the committee staff for their commitment to Indian issues and their work on this legislation.

Ultimately, I urge my colleagues to join me in supporting this commonsense, straightforward legislation to give much-needed legal certainty to the Poarch Band of Creek Indians.

Ms. HANABUSA. Mr. Speaker, in closing, I just would like to ask all of my colleagues to support H.R. 1532, the Poarch Band of Creek Indians Land Reaffirmation Act.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. GIANFORTE. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Florida (Mr. GAETZ).

Mr. GAETZ. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Montana (Mr. GIANFORTE) for yielding me time, and I thank the gentleman from Alabama (Mr. BYRNE) for his leadership on this issue.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the Poarch Band of Creek Indians Land Reaffirmation Act and encourage my colleagues to do the same.

The Poarch Creek have been in Alabama and northwest Florida since the War of 1812, but they were only recognized federally in 1984. Soon afterward, the Poarch Creek obtained land in both Florida and Alabama, land that was held in trust.

The Poarch Creek contribute greatly to the Florida and Alabama region. Their unique history forms a vital part of our culture, and their businesses strengthen our region's economy and create jobs. They give back to our community from museums to scholarships to services for the elderly and students and much more.

But if lands currently in trust lost their status, the Tribal economy could be shattered, businesses could close, incomes could plummet, and we would have robbed our Nation of a great part of its cultural heritage, all in the name of a confusing legal decision.

This good bill reaffirms the trust status of the Poarch Creek land. It is fair, just, and important, and I encourage my colleagues to support it.

Mr. GIANFORTE. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Montana (Mr. GIANFORTE) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 1532.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds being in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the bill was passed.

AUTHORIZING COOPERATIVE MANAGEMENT AGREEMENTS BETWEEN DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA AND NATIONAL PARK SERVICE

Mr. GIANFORTE. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 2897) to authorize the Mayor of the District of Columbia and the Director of the National Park Service to enter into cooperative management agreements for the operation, maintenance, and management of units of the National Park System in the District of Columbia, and for other purposes.

The Clerk read the title of the bill.

The text of the bill is as follows:

H.R. 2897

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. AUTHORIZING COOPERATIVE MANAGEMENT AGREEMENTS BETWEEN DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA AND NATIONAL PARK SERVICE FOR OPERATION, MAINTENANCE, AND MANAGEMENT OF UNITS OF THE NATIONAL PARK SYSTEM IN THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

(a) AUTHORIZATION.—The Mayor of the District of Columbia and the Director of the National Park Service may enter into cooperative management agreements under section 101703 of title 54, United States Code, for the operation, maintenance, and management of units of the National Park System located in the District of Columbia, including the design and construction of improvements to such units.

(b) TERMS AND CONDITIONS.—A cooperative management agreement entered into under this section may include such terms and conditions as may be agreed to by the Mayor and Director, including terms and conditions relating to—

(1) the allocation of responsibility for the operation, maintenance, and management of a unit of the National Park System between the District of Columbia and the National Park Service; and

(2) the payment of funds by the National Park Service and the District of Columbia in support of the agreement.

(c) RELATION TO OTHER LAWS.—

(1) TREATMENT OF DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA AS A STATE FOR PURPOSES OF COOPERATIVE MANAGEMENT AGREEMENTS UNDER TITLE 54.—Section 101703 of title 54, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(d) DEFINITION OF STATE.—For the purposes of this section, the term ‘State’ means each of the several States and the District of Columbia.”

(2) ANTI-DEFICIENCY ACT.—Nothing in subchapter III of chapter 13 or subchapter II of chapter 15 of title 31, United States Code (commonly known as the “Anti-Deficiency Act”) may be construed to prohibit the payment or use of funds by the District of Columbia or the National Park Service to carry out a cooperative management agreement entered into under this Act, in accordance with the terms and conditions of the agreement.

(3) DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA HOME RULE ACT.—Nothing in section 602(a)(3) of the District of Columbia Home Rule Act (sec. 1-206.03(a)(3), D.C. Official Code) may be construed to prohibit the District of Columbia from operating, maintaining, or managing a unit of the National Park System in accordance with the terms and conditions of a cooperative management agreement entered into under this Act.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Montana (Mr. GIANFORTE) and the gentlewoman from Hawaii (Ms. HANABUSA) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Montana.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. GIANFORTE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on the bill under consideration.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Montana?

There was no objection.

Mr. GIANFORTE. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, H.R. 2897, introduced by Congresswoman ELEANOR HOLMES NORTON of the District of Columbia, authorizes the District of Columbia to establish cooperative management agreements with the National Park Service to operate, manage, and maintain National Park Service properties within the city limits.

As of 2015, 21.7 percent of the District's total surface area, over 8,000 acres in all, was owned and managed by the National Park Service. This area includes 23 distinct units of the National Park System, the National Mall, and many of the small urban green spaces spread throughout the city.

A significant portion of this land is in disrepair. The District ranks second in the National Park Service's deferred maintenance, with an estimated total deferred maintenance of approximately $1.2 billion.

H.R. 2897 authorizes the District of Columbia to enter into cooperative management agreements with the National Park Service for the operation and maintenance of units around the city.

This bill is a component to a major restorative initiative headed by the Mayor's office and sponsored by local nonprofits, and conversations are already underway between the District and the National Park Service for the improvement and repair of Franklin Park.

The city has set aside nearly $14 million for the restoration of the park, and local public and private partnerships will provide yearly maintenance and upkeep.

Mr. Speaker, this is a good bill for both the citizens of the District and the citizens of our great country.

Mr. Speaker, I urge adoption of the measure, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. HANABUSA. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

H.R. 2897 authorizes the District of Columbia and the National Park Service to enter into cooperative management agreements for the operation, maintenance, and management of the National Park System units in the District of Columbia.

Cooperative management agreements are effective tools used throughout the National Park System that lead to creative partnerships that enhance programming and management capacity.

As we will hear from Delegate ELEANOR HOLMES NORTON, the District of Columbia and the National Park Service have worked out an agreement to update Franklin Square that will revitalize an area in an important quadrant of downtown. This bill simply provides the city with authority to execute the agreement.

In addition to Franklin Square, H.R. 2897 has the potential to foster cooperation that will enhance many of the small urban parks found throughout our Nation's capital.

Mr. Speaker, this is a win/win, and I urge my colleagues to support this bill.

Mr. Speaker, I yield as much time as she may consume to the gentlewoman from the District of Columbia (Ms. NORTON).

Ms. NORTON. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank both of my friends for their work on this bill, and I want to thank Natural Resources Committee Chairman ROB BISHOP, who is a cosponsor of this bill, for his support and leadership of this legislation, as well as Ranking Member RAÚL GRIJALVA, who has also supported our efforts.

I also want to thank Oversight and Government Reform Chair TREY GOWDY and Ranking Member ELIJAH CUMMINGS for their support and for moving this bipartisan legislation through their committee as well. So you see, we have gone through two committees, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I am particularly pleased and grateful to Senator LISA

MURKOWSKI, chair of the Senate Committee on Energy and Natural Resources, which has jurisdiction over the bill, who has introduced the Senate companion of this bill.

Our bill is noncontroversial, as you have heard, Mr. Speaker. It would only clarify that the District of Columbia has the authority to enter into cooperative management agreements, called CMAs, to maintain and invest in National Park Service properties in the city. There are many such properties, we are grateful to say, in the District of Columbia.

NPS already has the authority to enter into these agreements with States, and I believe with the District of Columbia, but the better part of valor was to make sure that that was understood.

Our bill would simply provide the District with the same opportunity to work collaboratively with the NPS as States and cities already do.

NPS is the steward of many of the country's most beautiful natural wonders, but they are uniquely responsible for most of the small urban parks in the District's neighborhoods, as well.

Given NPS' limited budget and resources, we should encourage local jurisdictions to work with NPS to make sure that our national parks are properly cared for in the way this bill incentivizes.

The city already has plans to enter into a CMA with the National Park Service to assume operational jurisdiction of Franklin Park. This park is located in downtown D.C., right in the center of town, but it has seen better days.

The city plans to work with the Downtown Business Improvement District to transform the park to its former glory by ensuring regular maintenance and providing amenities such as food, gardens, and other services.

As the city's downtown core has grown to include more housing, businesses, and workers, the need for green space also has grown.

The city's plans for Franklin Park are a model of what can be done when local jurisdictions get creative about protecting and improving the Nation's parks.

Mr. Speaker, I hope Members are taking this bill as a model for what can be done if they have parks. Perhaps the park for this bill would not be as easily patterned. But there are many small parks that are near local businesses. Local businesses do not thrive when green space is in poor condition, so we did not find it difficult to get the business community around this park to partner with the District of Columbia to bring it up to what a park should look like in the center of the city.

The National Park Service has a backlog that has been described by my friend on the other side, so we cannot expect the Park Service, even if it had the most robust funding appropriation here, to get to many of our parks very soon.

What works here can work throughout the United States. My bill is, of course, a win for my city, but it is also a win for the Federal Government, and it is a win for the more than 30 million visitors who visit the District of Columbia every day because it is our Nation's capital, and, of course, it is a win for the surrounding jurisdictions because this park is so centrally located in this region.

Mr. Speaker, I thank my good friend from Hawaii (Ms. HANABUSA) for yielding time to me.

Ms. HANABUSA. Mr. Speaker, I am closing by asking that our colleagues support this great bill, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. GIANFORTE. Mr. Speaker, I also urge adoption, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Montana (Mr. GIANFORTE) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 2897.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds being in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the bill was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

RECESS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 12(a) of rule I, the Chair declares the House in recess until approximately 6:30 p.m. today.

Accordingly (at 5 o'clock and 41 minutes p.m.), the House stood in recess.

□ 1830

Mr. CURBELO of Florida (during the reading). Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that the resolution be considered as read.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Florida?

There was no objection.

The resolution was agreed to.

PERMISSION FOR MEMBER TO BE CONSIDERED AS FIRST SPONSOR OF H.R. 1661

Mr. CURBELO of Florida. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that I may hereafter be considered to be the first sponsor of H.R. 1661, a bill originally introduced by Representative TIBERI of Ohio, for the purposes of adding cosponsors and requesting reprintings pursuant to clause 7 of rule XII.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Florida?

There was no objection.

PERMISSION FOR MEMBER TO BE CONSIDERED AS COSPONSOR OF H.R. 756

Mr. GARRETT. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that my name be added as a cosponsor of H.R. 756, a bill introduced by Mr. Chaffetz.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Virginia?

There was no objection.

APPOINTMENT OF MEMBER TO THE JAPAN-UNITED STATES FRIENDSHIP COMMISSION

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair announces the Speaker's appointment, pursuant to 22 U.S.C. 2903, and the order of the House of January 3, 2017, of the following Member on the part of the House to the Japan-United States Friendship Commission:

Mr. HILL, Arkansas

RELIGIOUS FREEDOM DAY

(Mr. HILL asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. HILL. Mr. Speaker, I rise today, on Religious Freedom Day, to recognize the importance of religious freedom throughout the world and to celebrate the 232nd anniversary of the passing of the Virginia Statute for Religious Freedom.

As a Catholic, my faith plays a significant role in every aspect of life and fosters a respect for the religious rights and freedoms of others.

Fundamental American values, among which are commitments to religious freedom and human rights, will always be cornerstones of both U.S. domestic and foreign policy.

Written by Thomas Jefferson, the Virginia Statute for Religious Freedom is the forerunner of the First Amendment protection for religious freedom and the principle of separation of church and state.

As a member of the Religious Minorities in the Middle East Caucus, I will continue to advocate for the rights of individuals to express their feelings without living in fear of violence and persecution.

NATIONAL MENTORING MONTH

(Mr. LANGEVIN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. LANGEVIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise in honor of National Mentoring Month and in recognition of the great contributions that mentors make to young people and to communities across the country.

Every young person deserves and needs a mentor, someone with experience and perspective to help them overcome challenges and navigate uncertainties. I would not be here today without the guidance that I received from my mentors, including Supreme Court Justice and former Mayor Frank Flaherty, former Mayor Joe Walsh, the late State Senator Eleanor Slater, and the late Senator Claiborne Pell.

Mentorships like these can be life-changing, and I applaud organizations like MENTOR Rhode Island, which pairs mentors with at-risk youth. Vulnerable young people with mentors are more likely to maintain better attendance and positive attitudes toward school, and they are 55 percent more likely to go to college than their peers.

Mr. Speaker, it is with deep appreciation for my mentors and the power of mentoring that I recognize January as National Mentoring Month.

RELIGIOUS FREEDOM DAY

(Ms. FOXX asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Ms. FOXX. Mr. Speaker, today we celebrate 25 years of observing Religious Freedom Day.

On this day, more than 200 years ago, our forefathers in the Virginia General Assembly sought to practice their respective religions freely, so they passed a State law which secured our ability to exercise our faith freely today. The context of this initial law formed the inspiration for the First Amendment to the United States Constitution.

Our country holds among its most fundamental freedoms the right to practice freely one's religion and associate with others who share those same beliefs.

As we know from experience, freedom is not without cost and it is not free. It must be protected and nourished, and our communities of faith, in particular, need to be safeguarded from government encroachment and intrusion.

It is with this in mind, Mr. Speaker, that I will continue to work with my colleagues to defend our First Amendment and our communities of faith on Religious Freedom Day and every day.

IT IS TIME WE SHOW OUR NATIONAL CHARACTER

(Mr. KRISHNAMOORTHY asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. KRISHNAMOORTHY. Mr. Speaker, since the Trump administration announced the end of the DACA program in September, more than 16,000 people have already lost their protection from deportation and their ability to work. Each day we fail to act to protect DREAMers, 122 more people lose those protections and the ability to contribute to their country in the same way they have for as long as they have lived here.

These DREAMers teach our children, care for our loved ones, start businesses, strengthen our communities, defend our Nation, and believe that our country, their country, will see them for the Americans they are.

One of our country's proudest DREAMers, Jose Antonio Vargas, once said:

Citizenship to me is more than a piece of paper. Citizenship is also about character. I am an American. We are just waiting for our country to recognize it.

Jose is right. It is high time our country recognizes the DREAMers for the Americans they really are. It is time we show our national character.

HUMAN TRAFFICKING AWARENESS MONTH

(Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN. Mr. Speaker, as we observe Human Trafficking Awareness Month, I would like to recognize organizations in my home district of Miami that are working to put an end to this modern day slavery.

As a tourist destination and a gateway to the Americas, south Florida is a preferred spot for criminals to commit these types of outrageous human rights violations. But thanks to organizations like Kristi House and The Women's Fund of Miami-Dade, there is a critical campaign afoot to bring public awareness and to stop this terrible scourge.

St. Thomas University has created the Human Trafficking Academy, which offers training and technical assistance to law enforcement, lawyers, and the general public.

Resources like the Human Trafficking Miami Hotline, led by our esteemed Miami-Dade State attorney's office, serves victims and survivors of human trafficking by encouraging calls to 305-350-5567.

We are also blessed to have devoted law enforcement officers who are committed to a zero tolerance campaign to protect victims, to prosecute and dismantle traffickers.

As you can see, Mr. Speaker, south Florida is dedicated to fighting this crime. A future free of human trafficking is out there, and I urge every American to make that a reality.

TAKING ISSUE WITH THE COMMENTS OF THE PRESIDENT

(Ms. JACKSON LEE asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Mr. Speaker, as an American, I certainly celebrate religious freedom and acknowledge the importance of freedom of religion and speech and the ability to have access to a free press.

Sadly, I rise to take issue with the comments said by the Commander in Chief, well documented by Senator DURBIN and the Senator from South Carolina, LINDSEY GRAHAM, who delicately tried to instruct the Commander in Chief of the ugliness of his words.

I will not say them on the floor, and I have not said the complete word, but over this weekend of the beloved community of Dr. Martin Luther King, everywhere I went, people were appalled. I believe that it is crucial that we pass the Dream Act and that we speak to the racism of this President through 1973, 1980, 1988, and 1989.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. MAST). Members are reminded to refrain from engaging in personalities toward the President.

REMEMBERING THE LIFE OF MR. BILLY LEE

(Mr. CARTER of Georgia asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. CARTER of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to remember the life of Mr. Billy Lee, who passed away on December 21 at the age of 85.

Mr. Lee owned McDonough's, the oldest Irish pub in Savannah; and the upstairs restaurant, Billy's Place. Mr. Lee and McDonough's are iconic in Savannah. McDonough's has been voted the best karaoke in town for 8 straight years and is an immensely popular watering hole for all Savannahians.

Mr. Lee never met a stranger in McDonough's and he had an extremely sharp memory for its patrons. His kindness is fondly remembered by all who frequented McDonough's, including times when he purchased blankets for the homeless, allowed folks to use his business for charity events, and opened his building for Hurricane Irma evacuees from Florida.

Mr. Lee has commented on his restaurant and bar: That's the story of what we do here. We help people.

Mr. Lee's kind spirit will be missed in Savannah, and I hope that people will continue to learn from his example for years to come.

100TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE FIRST VOTE CAST BY A WOMAN IN THE STATE OF NEW YORK

(Ms. TENNEY asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. TENNEY. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize the 100th anniversary of the first vote cast by a woman in the State of New York. 100 years ago, the residents of Lisle, New York, and Broome County held a special election to decide if liquor could be served in the town of Lisle. This was the first vote held in the State of New York after women had just recently gained the right to vote just 2 months prior, thanks to the efforts of other famous New Yorkers who are memorialized in our historic Capitol rotunda: Susan B. Anthony, Elizabeth Cady Stanton, and Lucretia Mott.

On January 25, 1918, shortly after 6 a.m., right before the polls opened, on a cold, snowy day in the southern tier, the Ladies of Lisle lined up outside to cast their first vote. When the doors opened, a woman named Florence B. Chauncey was the first to step forward and place her ballot in the box at the Lisle Village Hall.

This year, on January 5, a historic marker was unveiled at the old Lisle Village Hall to commemorate this momentous occasion. This extraordinary act will now be memorialized forever on the Main Street in Lisle.

OUR RELIGIOUS FREEDOM IS UNDER ASSAULT

(Mr. LAMALFA asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. LAMALFA. Mr. Speaker, it is important to point out that religious freedom is indeed a cornerstone of the founding and the fiber of the United States. What started out in the Virginia General Assembly on this date in 1786, which grew into the First Amendment in our Constitution and other Bill of Rights, that freedom is under assault.

Courts, time and again, try to strike down the ability for people to peaceably assemble, peaceably speak their religious views, whether it is on a football field after a game or even extending so much to people objecting to what they are going to do in their bakery with what kind of products they are going to put out. We have folks that seem to think that religion is some kind of a plague in this country.

Yes, maybe it is an inconvenience if your neighbor worships in a way that is different from you; but that is something that we have always, in the term "tolerance," worked to get along with.

Indeed, this House Chamber, every day, opens with an invocation; and right above the podium here, it says: "In God we trust."

Are we going to trust ourselves as a nation to allow each other to worship freely? Or are we going to have an oppressive shutdown of that by out-of-control courts?

We need to hold on to religious freedom.

HONORING FORMER CONGRESSMAN AND CINCINNATI MAYOR TOM LUKEN

(Mr. CHABOT asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. CHABOT. Mr. Speaker, I rise this evening to honor former Congressman and Cincinnati Mayor Tom Luken, who passed away last week at the age of 92.

Tom Luken was a Democratic stalwart and something of a local political legend representing the people of Cincinnati for 15 years in this body.

I learned firsthand just how tough a politician he was when I ran against Tom in 1988. He won. But I also learned a great deal about Tom Luken, the man, during that race. He was a dedicated public servant who always focused on the needs of the people he represented. He was a devoted husband, father, grandfather, and great-grandfather.

As many probably know, his son Charlie was also Cincinnati mayor and also served in this body for a term.

Mr. Speaker, even though we were from different political parties and disagreed on a lot of issues, I have always respected Tom for his commitment and dedication to our community and to our Nation. I hope that his wife, Shirley, and his entire family know just how much Tom Luken will be missed.

A BETTER DEAL FOR AMERICA

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under the Speaker's announced policy of January 3, 2017, the gentleman from California (Mr. GARAMENDI) is recognized for 60 minutes as the designee of the minority leader.

Mr. GARAMENDI. Mr. Speaker, with all the things that are happening in Washington, it is pretty easy to feel concerned and to lose faith in what it is that we are doing here. It is language, questions of racism, questions of tax policy, winners, losers.

Mr. Speaker, I decided today to be optimistic, to be upbeat, and to say: Hey, there really are things that we can do if we just put our minds to it and begin to work together.

Before I start these sessions on the floor, I always like to ground myself in what is it that I would like, and that I would like my colleagues, to accomplish. I always turn to Franklin Delano Roosevelt, who brought us through the Great Depression and the Great War. Etched in the marble at his memorial here in Washington, D.C., are these words: "The test of our progress is not whether we add more to the abundance of those who have much . . ."

I probably ought to repeat that. "The test of our progress is not whether we add more to the abundance of those who have much; it is whether we provide enough for those who have too little."

I always want to start with that because it grounds me as I look at the multiple opportunities we have here to do just this: add more to those who have much.

For example, the tax bill that passed just before Christmas and was signed into law clearly does more for those who have much. Well over 80 percent of the $1.5 trillion—actually, far more than that—that were involved in the tax giveaway went to the superwealthy and America's major corporations.

But I said I was going to be positive and I didn't want to drag all of us down further in that tax scam, but what I really want to talk about is what we can do to add for those who have too little. So let me start with that.

My Democratic colleagues and I have been talking for the better part of 6 months now about a better deal for America, things that we can do to improve the lot of everyday Americans so we can provide enough for those who have too little. We all know that middle class America has stalled out over the last 20 years. So we set up a series of policies, programs, and legislation to improve the situation for working men and women of America, for those who clearly have too little and those who are struggling every day to meet their mortgage, keep their kids in school. So it is really about investing in America and making it in America, a series of programs and policies.

I am not going to talk about all of those tonight, but I want to focus on this one: making it in America and investing in America.

Before I go on to explain more about it, the rest of the program, really, is this: better jobs, better wages, and a better future.

So when we talk as Democrats about a better deal, a better deal for America, we are really talking about these three fundamental things: better jobs, better wages, and, therefore, a better future for Americans.

There are many different ways that this can be done. One of the principal ones is this: those of you who follow this—and I suspect there are very few of you—but if you have been following these floor sessions that I and others have been doing for the last, in this case, 6 years, we developed this little placard: "Make It In America. Manufacturing Matters." It is pretty fundamental.

Over the years, we have looked at the hollowing out of the great manufacturing centers of America. Some people like to say it is the Rust Belt. Well, the Rust Belt is coming back, and it can come back, roaring back, if we pay attention to the policies that create manufacturing opportunities.

The President has talked about this, but, unfortunately, the policies that actually have emanated from the administration, in many cases, harm the manufacturing sectors—I am the ranking member of the Coast Guard and Maritime Transportation Subcommittee—maritime, ocean, inland waterways, the great Mississippi, the Ohio River system, the Great Lakes of America; and, of course, the coasts; the harbors, New York Harbor; Charleston; the harbors in Florida and across the Gulf Coast; in California, the great harbors of San Diego, Los Angeles, Long Beach, and the San Francisco Bay Area; and further North, Oregon and up into Washington.

These maritime opportunities are enormous. And, unfortunately, we, far too often, ignore those opportunities. And so on the Coast Guard and Maritime Transportation Subcommittee of the Transportation and Infrastructure Committee, we are trying to focus on ways in which we can actually rebuild the great American maritime industry.

If you go back in the history of this Nation, back to its very earliest days, in the early policies of George Washington and Alexander Hamilton, they set out policies to encourage the maritime industry. By the way, for those of you who really want to know where the first inheritance tax came into being, it was John Adams. He actually put the inheritance tax in place to build a frigate for the U.S. Navy. So it goes way, way back.

That takes me back to tax policy, and I said I wouldn't deal with that too much, but it is hard to ignore the fact that it was a very bad tax bill for the working men and women. One of the reasons it was a bad tax bill is that we need to build our infrastructure. There is going to be a lot of talk here in the next several weeks about the President's infrastructure plan—$1 trillion infrastructure plan. Good idea. Let's do it.

What was that movie? That famous line? "Show me the money." It disappeared. It disappeared in that tax bill. Where did it go? It went to the superwealthy. Maybe they will build the infrastructure. I am sure the top 1 percent, the top 10 percent, would be happy to build a road if, of course, they could charge a fee to get the people who use the road to pay that fee. But that doesn't make much sense.

I will take you back to Alexander Hamilton and George Washington. They put into America's public policy, in the very first Presidency, a road-building policy, and it has, more or less, been with us over the years where the public pays for this in fees and services. But the money disappeared. It is gone. It is gone in the tax cut. It is not there. $200 billion will be discussed over the next several weeks.

Where are you going to get $200 billion in this year's budget? More than $150 billion disappeared now in the tax scam. So maybe they can find it somewhere. The military wants another $50 billion, and, of course, there are healthcare services, and there is a need for education and so forth.

So here is what we can do without going into the budget bill, without trying to find new money, but, rather, to use a public policy that was first enunciated and written into law when the Arctic opened. Do you remember the North Slope of Alaska back in the 1960s, when the U.S. Government decided to allow oil drilling on the North Slope of Alaska? It was written into that law that allowed for the pipeline to be built from the North Slope down to Valdez in southern Alaska, that all of the oil that would come through that pipeline would have to be on American-built ships with American sailors.

And guess what? Ships were built, mariners were hired, and oil was put on those tankers and shipped into the American ports. Later, that oil was shipped offshore to Japan. And over the years, the petroleum industry was able to whittle away at that requirement of American ships built in America with American mariners. And so today, there is no requirement that any oil developed in the United States, any natural gas developed in the United States and exported, be on American-built ships.

So what does it mean? It means that ships are coming into our ports to take a strategic national asset, our oil and our natural gas. It is being put on a foreign-built ship with foreign sailors, foreign mariners who come and go, who don't pay taxes in the United States; ships that are not built in the United States with American steel, American-made engines, and all of the electronics and pumps, and all of the other equipment, not made in America.

So here is the deal. What if we decided to go back to the future? What if we decided the future ought to be like the past, and this strategic national asset be used to rebuild our shipyards, to employ our mariners, to give us in the United States the ability to build commercial ships of all sizes, and, at the same time, enhance the productivity of our shipyards as they build our U.S. Naval vessels and our Coast Guard vessels?

What if we were to do that? Well, we would employ thousands of people in the shipyards; our steel companies operating, taking ore from the North, bringing it to the steel mills, manufacturing that steel for the shipyards, the engines that go into those ships—which, by the way, are maybe about a quarter of the size of this room. I mean, huge diesel engines—and all of the other pumps and all of the other equipment, what if we were to do that? Why not? What would that mean? Well, let's see. We could make it in America, or they could continue to be built in China, Korea, India, but not in America.

Here is the deal: all we need to do is to write a law. All we need to do is to go back and copy the law that was written in the 1960s that required that the oil from the North Slope of Alaska, coming down the pipeline to Valdez, be on American ships. That is all we have to do. And if we were to do that, wow, we would employ thousands of people in our shipyards. We would have thousands of men and women on those ships across the oceans delivering a strategic national asset to far places in the world, to Japan, to China, and to beyond.

It is possible. Our work here is to have a better deal for America, a better deal for Americans, policies that lead to the employment of Americans, policies that help to rebuild our steel industry, that bring strength back into our shipyards so that we can provide the jobs.

We are not talking about minimum-wage jobs here. We are talking about jobs that are at the higher echelon of the middle wages, of middle America. We are talking about skill sets, welders, pipefitters, steamfitters. We are talking about engineers who design these ships. We are talking about marine architects. We are talking about the financing of these.

We are talking about thousands upon thousands of jobs spread out across America, and all we need to do is to go back, visit the past, bring it forward into law, and make sure that a strategic national asset is used to bring jobs to America.

It would be nice if 100 percent of that oil and gas were on American-built ships, but, frankly, the American shipyards don't have the capacity to do it. Now and probably never would they have the capacity to build all of the ships that are necessary. Right now, at a facility in Texas, the Sabine Pass, a company called Cheniere Energy is shipping natural gas taken from the ground in the United States, brought to Texas, put on ships that are taking that natural gas all around the world—most of it going to Asia.

That natural gas could also go to Europe, and if we were to work out a deal with the European Union and the countries in Europe, we would use that natural gas as a strategic asset to put in place in those countries of Europe that now have to depend upon gas from Russia. And let's understand this. Russia is using their natural gas as a lever against the European Union and against the Europeans as we try to build our relationship with Europe.

So how many ships are being used? Probably when that one export facility in Texas is up and operating at its full capacity, it will take over 100 LNG tankers to meet the demands of that one export facility. Now, it happens that there are five—maybe six, but certainly five—new export facilities that are being licensed around the United States: one in Maryland, not too far from Washington; another in Oregon; and others in other parts of the coastal areas of the United States.

So how many ships? We don't know for sure. But I do know this: if, over the next 10 years, we were to require that just 15 percent—well, let's make this over the next 20 years—that just 15 percent of the expected export of LNG were to be on American-built ships, we would, in American shipyards, build at least 25 ships. And these are not small, little tugboats. We are talking about major oceangoing LNG tankers.

Now, for the crude oil, if just 10 percent of the crude oil were on American-built ships, by 2032, we would have 31 ships built here in America. So we are talking well over 50 ships built in the United States. To put this in context, major, deep-draft ships built in America's shipyards over the last 3 years, the average number of ships, deep draft—these are big ships—built in American shipyards has been in the range of 10 to 12 ships.

Eight of those are for the U.S. Navy; maybe three have been for the commercial fleet. So we are talking about the potential for a very significant expansion of work in American shipyards if we were to write just a couple of lines of law to require that, beginning in 2022, just 1 percent of the natural gas be on American-built ships. That would bring three ships in. And then they would ramp it up over time, increasing the percentage: 3 percent by 2026, 10 percent by 2034—that would be 16 ships—and 15 percent by 2040. So that would be 25 ships built in America carrying LNG, liquified natural gas.

For crude oil, let's start at 1 percent. That would be three ships; 4 percent by 2026, 12 ships; 8 percent by 2029, 24 ships; and 10 percent by 2032, and that would be 31 ships. This is the art of the possible. What does it mean for America? It means good middle class jobs.

I will give you another example. This is a locomotive, an electric locomotive built in Sacramento. Some 70 of these locomotives were built for the railroads for Amtrak here in the East on the Eastern corridor. It took probably more than 1,000 jobs in Sacramento, California, to build these locomotives. One hundred percent American made.

□ 1945

How did that happen? Do you remember back in the Great Recession in 2009, Congress—Democrats, without Republican support—put in place the stimulus bill, the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act? Some $800 million were set aside to provide locomotives for the East Coast, for the Eastern corridor.

Most companies said: We don't build locomotives anymore.

So General Electric and GM just waved off the possibility. But in Sacramento, there was this German company called Siemens that was building light railcars, transit cars and the like, at a newly established plant in Sacramento, California.

They looked at it and said: $800 million, 100 percent American made. We are a German company, but we are operating in America. Do you want 100 percent American-made locomotives, the wheels, the electrical engines, the electrical motors, all of the electronics? That German company said: Bring it on.

$800 million, they signed the contract, and they produced 70, 100 percent American-made locomotives.

So what is the point? The point is, maybe 1,000, maybe a little less, middle class jobs in Sacramento, California, and you can bet that steel wasn't made in California. It came from the Midwest. You can bet that those wheels were made outside of California. The electric motors came in from the East and the Midwest.

So this opportunity was spread out all across America. It is exactly the same if we were to require that our liquified natural gas, a strategic American asset, were exported on American-built ships, and the same for the oil that comes from the Bakken up in the North and the Middle American States.

All of that is the art of the possible. So we are all about doing this. We are all about making it in America.

I will take a couple of seconds, and I am going to give you one more example. For those of us in northern California and anybody who wants to tour San Francisco and the San Francisco Bay Area, you will see a fabulous new bridge spanning the bay from Oakland to San Francisco. It is a beautiful bridge.

However, it was a bridge that was built with Chinese steel. It was supposed to be 10 percent cheaper, so they went for the cheap, but they wound up with the crud. They wound up with steel that had weld problems and that had quality problems. It ultimately wound up to be way, way over the budget, and 3,000 jobs and a brand new, high-tech, most advanced steel manufacturing plant perhaps in the world was built in China. No jobs in America, no new steel mill in America, but there was in China. That is what happens when you buy foreign.

I guess New Yorkers were a little smarter than my California colleagues. So in New York, they wanted to build a new bridge called the Tappan Zee Bridge. They said: We are going to make it with American steel. It costs $3.9 billion, under budget, and there were 7,728 American jobs.

It makes a difference. Public policy makes a difference. If you want jobs in America, then you set about to give Americans a better deal. Public policy and laws, that is our work. We are your Representatives.

We ought to be representing you, not the Chinese steel mills. We ought to be representing you, not the shipbuilders in Japan or Korea. We should be representing you, the American people, the people who are working in the shipyards of America.

The children of today's shipbuilders need an opportunity to continue the work of their fathers and their grandfathers in America's great shipyards.

I will tell you this: our public safety, the security of America, depends upon the U.S. Navy. The U.S. Navy depends upon shipyards for their ships. The more commercial ships we build in the shipyards, the more competition there will be to build naval ships.

So here it is, a better deal. This is what we Democrats are offering. We are offering a better deal. We are going to focus directly on better jobs.

Tonight, we have talked about American manufacturing. We talked about making it in America. We talked about making ships in America once again. We are talking about high-paid, middle class jobs in American manufacturing, whether it is the shipyard or whether it is where these great engines are manufactured, wherever it may be in the United States.

So better jobs, better wages from these high-quality jobs, and, therefore, a better future for America.

So here, while we spend all of our time wondering what the next tweet will be from our President, I want us also to think about the art of the possible, about legislation that provides Americans with a better deal.

We will talk more about this in future days, but, right now, I want us all to think about what we can do for America so that we will have a better deal for the working men and women of America.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

PROCEEDINGS AND DEBATES OF THE 115th CONGRESS, SECOND SESSION

Vol. 164

WASHINGTON, TUESDAY, JANUARY 16, 2018

No. 9

Senate

The Senate met at 4:30 p.m. and was called to order by the President pro tempore (Mr. HATCH).

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Dr. Barry C. Black, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

Eternal God, the fountain of wisdom, as our lawmakers do the work of freedom, give them the assurance of Your provisions and prevailing presence. Remind them of Your promise to never leave or forsake Your people. Nourish our Senators this day with spiritual truths and moral qualities that will make our Nation strong and good.

Lord, surround our legislators and their loved ones with the shield of Your Divine favor, being for them a shade by day and a defense by night.

And, Lord, in this land we love, draw together the diverse men and women from every race, creed, and culture, forging us into a united force for good. Empower us to accomplish Your purposes on Earth, as we remember that words matter and that out of the abundance of the heart, the mouth speaks.

We pray in Your merciful Name. Amen.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

The President pro tempore led the Pledge of Allegiance, as follows:

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

RECOGNITION OF THE MAJORITY LEADER

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The majority leader is recognized.

FUNDING THE GOVERNMENT

Mr. McCONNELL. Mr. President, as we all know, Congress has until Friday to reach an agreement that ensures continuous funding for the Federal Government. There is too much at stake for Republicans and Democrats not to come together, particularly while serious bipartisan conversations are underway on shared priorities, such as rebuilding our military, fixing our broken immigration policy, and other issues.

Now that a Federal judge has issued a nationwide injunction preventing the administration from winding down the Obama administration's DACA Program, it is clear that Congress has at least until March, at a minimum and possibly even longer, to reach a compromise that resolves the DACA question but also strengthens our security and makes other needed reforms to our broken immigration system. With no imminent deadline on immigration and with bipartisan talks well underway, there is no reason why Congress should hold government funding hostage over the issue of illegal immigration.

I am confident that Senators on both sides of the aisle will choose to avoid a manufactured crisis, reach a bipartisan funding agreement in the coming days, and then continue our negotiations in these important areas.

FISA

Mr. McCONNELL. Now, on another matter, later this afternoon the Senate will vote to advance reauthorization of title VII of the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act. This includes section 702, one of the most important tools that our warfighters and intelligence professionals use to wage the war on terror and to keep Americans safe.

It allows the United States to collect communications from foreign terrorists who wish harm on America and our allies. To be clear, it does not permit the targeting of American citizens anywhere in the world. Let me repeat that. Section 702 does not allow the targeting of American citizens, nor does it permit the targeting of anyone of any nationality who is known to be located here in the United States. With respect to foreigners on foreign soil, 702 gives the men and women who keep us safe the vital tools they need to fulfill their missions.

Five years ago, Congress reauthorized the title with overwhelming bipartisan support. It is imperative that we do so once again. The world remains dangerous. Al-Qaida, ISIL, and associated terror groups are still intent on harming our people and those working with us overseas.

Yet with each day that passes since the Nation was attacked on September 11, 2001, it seems that concern over terrorism has waned. This is in part due to the success of our defense and intelligence community in preventing another major attack. They rely upon section 702 to accomplish that mission.

I look forward to renewing the bipartisan consensus on this issue and reauthorizing this important provision as the Senate votes later this week.

TAX REFORM

Mr. McCONNELL. Now, on a final matter, in the wake of last month's historic tax reform legislation, the news is filled with stories of economic optimism and increasing prosperity for workers and middle-class families.

In fact, I am proud to announce that earlier today I spoke with the leadership of Humana, which employs more than 12,000 people in my home State of Kentucky. Yesterday they notified their staff that they will be accelerating pay incentives for associates and raising the minimum hourly wages for both part-time and full-time employees—all thanks to tax reform. For these Kentucky workers, the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act will mean more money in their paychecks.

Just last week, the international automaker Fiat Chrysler announced that it will invest 1 billion new dollars in the Warren Truck Assembly Plant just outside of Detroit. The production line for Ram heavy-duty trucks is leaving Mexico and coming back to America. This will create 2,500 new jobs and inject relief right into the local economy. According to officials who announced the change, all this is only happening because tax reform is remaking the business climate in our country.

Besides the revival in manufacturing, Fiat Chrysler announced a new wave of $2,000 bonuses for 60,000 hourly and salaried employees. They will join a growing list of more than 150 companies that have announced plans to distribute significant bonuses, permanent pay raises, more generous retirement contributions, or other benefits to their employees, all thanks to tax reform.

Prior to tax reform, companies that wanted to manufacture goods in America and hire American employees faced the highest statutory corporate tax rate in the developed world. American workers were ready to clock in, but our outdated burdensome Tax Code told potential investors to move along and find somewhere else to set up shop. Those days are over, thanks to the President and Republican majorities in the House and Senate that voted to modernize our Tax Code.

Now we are the ones with a competitive advantage. The Wall Street Journal's editorial board believes that our tax reform will benefit investment in the United States "at the expense of high-tax countries such as Germany." The Journal also reports that China "fears the tax changes could make the U.S. a more attractive place to do business." That is China. It is becoming clear that these fears are entirely justified, and it is good news for families and workers in Kentucky and all across America.

I suggest the absence of a quorum.

THE PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. JOHNSON). The clerk will call the roll.

The senior assistant legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. LEAHY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

RESERVATION OF LEADER TIME

THE PRESIDING OFFICER. Under the previous order, the leadership time is reserved.

CONCLUSION OF MORNING BUSINESS

THE PRESIDING OFFICER. Morning business is closed.

RAPID DNA ACT OF 2017

THE PRESIDING OFFICER. Under the previous order, the Senate will resume consideration of the House message to accompany S. 139, which the clerk will report.

The senior assistant legislative clerk read as follows:

McConnell motion to concur in the amendment of the House to the bill.

McConnell motion to concur in the amendment of the House to the bill, with McConnell amendment No. 1870 (to the House amendment to the bill), to change the enactment date.

McConnell amendment No. 1871 (to amendment No. 1870), of a perfecting nature.

McConnell motion to refer the message of the House on the bill to the Committee on the Judiciary, with instructions, McConnell amendment No. 1872, to change the enactment date.

McConnell amendment No. 1873 (to the instructions) amendment No. 1872), of a perfecting nature.

RECOGNITION OF THE MINORITY LEADER

THE PRESIDING OFFICER. The Democratic leader is recognized.

NET NEUTRALITY

Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. President, first, on the topic of net neutrality, since the administration's FCC voted to end net neutrality in December, Democrats have been working hard to round up enough Senators to overrule the FCC's decision, which places control of the internet in the hands of the biggest corporations.

Today we reached a milestone: 50 Senators will support Senator MARKKEY's resolution of disapproval. All 49 Democrats have signed on to cosponsor, and my friend from Maine, Senator COLLINS, has also said she will support it.

With our full caucus supporting the measure, it is clear that Democrats want to keep the internet from becoming a Wild West where ISPs are free to offer premium service to the wealthiest customers while average consumers are left with far inferior options.

When we force a vote on this bill, Republicans in Congress will, for the first time, have the opportunity to right the administration's wrong and show the American people whose side they are on. Are they on the side of big internet service providers and corporations, or are they on the side of consumers, entrepreneurs, startups, and small business owners?

I applaud Senator COLLINS for supporting this effort and hope sincerely that more of her colleagues will do the same. Given how quickly this measure has earned the support of 50 Senators, I believe we have a real chance of success in restoring net neutrality and keeping the internet open and free for all Americans.

Mr. President, another pressing issue before us this week is FISA and the 702 program. The majority leader is pressing forward on a 6-year bill to reauthorize the 702 FISA Court program. This is a significant bill, but right now the majority leader is pushing for its passage without debate or amendments. That is the wrong approach.

Many of my colleagues would like to offer amendments on this legislation and, frankly, they deserve that right. Personally, I believe that while the bill makes some improvements to the 702 FISA program, it should go somewhat further. We could do a better job balancing the crucial national security imperatives of the program with legitimate concerns about privacy and protecting the rights of American citizens.

Clearly, the bill on the calendar is better than the status quo, and it is certainly better than no bill at all, but that is not the choice before us. The majority leader can open up the bill for limited debate and a few amendments, not to delay but so we can have some amendments and try to improve it.

For that reason, I will be voting no on the upcoming cloture motion. If cloture is not invoked, we can move quickly to an amendment process where Senators from both parties could offer ideas to improve the bill. That is what we ought to do, especially on a bill on the most sensitive area of the government, where security and liberty meet, and that will stand for 6 years. That is too quick for too much. We ought to have some amendments and some discussion.

DACA

Mr. President, the fate of the Dreamers has been the subject of months of intense bipartisan, bicameral negotiations. Last week, a bipartisan group of Senators went to the White House with an agreement that represents the best path forward. Senators GRAHAM and DURBIN, alongside Senators GARDNER, MENENDEZ, FLAKE, and BENNET, worked out a compromise that fits squarely inside the four corners President Trump outlined as the parameters of a deal in a televised meeting last Tuesday. In exchange for passing DACA protections, the Gang of 6 deal includes President Trump's full budget request for border security, including funding to build barriers along the southern border. It deals with family reunification within the scope of the negotiations—foreclosing the possibility of Dreamers sponsoring their parents for citizenship. The deal would also curb the diversity lobbying system—another item President Trump requested. The full details of the proposal will be announced tomorrow, but those are the broad strokes, as I understand them.

The concessions in the bill are tough pills to swallow for Democrats. It is not the bill we would have written if we were in charge, but that is not the situation we find ourselves in. To make this body work—to avoid a shutdown—we must compromise. So Democrats tried, in good faith, to meet the President and our Republican colleagues halfway—to find a deal that neither side loved but both sides could live with, and that is what a bipartisan group of Senators achieved.

The deal they produced is right down the middle. It addresses the precise issues the President identified as part of a deal. Yet, at the pivotal White House meeting last Thursday, President Trump turned his back on this bipartisan solution and proceeded to use foul and vulgar language to demean African and Caribbean countries.

His well-reported comments were certainly unbecoming the Presidency of the United States. They were beneath the dignity of his office. They went against the very idea of America—which holds up as an unassailable truth that all men are created equal, no matter their station or country of origin, but just as distressing, President Trump's comments reveal an intransigence about coming to a deal for the Dreamers. It seems the President has only two ways of negotiating: Either he commits to a deal one day and then betrays his word the next—which is what happened last year after Leader PELOSI and I met President Trump on DACA—or he even dismisses the possibility of compromise and says a bipartisan deal is that he gets everything he wants.

Hundreds of thousands of lives hang in the balance. Funding for our men and women in uniform hangs in the balance. President Trump needs to step up. He can't just bluster. He can't just play a game of brinksmanship. He can't just be obstinate and say: My way or the highway. He needs to be willing to take yes for an answer.

A very fair bipartisan deal remains on the table. It is the only game in town, and we are making steady progress on building additional support in both Houses of Congress. If it were put on the floor of the House or Senate, I predict it would get a majority vote in either one. There is a deal to be had this week. The only person blocking it is President Trump.

So I have a challenge for President Trump. Everyone is talking about how bigoted your comments were last week. Well, actions speak louder than words. If you want to begin the long road back to prove you are not prejudiced or bigoted, support the bipartisan compromise that three Democrats and three Republicans have put before you—one that was aimed at meeting the concerns you voiced. Give the Dreamers safety here in America and bolster border security at the same time. This may be the last train leaving the station. President Trump needs to get on board.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Vermont.

Mr. LEAHY. Mr. President, I find myself in strong agreement with the comments of the senior Senator from New York State.

He talked about 702. Let me refer to that a bit. Section 702 is in S. 139, the FISA Amendments Reauthorization Act of 2017. We are going to vote very soon on whether to cut off debate and block any amendments on a fundamentally flawed piece of legislation that fails to reform one of our most important surveillance tools.

Section 702 of the FISA Amendments Act was intended to provide for vast and powerful surveillance of foreigners overseas who might do harm to us, and it does, but the fact that it is an effective surveillance tool used against foreigners abroad is not the concern you will hear about today.

Today, you are going to hear concern that Section 702 has also become an unexpected and powerful domestic surveillance tool—not one directed at those abroad who might do us harm, but potentially directed at every single American in this room and throughout this country, allowing the government to search for Americans' emails and other substantive communications without a warrant—the so-called back-door loophole.

If we put through here legislation saying—this legislation will allow our government to search all our emails without a warrant, Republicans and Democrats will be jumping up saying: Wait a minute. That violates the Fourth Amendment.

Well, the legislation we are voting on today—authored by the Chairman of the House Intelligence Committee, DEVIN NUNES—contains what his supporters portray as a fig leaf of reform, but, in fact, the legislation makes a bad problem even worse.

I will oppose cutting off debate on this bill, and I strongly urge my fellow Senators to do the same—not to kill the bill but to afford us, on such a critical surveillance tool, the opportunity to debate the constitutional implications and offer amendments to improve the bill and to protect Americans in every single State in this country. The Majority Leader has provided no such opportunity. He doesn't want us to offer any amendments—even amendments we know could pass with a bipartisan majority.

Senator LEE and I are filing several amendments to improve this bill, including our USA Liberty Act. That is a Senate companion to a bill that was reported out of the House Judiciary Committee in a strong and very bipartisan vote. Our amendment offers a sensible compromise. It would protect national security—something we all want to do—but it also protects American civil liberties, which I would hope we also want to do.

I strongly support a warrant requirement based on Senator FEINSTEIN's amendment in the Senate Intelligence Committee that would close the back-door loophole. These amendments, and others offered by Senators PAUL and WYDEN and others, deserve a vote. And that is what I am asking for today. Senator LEE and Senator PAUL have spoken so strongly on the problems in this. They ought to be heard. They ought to have a chance to offer amendments.

Instead, the only bill we are voting on today is the House bill, which fails to comply with the fundamental constitutional imperative. I think we can do better in the Senate than to accept a flawed House bill. Do not be deceived by the sham warrant contained in the Nunes bill. Again, that is why we should have a Senate bill that speaks to those things we know as Senators and not the flawed warrant in the Nunes bill.

Its exemptions are so large as to render it meaningless. The bill would require a warrant only during the final stage of a criminal investigation and only when the government believes national security or risk to life or bodily harm are not implicated at some undefined point in time. In all other cases, and at previous points in an investigation, the government can search for an American's information in the Section 702 database just as frequently and casually as we might look up football scores on Google.

Yet, even if it is completely ineffectual, the Nunes bill has a warrant requirement. That means the sponsors of this flawed legislation acknowledge that some sort of warrant is required to protect Americans' privacy. They recognize that a search through a vast database of Americans' communications can trigger Fourth Amendment protections, at least when it is convenient to the government.

The problem is, the Constitution doesn't say: We protect Americans' rights only if it is convenient to the government. The reason they wrote the Constitution is to make sure every one of us has protections against the government.

When a Fourth Amendment interest is implicated, the government can easily obtain a warrant. They are going to come search your home. They are going to come search your files. They are going to come and search your papers. They should have to have a warrant. The Fourth Amendment either applies or it does not. If it does not, then let's have a constitutional amendment and do away with it. Nobody here would vote for that.

Even the sponsors of the Nunes bill now agree the Fourth Amendment applies. The only question is whether we have a real warrant requirement or a warrant in name only. Simply calling something a warrant doesn't make it that.

I firmly believe a real warrant requirement doesn't have to put our national security at risk. The reform proposals I support contain well-tryed exemptions for exigent circumstances to allow for emergencies. For these reasons and others, I strongly support a warrant requirement to close the back-door loophole. I think my fellow Senators, Republicans and Democrats, ought to be allowed to at least have a vote on it. If they don't, I would urge my colleagues of the Senate to vote no on invoking cloture on the FISA Amendments Reauthorization Act.

Section 702 authorities can be temporarily extended as they were in December. In fact, the FISA Court's statutorily authorized certifications that permit 702 surveillance don't expire until the end of April. There is no emergency now. We still have the time and the ability to get this right.

Let's protect the Constitution. Let's protect Americans. The Majority Leader should do his part and allow members of both sides of the aisle who care deeply about this issue to offer amendments before any long-term authorization. I agree Section 702 is an important tool, but this issue is too important to rush through without adequate debate. I firmly believe we can both protect our national security and the civil liberties of law-abiding Americans. This bill clearly falls short, and I will be voting no.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Oregon.

Mr. WYDEN. Mr. President, I want to thank Chairman LEAHY for his excellent remarks.

Let me simply say, to move forward without amendments surrenders the constitutional obligations Senators have to the American people. This issue is important, it is complicated, and the American people deserve to have an opportunity for some real amendments to make sure that, at the end of the day, we have policies that keep our people safe and protect our liberties.

I see my friend from Kentucky. He is joined by his colleague from Utah Senator LEE, Senator LEAHY, and me.

Our bipartisan coalition is dedicated to essentially one mission: We think the country deserves a Senate that is very tough on terrorists. We don't take a backseat to anybody in terms of fighting terrorists. What we are opposed to is an end run on our sacred Constitution.

Right now, with the changes in communication systems around the world and communication systems increasingly becoming globally interconnected, we have more and more law-abiding Americans swept up in searches under the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act. We want to fight terrorists, but the law allows the government to target foreigners to acquire foreign intelligence information, which basically means anything related to the conduct of foreign affairs.

So let's talk about who could get swept up in these searches and who the people are whom Senator PAUL, Senator LEE, Senator LEAHY, myself, and colleagues on both sides of the aisle sought to protect as law-abiding Americans—we think they ought to have their constitutional rights. The kinds of people who could be swept up in these communications and have their emails or texts or their data searched without a warrant—it could be American businesspeople talking to foreign contacts. It could be first-, second-, or third-generation American immigrants talking to family and friends who are still overseas; American journalists covering foreign stories; U.S. service-members talking to foreign friends they made while they were deployed; American teachers and researchers seeking information from foreigners.

How many Americans get swept up? We don't know. And we don't know—not because of a lack of effort. We have been trying for 6 years to get the government to provide even an estimate. On a number of these issues, my concern is to ensure that we have both safety and liberty, but we have actually gone backward.

In an open hearing of the Intelligence Committee, when the Director of National Intelligence, Dan Coats—our former colleague—was asked about whether the government could collect, in effect, wholly domestic, personal data here in the United States, we couldn't even get a straight answer with respect to whether the government, under the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act, could collect wholly domestic communications. We couldn't even get a straight answer to that.

What we need is the opportunity to have a real debate. We have a number of amendments that go right to the heart of what these issues are all about, particularly the government conducting repeated, warrantless searches of Americans, even if those Americans aren't the subject of any investigation, and the government then can read those private communications.

Finally, I want to put this whole issue in context. Every year, the CIA and the NSA conduct thousands of warrantless searches of 702 data on Americans, and that is just for content. They conduct tens of thousands of warrantless searches for communication records. The FBI is conducting these searches so frequently that they don't even count. But this bill might have some marginal effect on only one of those searches. So the House bill is not just fake reform; it is a setback.

The last point I would make is that we finally made some headway with respect to collection of communications that are neither to nor from a foreign target but are simply about a foreign target. I went after this issue for years, this question of abuse of what is called "abouts" collection. Finally, the government realized it was going too far, and they put limits on it. Now it looks as though they want to get back in the business, and the other body—the House—basically creates a path to going back to "abouts" collection, which even the government has admitted has been abused.

There is an opportunity, if we vote, to allow some amendments, to come up with policies that will allow Americans to look at the Senate and say: We didn't go backward. We went forward. We protected law-abiding Americans, but we made it clear that we were going to be relentless in our search for terrorists.

I know I have a little bit more time, but I see my colleague and partner Senator PAUL on the floor.

Mr. President, I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Kentucky.

Mr. PAUL. Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the government listening to your phone calls, reading your emails, or reading your text messages without a warrant. It doesn't mean the government will never do this, but it means they would have to ask a judge. They would have to ask a judge if they have probable cause that you committed a crime. They would have to name you. They would have to name the information they want. It is called the Fourth Amendment. All Americans deserve the protection of the Fourth Amendment.

In fact, I believe it was John Adams who said that James Otis's argument against blanket warrants, against generalized warrants that they called writs of assistance—he said that the argument James Otis made in the 1760s was the spark that led to the American Revolution.

Lincoln is said to have written that any man can stand adversity, but if you want to challenge a man or a woman, give them power.

Over almost 1,000 years, the history of Western civilization has been the struggle to contain the power of the monarch, the struggle to contain and maintain the power of the government in every form. From Magna Carta on, it has been the people trying to take power back from either the monarchy or a despotic government. We get to the formation of our government, and Jefferson wrote that the Constitution would be the change, that the government would be bound up in the change.

Patrick Henry wrote that the Constitution is meant to restrain the government, not the people. It is about trying to restrain government from abusing the power to take our rights. You have a fundamental right to be left alone. Justice Brandeis put it this way. He said that the right most cherished among civilized men and women is the right to be left alone.

But we know also that the history of those who grab the reins of power, the history of those who take up the mantle of power is a history of abuse.

In World War I, President Wilson arrested 10,000 Americans because of their objection to the war.

FDR had an enemies' list that he actually was very vocal about and published in newspapers. There were 77 people who were his enemies, and he used the IRS to go after them.

LBJ illegally spied on Martin Luther King. We just had Martin Luther King Day yesterday. LBJ spied on him illegally in all manners and in all forms. They spied on Vietnam war veterans.

Nixon had an enemies' list.

You name it—President after President has abused this power.

President Obama had a fight with the tea party groups. It turns out that if you registered as a tea party group, you were given extra scrutiny. And people were denied being allowed to form as a charitable group or political activist group under President Obama because they disagreed with President Obama.

We now have a current administration where there have been accusations of people in the FBI having a personal animus against this President and conspiring and discussing how they could block him. We have had members of the Department of Justice who were married to people doing opposition research on President Trump, paid for by the opposition candidate, by Hillary Clinton.

Without question, that power has been abused and will always be abused. It was Lord Acton who said that “power tends to corrupt, and absolute power corrupts absolutely.” The history of our country is about trying to restrain the power of government.

Realize that we have the ability to collect all of the phone calls in Italy in 1 month. There was a story saying that we did it, that we collected every phone call from Italy. Who gets trapped in that? If you collect everyone’s phone call in Germany or everyone’s phone call in Jordan, who gets caught in that? Many, many innocent, legitimate Americans get caught up in the other end of phone calls because it is not just the phone calls of terrorists, it is everybody’s phone calls. They are all being vacuumed up, and innocent Americans are caught up in that.

Senator WYDEN has been a leader in asking tough questions on the Intelligence Committee. Are there communications that are purely between two people in America that somehow get caught up in this database? He has been given a variety of answers on this, but we suspect that Americans talking to Americans in this country are caught up in this database. Should the government be allowed to search this database to prosecute you for not paying your taxes or for a minor marijuana violation? Absolutely not. Why? Because this information is gathered without a warrant. It is gathered without any constitutional protection.

As others have said, we actually are OK with a lower standard for gathering foreign intelligence. We acknowledge that the Constitution doesn’t apply to everybody in the world. But if Americans get caught up in that, Americans deserve the protection of the Constitution.

Some on the other side have started saying: Well, it is lawfully gathered, so it could be used for any lawful purpose. That is the most ridiculous argument I have ever heard. It is gathered lawfully for foreigners, and we made the standard zero. There is no constitutional protection. We never said that we are going to gather foreigners’ information, put it in a big pool, mix it up with Americans’ information, and then type your name in—John Smith—and then find out whom you have been talking to.

Realize that they could listen to your conversation, then they could bring you in for an interview with the FBI, and if you say anything in the interview that contradicts what they eavesdropped on in your conversation, you have now committed a felony. Do you really want all of your phone calls recorded and then the government to have the ability to bring you in and ask you questions about your phone calls? And if you are not perfectly accurate in recalling your phone calls, you could go to prison.

All we are asking is that, for Americans, the Constitution should be in order. We should not get rid of the Constitution. We shouldn’t throw it out. The Constitution should protect us all.

We take an oath of office to defend the Constitution. Our soldiers take the same oath of office. Wouldn’t it be sad if our soldiers came home from fighting and defending the Constitution to learn that we gave up on it while they were gone?

The sad state of affairs here is that the majority doesn’t want any debate. They want to ram this through with no amendments. Senator WYDEN and I have worked for months on amendments and on an alternative bill which actually reauthorizes the program. Senators LEAHY and LEE have another bill that is similar that replaces the program. None of us are for ending the program. All we are saying is that if you want to look at an American’s information, you have to get a warrant.

People say it will slow us down. All of our bills have an emergency exception. If they declare an emergency, they can look at the information and get the warrant the next day. We hope that would be extraordinary and not the norm.

The thing is, we want the program to work, but we don’t want Americans caught up in it. I hope Senators will think this through. This will not kill the program.

They are going to scare you to death and say: Tomorrow, we are all going to die. The world is going to be taken over by terrorists if we don’t have this.

If we win this vote tonight, they will be negotiating within an hour and will come to a compromise that allows the Constitution to protect Americans. That was our oath of office. That is what we should do.

I urge a vote against the bill in its current fashion.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Iowa.

Mr. GRASSLEY. Mr. President, I stand today in support of S. 139, the FISA Amendments Reauthorization Act.

As we know, the first responsibility of the U.S. Government is to protect our citizens. To do so, we must make sure that those who protect us have the tools to keep us safe. This bill does exactly that. It provides the intelligence community and law enforcement with the right tools, but it also minds the civil liberties and the privacy protections that our Constitution requires, especially given the ever-changing technological landscape.

The importance of our country’s safety and security has been highlighted in several events from just the past 2 years. We often get lost in the constant news cycle, but let’s not forget that New York City suffered three significant terrorist attacks in the last 15 months alone.

In September 2016, a terrorist detonated a pressure-cooker bomb in New York’s Chelsea neighborhood. A second pressure-cooker bomb was found a few blocks away but didn’t detonate. Earlier that day, a bomb went off near the start of a Marine Corps charity race.

This past October, Sayfullo Saipov drove a rented truck onto the bike lane and pedestrian walkway on the West Side Highway. He mowed down numerous civilians, killing eight and injuring 12 others.

And this past December, Akayed Ullah detonated a bomb in New York City’s subway tunnel to the Port Authority Bus Terminal, injuring several people near him. He told investigators that he did it in the name of ISIS.

In June 2016, Omar Mateen shot and killed 49 and injured 53 others in Orlando, also an act in the name of ISIS.

In September 2016, a terrorist stabbed 10 people at a mall in St. Cloud, MN.

In November 2016, a terrorist injured 13 after driving into and trying to stab students and teachers at Ohio State.

And in December 2015, we had the San Bernardino shooting, where terrorists killed 14 and injured 22.

We have also seen terrorist incidents evolving around the world, especially impacting our friends in Europe.

In the United Kingdom alone, there have been at least a half dozen terrorist attacks in the past year, including a subway bombing in London, injuring 30 people; a van plowing down pedestrians on London Bridge, injuring 48 and killing 8 people; the Manchester concert bombing, in which 22 people were killed; and the attack on the British Parliament in London, killing 4, including a person from Utah.

All of these attacks and more show that the threats are real, and we must protect our country by lawful constitutional means. Congress has done so by providing lawful authority such as section 702. The section 702 program has been called “the most significant tool” in the NSA arsenal for the detection and disruption of terrorist threats. The NSA Director has said publicly that “there is no alternative way” to replicate section 702 collection. Some estimate that over 25 percent of all current U.S. intelligence is based upon section 702 collection.

There are some key examples. Hajji Iman rose from a high school teacher to become the second in command of ISIS. He was a main focus of NSA’s counterterrorism efforts. The U.S. Government offered a $7 million reward for information leading to his capture. We spent over 2 years looking for him. He was ultimately captured based almost exclusively on intelligence information from section 702.

Najibullah Zazi is in prison for planning an attack of the New York City subway system with explosives in 2009. He received explosive training in Pakistan from al-Qaida. He was discovered after he corresponded with an email address used by an al-Qaida courier in Pakistan, seeking advice on how to build explosives. The section 702 program uncovered the correspondence. Without that discovery, the subway bombing plot might have succeeded.

In October 2013, the FBI began investigating Shawn Parson, a foreigner from Trinidad and Tobago, after Parson began posting comments online expressing a desire to commit an attack against Western interests. Information collected through section 702 revealed Parson's efforts and was instrumental in identifying additional members of Parson's network.

Through the section 702 program, the FBI assisted foreign partners to identify the individual who committed the 2016 New Year's Eve terrorist attack at a night club in Turkey. During that attack, 38 people were killed or seriously injured, including an American citizen.

Those are just the unclassified examples.

It is important to remind my colleagues of the purpose behind section 702. It provides the government the authority to collect the electronic communications of foreigners located outside of the United States. Under section 702, it is against the law to target anyone in the United States or any American citizen, wherever that citizen is in the world.

The program is targeted. It is not a bulk collection system. Furthermore, the FISA Court must approve targeting procedures to ensure that only appropriate individuals are subject to surveillance. Minimization procedures limit the handling and use of information that is collected. All three branches of government have a hand in overseeing the program to protect the constitutional rights of the American people.

It is also important to remind my colleagues that this legislation was first signed into law in 2008. When we took up consideration in 2012 and debated the law, we authorized this legislation with no changes. The 2012 clean reauthorization had the full support of President Obama.

Some of our Senate colleagues oppose this bill. Their first, and most consistent, claim is that section 702 violates the Fourth Amendment. Our colleagues claim that it is an "end-run" around the Constitution. Others call it a "legal loophole," a "backdoor," or "warrantless surveillance."

Nothing could be further from the truth. Section 702 is fully consistent with the Constitution. Every Federal court to review section 702—even including the very liberal Ninth Circuit—has upheld the law. The Supreme Court's recent decision to deny review of the Ninth Circuit case lets stand that court's decision. These courts consistently determined that a warrant is not required to collect or query section 702 information.

Moreover, the independent PCLOB review board has reviewed the entire legal framework of section 702 and has also found it to be constitutional.

The other main claim against this bill is that it provides "new" powers to the government. Again, this is not true.

Nevertheless, this bill does include some significant reforms. First, the bill requires the FBI to get a warrant in some criminal cases. In other words, we have added a warrant where courts have held that none are necessary. The bill also provides protection for whistleblowers and requires an inspector general's report.

In short, this bill provides our government the tools it needs to protect our national security while providing some much needed transparency measures and increased privacy and civil liberties protections.

My colleagues can tell that I am very strongly in support of this legislation. I urge my colleagues to vote in favor of this very important national security protection legislation.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from North Carolina.

Mr. BURR. Mr. President, I thank the chairman of the Judiciary Committee for his support and for his very in-depth analysis of how this works and why it is constitutional.

I ask unanimous consent that Senator WARNER and I be permitted to conclude our remarks prior to the cloture vote.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. BURR. Mr. President, I yield to the vice chairman of the Intelligence Committee.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Virginia.

Mr. WARNER. Mr. President, I thank my friend, the chairman of our committee, the Senator from North Carolina, for his work on this important piece of legislation.

I obviously rise today in support of passage of S. 139, the FISA Amendments Reauthorization Act of 2017. This bill would provide significant reforms that enhance the civil liberties and privacy protections of individuals, while preserving an authority critical to our national security for an additional 6 years.

As vice chairman of the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence, I have long advocated for reforms to surveillance authorities that balance the imperatives of national security and counterterrorism with the privacy rights and civil liberties of Americans.

Section 702 stands among the most important of our intelligence programs. To illustrate, I wish to highlight very briefly one recently declasssified success story involving a terrorist by the name of Hajji Iman.

Hajji Iman was the second in command of ISIS based in Syria. NSA spent more than 2 years looking for him. This search was ultimately successful, primarily because of FISA section 702.

NSA used collection permitted and authorized under section 702 to collect intelligence on the close associates and the network supporting Mr. Iman, including their location in Syria. Between section 702 and other intelligence that was developed, the IC was able to track down the movements of Mr. Iman and ultimately resulted in taking him off the battlefield.

This is but one of numerous examples in which information obtained pursuant to section 702 has proven critical to addressing threats to Americans both domestically and abroad.

For much of the past year and a half, I have worked closely with Chairman BURR and a bipartisan group of Senators to pass legislation to reauthorize section 702 for an extended period while incorporating substantive reforms. In October our Senate Intelligence Committee passed, in a bipartisan way, with a vote of 12 to 3, comprehensive reauthorization legislation.

Since that time, we have worked with our counterparts in the House, as well as representatives of the executive branch, to ensure that the final bill that we will be voting on tonight and tomorrow garners widespread bipartisan support and includes enhancements to civil liberties and privacy protections.

The bill before us here today is the product of extensive bipartisan, bicameral negotiations. Now, this bill is not perfect. Rarely have I worked on or voted on a bill anywhere that is perfect, but I believe this measure represents a significant compromise and preserves the operational flexibility of section 702, while instituting key reforms to further protect U.S. personal privacy.

Let me take a moment to identify a few key items in this legislation that I believe bear mentioning.

First—and I have seen my friend from Oregon, who has argued long and hard in committee for a provision like this, and he would like to see it broader, but it does include a warrant requirement—for the first time in section 702, the government would be required to obtain a court order before FBI criminal investigators are permitted to view communications collected pursuant to section 702 concerning a known U.S. person. Such a court order, based on probable cause, would apply in the context of criminal investigations opened by the FBI that do not relate to national security.

This bill also mandates that a study be conducted by the inspector general of the Department of Justice of the FBI's querying practices 1 year following the enactment of this legislation, making sure that such practices have been approved by the FISA Court and implemented appropriately by the executive branch. This is an important provision in ensuring transparency.

It includes an assessment of the interpretations of the FBI and the DOJ of querying procedures. It includes the handling by the FBI of individuals whose citizen status is unknown at the time the query is conducted, and it includes the scope of access by the FBI's Criminal Division to section 702 information.

While this will not answer all of the questions asked by my good friend from Oregon, it will finally put the FBI on record answering questions that I deserve to know and that I believe he and other Members deserve to know.

In addition, in terms of querying procedures, S. 139 includes a section mandating a new series of procedures to be drafted and approved by the court and implemented by executive branch agencies.

The legislation also requires new public reporting of statistics about activities conducted under FISA.

As has been mentioned by the chairman of the Judiciary Committee, S. 139, for the first time, extends whistleblower protections to contractors in the intelligence community. This addition is essential to ensure that those in the IC have an avenue to report abuses.

Congress must not further delay consideration of a long-term reauthorization. We have been debating this issue for the past 18 months. Indeed, Congress has known about this deadline since the prior reauthorization occurred in 2012. Numerous committees have had extensive hearings on this important issue, including in our committee, both open and closed hearings.

I believe this bill will strengthen and protect Americans. I urge my colleagues to vote in favor of this legislation. I thank the Presiding Officer, and I again want to thank my friend, the chairman of this committee, the Senator from North Carolina, and look forward to his comments.

I yield the floor and yield back to the chairman.

THE PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from North Carolina.

Mr. BURR. Mr. President, I thank the vice chairman of the committee, and I say to those who are opposed to this, I have great affection for all of you. They have passion which really displays their belief that the American people need to be protected from government.

Let me just say from the start, this is the single most reviewed program that exists in the Federal Government. This is reviewed congressionally—it is reviewed by the courts, it is reviewed by the DNI, it is reviewed by the inspector general and the Department of Justice—because, on the committee, we realize this requires not just the stamp of approval from Congress but the assurance by the Intelligence Committee and by every branch of government that it lives within the parameters we set.

I am not sure everybody could have heard a more thorough description than what Senator WARNER just gave and a more overwhelming voice of support than what the chairman of the Judiciary Committee, Senator GRASSLEY, gave, but let me take head-on a couple of issues that have come up and claims that have been made on this floor this afternoon.

One is, this is unconstitutional. Well, let me just be clear. This has been tested in the courts, and the courts have ruled this program is lawful, and it is constitutional. So any claim outside of that is not a claim from the Judiciary, which we trust, it is a claim from an individual, and I believe we should, in this case, trust the courts.

Let me say, Congress recognized the constitutionality of section 702 when it reauthorized the bill in 2012. Further, Federal courts have consistently upheld the constitutionality of 702. For example, in the United States v. Mohamud, the Ninth Circuit, December 5, 2016, the court unanimously held that no warrant is required for a search targeted at a foreign person abroad who lacks Fourth Amendment rights, even though some U.S. persons' communications are incidentally acquired in that collection.

The court found that section 702 collection was reasonable under the Fourth Amendment, the reasonableness balancing test, and the targeting and minimization of procedures sufficiently protected the defendant's privacy issues. It is contrary to things you heard on this floor in the last hour, but this is the Ninth Circuit, December 5, 2016, making a ruling based upon this incidental collection that applies to U.S. citizens.

What the vice chairman just shared with you is, we went a step further. We didn't leave it just with the court to determine constitutionality and the lack of a Fourth Amendment protection. We put into the bill that if it didn't have a national security implication—if it was a criminal act, and it was going to be prosecuted in the courts that way, before they could look at the content of that communication, it required them to go to the court and seek and get a warrant before, in fact, they could look at content.

So not only do we have the courts on our side saying there is no Fourth Amendment protection, we have gone a step further and said: In the case of U.S. citizens, if, in fact, they were incidentally collected and if, in fact, the information that was in the database is going to be used for a criminal case—Senator PAUL talked about marijuana—they would have to actually go to a court and get a warrant from a judge to look at that content, which means you are going to have an FBI agent who is going to make a determination whether the content of that message is valuable enough to go to the courts and seek a warrant. This is a protection for the American people. It is not a requirement for the Fourth Amendment or for the constitutionality of 702.

Now, let me just say to my colleagues, if there are any on the fence post, the Director of National Intelligence is off the floor in the Vice President's Room. If you need one of the guys who has to oversee this program, who understands the importance of it, he is here. He is ready to talk to any Member. Why? Because 702 is the single most important national security tool we have in the United States.

If you ask me to sum up what is this bill for, this is to allow government to keep the American people safe. This bill does more to allow law enforcement, intelligence, the Congress of the United States, and the executive branch to assure the American people of their safety. That is at the heart of what Congress is established for. Spending and all these things come after that, but the defense of the country, defense of each individual American is what is at the root of our responsibilities, and 702, as it relates to this age of terrorism, is the single most effective tool we have to assure the American people we are doing everything we can to provide for their safety.

I might add to that, from a standpoint of the international collection and the international cadre of terrorists, we are able to share with other countries in a way nobody else can when their country is in jeopardy of a terrorist attack, and we have multiple examples where we have shared with our partners around the world—and, I might add, we don't necessarily require them to be a partner of ours to share this with them. We take countries we have no relationship with, maybe that we don't like too much—but America is unique. If we see a terrorist attack that is imminent, we will share that with any country in the world, even our hardest enemies. So let me put aside for any question that section 702 is lawful and it is constitutional.

Let me go to the rigorous oversight that I think the vice chairman described: It is overseen by the Foreign Intelligence Service Court. It is overseen by the Department of Justice and the IG. It is overseen by the Congressional Intelligence Committee. It is required to be evaluated on an annual basis by the Justice Department and by the Bureau for procedures they have to follow.

I can't stress enough that the committee—your committee—your colleagues in Congress are the ones who you should feel most confident after reviewing and providing proper oversight for this program. You see, it is those individuals who reach the clarity that is needed for this body and for the Congress to look at the American people and say: We haven't crossed the line. We have stayed within the legal box that was created.

Don't leave it to me. Let's use the Privacy and Civil Liberties Oversight Board or, as we like to refer to it, the PCLOB. In 2014, following an extensive review, PCLOB specifically noted in that review, to date, there are no known instances in which government personnel deliberately violated the statute, targeting procedures, or minimization procedures.

Let me say that again. The Privacy and Civil Liberties Oversight Board—which many here created—came out and in their report said: To date, there are no known instances in which government personnel deliberately violated the statute targeting procedures or minimization.

At the same time, in that report, PCLOB made a number of recommendations to the government intended to enhance the safeguards for privacy and civil liberties in section 702. In February 2016, the Privacy and Civil Liberties Oversight Board reported that all of its recommendations had been implemented, in full or in part, by the government.

Let me say that again. In February 2016, every recommendation that the Privacy and Civil Liberties Oversight Board made about this program, the PCLOB certified that those had, in full or in part, been adopted by the Federal Government.

If you only go on what you heard over the last half an hour or an hour, you would think this is riddled with questions of constitutionality and that there are massive abuses. The fact is, there have not been any, and the courts have ruled that it is constitutional, it is legal, and it does not infringe on the Fourth Amendment at all.

Let me say to my colleagues, I expected we would be here. We had a heated debate in the committee. The Presiding Officer remembers that well because he is on the committee. We considered a lot of amendments, and at the end of the day, we came out with a bill that is very similar to what we have today. A 12-to-3 vote shows tremendous bipartisan support.

Now, if Senator WARNER had written it by himself, it would probably look different. If I had written it by myself, it would probably look different. What we are asked to vote on today is a bill that looks different than what we passed out. It is a little bit stronger from the standpoint of the protection of privacy because it does institute this warrant requirement if, in fact, you want to see the content of any collection out of 702 dealing with a criminal process.

If it is national security, we are doing exactly what I think the American people want us to do. We are using the data we have to find the people who want to commit these acts and stop them before they do. If that is not the intent of this, then this probably shouldn't exist. If anybody believes terrorists have quit, and we are no longer a target, then eliminate this.

I am closer to the line than I ever thought I would be before I got to the U.S. Senate and certainly before I became chairman of the Intelligence Committee, but I do understand responsibilities. Responsibilities make sure those individuals whom we charge with protecting the American people have the tools they need to accomplish it. It is the reason we are debating, on this floor and at the other end of the Capitol, the funding of our military. It is to make sure our military has the tools they need to go out and do the mission they have been asked to do.

Well, from the Bureau to the intelligence community, we have asked them to do everything they can to make sure Americans stay safe, and this has been the most effective tool, with no abuses to date—and that is the determination of the Privacy and Civil Liberties Oversight Board, not a right-leaning institution—and the fact is, the government has lived exactly within the letters of the law that we have described.

So I urge my colleagues to vote for cloture. Let's move on to the 30 hours on this bill, if that is what, in fact, everybody demands. We have already extended it temporarily. That is not a sign of confidence to those who work in the trenches and we ask to keep us safe.

Let's do the bold thing. Let's finish this. This is a bicameral, bipartisan, negotiated bill—both sides of the aisle and both ends of the Capitol. It is time we do our business. I urge my colleagues to vote yes for cloture.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Oregon.

Mr. WYDEN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to speak for up to 2 minutes.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. WYDEN. Mr. President, I thank my colleagues. I will be very brief.

Colleagues, what we are debating is whether the Senate will be the Senate. If you vote in favor of this, you are voting for cloture, there will be no amendments then. We would have the opportunity, if we vote against cloture, for improving this bill.

I want to emphasize that if we take a short time to improve this bill, as Senator LEE, Senator LEAHY, and Senator PAUL want to do, this program continues to operate. It is not in any way going to harm our ability to fight terrorism. This program would stand.

I urge my colleagues to vote to carry out our constitutional obligation as Senators, to have real debate and vote against cloture.

BUTCH LEWIS ACT

Mr. BROWN. Thank you, Mr. President.

Thanks to Senator SCHUMER and my colleagues, who will join us in the course of the evening, for coming to the floor tonight to shine a light on the more than 1 million workers and retirees all over this country who are on the verge of facing massive cuts to the pensions they have earned. This crisis affects thousands of Ohioans—perhaps more than 60,000 is our count. It affects the massive Central States Teamsters Pension Plan, the United Mine Workers Pension Plan, the Ironworkers Local 17 Pension Plan, the Ohio Southwest Carpenters Pension Plan, the Bakers and Confectioners Pension Plan, and others. It has an impact on workers, retirees, and businesses in every single State in the United States.

It is bad enough that Wall Street squandered workers' money; it is worse that the government—that this body, that the House—hasn't yet stepped up. The government is supposed to look out for these folks and is so far turning a blind eye to the promise made to these workers.

The Senate found the time to pass a massive tax giveaway for corporations that shipped jobs overseas. We know that the tax bill made it even more likely for manufacturing companies to shut down in Mansfield or Limerick or Chillicothe or Portsmouth or Springfield, OH, and move overseas. They shut down production here and move overseas, set up production there, and sell their products back into the United States. The Senate's bill does that, but it did nothing for hard-working Americans who worked their whole lives to earn their retirement. It is disgraceful, and time is running short to make these pensions whole.

I urge my colleagues in this body—colleagues with healthcare and retirement plans paid for by taxpayers—to remember that. My colleagues—all of us have our healthcare and pensions paid by taxpayers. I urge my colleagues of this body to think about these retired workers and the stress they are facing. It is an expensive time of year for people with fixed incomes. Their heating bills go up. They try to scrape together what they can for the holidays for grandkids. They have loved ones who are sick, and some of them are sick themselves.

Remember, this is about more than just these retirees and their families; hundreds of thousands of workers give up money from each and every paycheck to fund a pension they expect to be there when they retire. Think about that. Those who haven't really looked at what happens in union negotiations, where workers sit at the bargaining table, and they give up income today to put money aside for the future for their pensions—that is what they did. They gave up income 10 years ago, 20 years ago, 30 years ago, even 40 years ago, put it aside—often matched by employers. That money then comes back to them in the form of a pension when they retire.

If we don't protect those pensions, how do any workers know their retirement is safe? How do you plan for your kids? How do you plan for your family's future? How do you do that when this kind of uncertainty hangs over your head? These Americans have done everything right. They have worked their whole lives to earn these pensions. They have put in long hours to support their families. They did it so they would be able to spend their retirement years enjoying time with their grandchildren, not worrying every day about how to make ends meet. The reason they thought it wasn't just blind hope was because of the legally binding contracts they negotiated in good faith.

When I first started in public service, when the legislature wasn't in session, I used to spend hours at the United Steelworkers Local 169 in Mansfield, OH, listening to workers talk about their dreams. We talked about a lot of things. I would talk about their kids, whom I had gone to high school with at Mansfield Junior High or Johnny Appleseed Junior High or Brinkerhoff Grade School. But one thing I heard over and over is how workers, as I said earlier, gave up pay today at the bargaining table for the promise of a pension to be there when they retired. It is pretty simple. They sat at the negotiating table. They earned their pensions. They gave up pay raises to do it. But now their government has allowed Wall Street to blow it, and tough luck for them. Not on our watch, Mr. President.

Before the holidays, I stood in this building with many of my colleagues and with Rita Lewis, the widow of Butch Lewis, who had worked 40 years as an Ohio teamster. Butch died of a heart attack on New Year's Eve a couple of years ago. If he were here today, Butch would tell you that he didn't work those 40 years to get just 40 percent of his pension. Sadly, Butch passed away far too soon after fighting for the retirement he and these workers earned. It is my honor to name our Senate bill the "Butch Lewis Act" after him.

This isn't a partisan issue. It affects communities we all represent. It affects Teamsters in Michigan and in Ohio. It affects workers in Montana, the Presiding Officer's State. It affects mine workers in the majority leader's State. It affects teamsters, truckdrivers, in the Democratic leader's State.

My colleagues on both sides of the aisle have voiced support and the desire to work together in good faith to keep this promise. Now we just need to sit down together, put politics aside, and get it done. A number of Republican Senators have been in negotiations with Democratic Senators that we have led to make sure this can get done. But fundamentally it is about whose side you are on. It is about who we work for. Many of my colleagues made it pretty clear in December with their tax vote that they work for Wall Street and the corporations that send job overseas, but I say we work for these truckdrivers, ironworkers, carpenters, confectionary workers, and teamsters. They are not asking for a handout; they are asking for what they earned over a lifetime of work. It is time for us to do the job the taxpayers sent us here to do and save those pensions before it is too late.

I am joined on the Senate floor today by the senior Senator from Michigan and the senior Senator from Indiana, Senator STABENOW and Senator DONNELLY, who have been very active on this issue. I know Senator CASEY is going to join us, and others who have been very active, standing up for these retirees, understanding that the teamster retirees and mine workers and ironworkers and others gave up money today, gave up raises at the bargaining table, to put money aside for retirement. We owe that to them. It is time the Senate does its job.

I yield the floor to Senator STABENOW.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Michigan.

Ms. STABENOW. Mr. President, first of all, I wish to thank my friend from Ohio. Senator BROWN has been a real champion. It is wonderful to partner with him and with the senior Senator from Indiana, Mr. DONNELLY.

All of us believe strongly—and the Democratic caucus together believes strongly—that a pension is a promise, period. A pension is a promise. Too many people right now are finding themselves in a situation where they are being told that promise is not going to be kept.

For generations, millions of working men and women have built better lives for themselves in Michigan and across the country, and better lives for their families, with jobs that provided more than a paycheck. That is part of the American dream.

These folks have worked hard, and we know that the people of Michigan can outbuild and outwork and outimagine anyone. I will take on my friends from Indiana and Ohio on that one because we know that in Michigan we have bright, hard-working folks.

In exchange for a job well done, workers knew that they could count on basic benefits, including quality healthcare and a secure retirement, a pension. Jobs like these didn't just build families. We know that those jobs have built the middle class of our country—making things, growing things, creating things, and building things. That is what has created our middle class and our way of life.

Unfortunately, though, we know that jobs that provide this kind of security and stability are becoming increasingly hard to find. Even worse, some workers have discovered that the benefits they earned over years of hard work have proven to be less than dependable. That is why we are here, because we believe a pension is a promise, and too many people are being told that promise isn't going to be kept. That is wrong.

Imagine what it is like to be one of these workers. Perhaps you spent your career behind the wheel of a truck, hauling freight. The work is dangerous. The hours are long. You are separated from your family, but you keep on driving because the pay and the benefits are good, you are taking care of your family, and you are planning for the future. You know that after driving literally millions of safe miles, you will be able to retire with dignity. You will be able to have that cottage up north in Michigan, the snowmobile, and the boat, and to send your kids to college, thanks to the pension you worked so hard and so long for.

After decades of work, you decide it is time to park the truck one last time. You say goodbye to your coworkers and hello to a new stage in your life. You plan in your retirement to spend more time at the lake, maybe even teach your grandkids to fish. You can make these plans because you know you have the security of that pension you have worked all your life for.

Then, one day, everything changes. You learn that for a variety of reasons, the fund providing your pension is running out of money—not because of your fault. In fact, you might receive little, if any, of the benefits you were counting on. What do you do? What do you do? Do you swallow your pride, sell your home, and move in with one of your kids? Would you go back to work? Would you be able to get a job?

A lot of Michigan workers don't have to imagine what they would do because they are living it right now. This is very serious.

Again, I have always believed that a pension is a promise. Shame on our country, shame on our government if we don't make sure that promise is kept.

People who worked hard to earn their retirement benefits should not have to worry about paying the power bill or putting food on the table or keeping their homes. Unfortunately, we know that a number of multi-employer pension funds, including ones in Michigan that Michigan workers depend on, face serious challenges due to the financial crisis and other factors. I remember back in 2008 and 2009, when there was a bailout that was passed for Wall Street banks, but what about the pensions that were invested? What happened to the middle-class families depending on that? We know what happened in terms of people losing their homes, and what about the other piece, which is the pensions, that lost money?

This isn't the fault of the workers, like Kenneth of Sterling Heights, MI. He is a retired teamster. He wrote to me about his fears of being able to pay his bills and cover the basics, including food, medicine, and everyday expenses.

He worked hard all of his life. He doesn't want to end his life in poverty, nor should he have to.

He told me: "We are not the people who made the bad investments of our hard-earned money and lost billions of dollars."

Kenneth is absolutely right. This isn't the fault of the workers, and they shouldn't pay the price. They should know that the promise made to them after a lifetime of hard work will be kept.

That is why I am so pleased to be co-sponsoring the Butch Lewis Act of 2017 with my colleagues who are here this evening. The bill would create a new office within Treasury called the Pension Rehabilitation Administration. The new office would give troubled pension plans the opportunity to become solid again through loans and assistance from the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation. With this bill, these plans would be able to pay workers all of the promised benefits with no cuts—no cuts. The plans would be required to demonstrate the ability to repay the loans at the end of the term.

Think about how Wall Street banks got loans. Shouldn't middle-class, working men and women—retirees who worked all of their lives and believed in our country, and believed that, in fact, our country would have their back—also have the same kind of opportunity to be able to protect their pensions?

Let me just say again that this is an incredibly important piece of legislation that affects millions of middle-class Americans who have worked their entire lives—people who are retired now or are near retirement or are still working hard and paying in and trust that, in fact, their pension will be there, and it is incredibly important that our country keep its promise to them.

Let me also say in conclusion that I will be reintroducing legislation that I introduced last session to address something else that I think is a matter of fairness: to prevent raises and reduce salaries of top pension fund executives if retiree benefits are cut. I understand how devastating pension cuts would be to retirees and their families, and the people making decisions—the people in power making decisions about funds—should actually be able to know that by feeling the same pain of cuts.

There is no question we need long-term solutions to the pension crisis facing our country. People who are retired right now and face losing that pension and going into poverty or people who are about to retire don't have time to wait. There is a tremendous sense of urgency about this.

Cutting benefits would place a terrible burden on retirees who have worked hard all of their lives to earn some dignity, some comfort, some security. It is people like Keith and Mary. They are both in their seventies and depend on Keith's pension and Social Security to meet their basic needs. They told me:

We try to save, but it is difficult. We are hoping that the pension will last more than 10 years, but who knows.

Keith and Mary have the right to know. They have the right to know that their country has their backs and that they can count on their pension being there.

I urge my colleagues to help keep that promise for Ken and Keith and Mary and hard-working people all across Michigan and America.

I see our leader on the floor. I want to thank him for making this a top priority as we are negotiating the priorities of this country, the priorities of the budget for next year. Making sure hard-working Americans have the promise kept of their pension is something that I know is at the top of his list, and I am proud to join him in this effort.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Democratic leader.

Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. President, I thank Senator STABENOW and my colleague from Indiana and my colleague from Ohio. Senators BROWN, STABENOW, DONNELLY, KLOBUCHAR, HEITKAMP, CASEY, and BALDWIN have been such stalwart voices for working men and women in their States—namely, teamsters and food workers—as well as Senator MANCHIN, for the miners in West Virginia, and so many others across the country.

We come to the floor tonight to urge our Republican colleagues to join us in doing something to shore up pension plans for over 1 million Americans. Millions of middle-class workers in this country—teamsters, miners, carpenters, and steel workers—have put their money into plans year after year. They knew they wouldn't be rich when they retired, but they thought they could live a life of decency and dignity. They often forewent salary increases. They said: Don't give me a raise at this percent; give me a lower raise, but put money in that pension. These people earned these pensions. They are the backbone of America.

But now, after all of their hard work and all of their savings, several multiyear pension plans are at risk of failure, through no fault of the workers. Families in my State and across the country could see their retirement savings slashed. Teamsters, miners, carpenters, and food service workers are at risk of losing security through no fault of their own. They weren't responsible for the stock market crash, and they weren't involved in offshore swaps in London or somewhere, but that diminished the value of these plans. They are certainly not responsible for Congress twiddling its thumbs and doing nothing in the face of these shortfalls. Teamsters in my State, for instance, are facing a 30-percent reduction in their retirement benefits. They feel the impact of the cuts every day.

So in conclusion, we have to get something done. Our Republican friends spent most of 2017 pressing legislation to help the wealthiest corporations and biggest corporations to get big tax breaks, but what about the middle-class worker? What about the middle-class worker? Let 2018 be different. Let it be the year when we fix these plans, and let's do it in the upcoming budget deal.

I know that Senators BROWN, STABENOW, DONNELLY and so many others will continue to fight for hard-working pensioners until we fix the problem.

So again, I want to thank my good friend, the Senator from Ohio, Mr. BROWN, for organizing an outstanding group of Senators to speak this evening on a crucial topic: pensions.

Senators BROWN, STABENOW, KLOBUCHAR, HEITKAMP, DONNELLY, CASEY and BALDWIN have always been such stalwart voices for the working men and women of their States.

We all come to the floor tonight to urge our Republican colleagues to join us in doing something to shore up pension plans for over a million Americans.

Millions of middle-class workers in this country—teamsters and miners and carpenters and steel workers—put money into pension plans year after year, forgoing large salary increases or other benefits. Do you know why? Because they said: I am going to work hard my whole life, but when I retire I want to retire with some degree of dignity. And that is what they did.

But several multiemployer pension plans are at a real risk of failure. Families in my State and across the country could see their retirement savings slashed. Teamsters and miners and carpenters and food service workers are at risk of losing that security through no fault of their own.

They weren't responsible for the market crash in 2009, which diminished the value of so many of these plans. And they certainly aren't responsible for Congress twiddling its thumbs, doing nothing to fix the looming shortfalls in the many years since.

And yet, Teamsters in my State are facing a 30-percent reduction in their retirement benefits. They feel the impact of those cuts every day.

These are funds that workers contributed to, and they earned every penny. They won't allow the families of my State to buy riches or luxuries. These pension plans won't fund the purchase of yachts or beach homes. What they will do is guarantee hard-working men and women the peace of mind that comes with a secure retirement.

We have an obligation to see that the promise made to these workers is upheld. And we ought to do it soon. If we don't, it is going to cost taxpayers more in the long run. And all throughout the meantime, hardworking American families will be denied the benefits they rightly deserve.

Republicans spent most of 2017 pressing legislation that helped the wealthiest corporations and the biggest corporations to the detriment of the middle class. Let 2018 be different. Let 2018 be a year when we finally fix these pension plans. And let's do it in the upcoming budget deal.

This will be another test of the Republican majority. Will they again ignore the pressing needs of working Americans across the country? Will President Trump again talk about helping the working men and women of this country but then turn his back on them? We will see.

What I know is that Senator BROWN, and this group of Democratic Senators, will continue to fight for the hard-working pensioners of this country until we fix this problem.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Indiana.

Mr. DONNELLY. Mr. President, my colleagues and I are on the Senate floor tonight on behalf of the hundreds of thousands of Americans whose pensions are at serious risk.

For generations, there has been an expectation in our country that if you worked hard and earned a pension, that pension would be there in retirement. Unfortunately, that promise is now in question.

Due to corporate bankruptcies, the financial crisis, and underfunding, among other reasons, some of the largest pension funds in this country are at risk of insolvency, potentially leaving retirees with pennies on the dollar. I know firsthand the value of a pension. My late father-in-law was a teamster. His pension allowed him to help support his family and it provided him with the dignity of a decent retirement.

Hundreds of thousands of Americans will go to sleep tonight uncertain about their financial security. I have met these retirees. I have stood with them at rallies. I have attended their meetings.

Just 10 days ago, back home in Indiana, I joined roughly 300 teamsters, both active and retired, from all corners of Indiana. They met in Indianapolis to try to learn what the future would hold. They simply want the pensions they worked so hard for and spent so many hours laboring for—and that they earned. They simply want what was promised to them and what their hard work earned for them.

Unless Congress acts soon, in Indiana alone, 22,000 teamsters and 2,700 mine workers are at risk of significant pension cuts. That is why I cosponsored the Butch Lewis Act and the American Miners Pension Act. These bipartisan bills would ensure retirees receive their pensions. Both bills create a loan program that extends the solvency of at-risk pension plans.

I also continue to work with Senators in both parties to build support and to find a solution. Conversations need to turn into that solution before the pension shortfall grows even worse. If we don't act, the solution becomes more costly every day.

The Department of Labor lists 144 multi-employer plans as being in critical or endangered status. The at-risk plans include ironworkers, roofers, machinists, fishermen, plumbers, bricklayers, and carpenters, among others.

We need to shore up our pension system before the problem grows worse. The failure of these plans would not just devastate the impacted retirees, it could be economically damaging to impacted communities and could lead to the insolvency of the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation—the PBGC—which provides pension insurance.

Last year, we similarly stood on this Senate floor together—not as Republicans, not as Democrats, but as Americans—to fight for health benefits for the retired mineworkers. We solved that issue. We reached a compromise by working together, Republicans and Democrats together, and passed a permanent solution that was signed into law. Let's do it again here.

We have an opportunity to do the right thing—to ensure hundreds of thousands of Americans have the financial support they expected, that they worked nonstop for, and that they receive the pensions they earned. A solution is right here in our grasp. We have to get this done, and I urge the Senate to act immediately.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Wisconsin.

Ms. BALDWIN. Mr. President, I rise to join my colleagues in our fight to keep a promise made to workers and retirees across this country. I will start with where we were, where we are now, and what Washington needs to do to keep these promises.

A little over 2 years ago, Central States pension had an application before the Treasury Department, which had it been approved would have meant deep cuts to pensions that had already been earned over a lifetime of hard work.

Retirees in my home State of Wisconsin began to receive letters notifying them that their pensions could be cut by 30, 50, and, in some cases, as much as 70 percent. Treasury made the right decision and rejected these pension cuts. That was an important victory, but we have always known there is more work to be done, that we have to find a long-term solution that keeps these promises.

I am talking about a promise made to Bernie in Franklin, WI, who would have lost about one-third of his pension if the Central States application had actually gone through. I am talking about a promise made to Kenny from Menomonee Falls, WI, who spent most of his career in trucking, paying into a pension fund to safeguard his family's future. He got a letter notifying him that his pension might be cut by 55 percent. I am talking about promises made to 25,000 retirees and workers in the State of Wisconsin. They have been living with the fear and uncertainty of not knowing whether the retirement security they saved for and sacrificed for, and that their families depend upon, will be there when they need it.

If Washington does not act, these workers and retirees will face massive cuts to their pensions earned over decades of work.

I have been proud to work side by side with Wisconsin retirees and with Senator SHERROD BROWN to introduce the Butch Lewis Act. The bill will put failing pension plans, including Central States, back on solid ground to ensure they can meet their commitments to retirees today and workers in decades to come, and it does so without cutting a single cent from the benefits retirees have earned.

In the time since Central States submitted its application to the Treasury Department, I have met with retirees in Milwaukee, Green Bay, and Endeavor, WI—last week, I was in Brookfield, WI, with many more than 200 retirees and workers—who are counting on Washington to pass this bill.

Washington needs to act. We need to pass the Butch Lewis Act, and we need to do it soon.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Minnesota.

Ms. KLOBUCHAR. Mr. President, I rise to join my colleagues in calling for action—action to protect the hard-earned benefits of pensioners, hard-working people all across my State. I thank my colleague Senator BROWN for organizing these speeches and my neighbor to the east, Senator BALDWIN from Wisconsin, for her eloquent words on behalf of the workers in her State.

I know how important benefits are to workers firsthand. My grandpa was one of many children, growing up in the Iron Range of Minnesota. He loved school, but he had to quit at age 15 to help support his family. First, he got a job as a teamster, pulling a cart, and then at a very young age, he went to work in the iron ore mines in Ely, MN.

He had wanted to be in the Navy. He had wanted to sail the world. Instead, he spent his entire life to support his eight brothers and sisters and then, later, my dad and my uncle. He spent his entire life working 1,500 feet underground, and he would go down the mine shaft every single day with his black lunch bucket, and I often thought: What did he think of when he went down that mine shaft? Did he think of that life at sea, of school, of other things? He felt he had an obligation, and that obligation was not only important to our family, which somehow ended up with me in the U.S. Senate, but it was also an obligation that was so important to our country, because when you go back as far as World War II, it was the iron ore that was made into the steel that built our country—our factories, our skyscrapers, and our ships and tanks that won that war. That is what my grandpa did, and it was dangerous back then.

My grandma would always tell me how you would hear this whistle go off, and it meant someone was either very hurt or killed in the mines, and all of the wives would go and stand outside that mine to see what miner was going to be brought up injured or worse. My dad remembers seeing the coffins in the church in Ely lined up of miners who had been killed. This wasn't that long ago.

When someone does something like that for their family and for their country, promises that were made to them should be kept. Because my grandpa stayed in that job—over time, the safety requirements got better, the benefits got better—he was able to get healthcare, he was able to save money in a coffee can in the basement of their little house so he could send my dad and his brother to college. That all happened.

So when he got sick, he should be able to have healthcare, right? Well, he did. He had cancer, but he was able to have healthcare. When my grandma got older and lived into her late eighties, she was able to stay at assisted living. That all happened because promises made to those workers were kept.

The promise made to the workers in multiemployer pension plans is simple; that the pension they have earned through their decades of hard work will be there when they retire.

Saving for retirement is often described as the three-legged stool: Social Security, a pension, and personal savings. A stable and secure retirement relies on all three legs being strong, but some multiemployer pension plans are facing funding challenges that could weaken one of those legs. Over 10 million Americans participate in a multiemployer pension plan and rely on these benefits for a safe and secure retirement.

The Central States Pension Plan is such a plan. It was established in 1955 to help truckers save for retirement. That was while my grandpa was still in the mines. Today, the Central States Pension Plan includes workers from the carhaul, tankhaul, pipeline, warehouse, construction, clerical, food processing, dairy, and trucking industries.

In my State, there are over 21,000 workers and retirees in the plan—and this affects workers and retirees from all over the Midwest. I guess that is why it is called the Central States plan: Nearly 48,000 workers and retirees in Ohio, over 47,000 in Michigan, over 32,000 in Missouri, nearly 25,000 in Wisconsin, and over 2,000 in North Dakota.

In fact, when this issue first came up, and this was rushed over from the House—and we really didn't know the impact it would have in our States because there hadn't been a lot of thought in how this thing was done when it was part of a bigger bill—I voted against that bill because if this thing is called Central States, and I have a bunch of people calling me, I probably have a lot of people who are impacted. Unfortunately, that thing was rushed through, and people didn't have their say. In fact, 7 of the top 10 States in the Central States Pension Plan are Midwestern States.

In September of 2015, the Central States submitted a proposal to the Treasury to reduce pension benefits for workers and retirees under the Multiemployer Pension Relief Act of 2014.

Treasury reviewed the proposal, which would have resulted in benefits cut for over 270,000 Central State retirees and workers. Some of these pension cuts were as high as 50, 60, and even 70 percent. Imagine someone who has spent their life driving a truck, saving money, and then suddenly one day they find out they are going to lose 70 percent of their pension.

I heard from people all over my State how devastating these proposed cuts would have been. People were concerned that they would not be able to afford their medication or that they might have to sell their house. Many are in their sixties, seventies, or even eighties and are not able to go back to work.

I stood up with many of my colleagues and fought against that proposal for a very simple reason: It was the right thing to do. We raised significant concerns about the plan, and the Treasury Department—in a move that I think surprised some of us, pleasantly, but not those who are on the frontlines every day, whom I am looking up at in the Gallery—rejected that proposal.

While we temporarily averted a very bad plan going into effect, this issue is not going away. The Central States Pension Plan still faces insolvency by 2025, and more than 70,000 Minnesotans are in multiemployer pension plans that are facing funding shortfalls. More than 100 of these pension plans are facing funding challenges and do not have sufficient plan assets.

Pensioners across our State and our country depend on their pensions. People like Sherman from my State, in Northern Minnesota—exactly the area I just talked about my dad being from, where my grandpa worked in the mines. Sherman has been working tirelessly on this issue and raising it at a national level, and workers and retirees whom I continue to meet are asking us and looking for us to take action.

That is why I have joined with my colleagues to cosponsor the Butch Lewis Act, and I thank Senator BROWN for his leadership on this legislation. This bill is a win-win for employers, employees, retirees, and Americans.

The bill would put the pension plan back on solid footing and ensure that the plans could meet their obligations to retirees and workers for decades to come. This would happen without cutting a single cent from the benefits our workers and retirees have earned, worked hard for, paid into the pension plan for, and built their retirement around.

The introduction of the Butch Lewis Act has been an important step forward in elevating the need for action. So as congressional leaders work to negotiate a deal to raise the budget spending caps, the pension crisis should be a funding priority. It should be included in any comprehensive budget deal.

Somehow, in this very Chamber, people found a way to do a bunch of tax cuts. Some of them were there for the middle class, but a lot of them helped the wealthy. Somehow they found their way to that. Well, they had better find their way to include this because this is about working people.

We owe it to all Americans who played by the rules and worked hard throughout their lives secure pensions.

I stand today ready to work with our colleagues on the floor and across the aisle on a bipartisan solution. We all know that delay only makes the solution more costly. The time is here. We can't put it off any longer. We must move forward now to get this done for our workers, for our businesses, and for our country.

Mr. President, I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Pennsylvania.

Mr. CASEY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to speak as in morning business.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. CASEY. Mr. President, I rise to speak as well about the issue of pensions, as many of my colleagues have been speaking about tonight. First of all, I want to outline a series of what I believe to be promises that the Senate and the House must keep with large segments of the American people.

Last year at this time, we were in a long debate, which had transpired over months, and the main issue there was healthcare for retired coal miners and their families. This was a promise made to coal miners across the country—thousands of them across the country and thousands in Pennsylvania alone—who were promised they would have healthcare in their retirement. That promise went unfulfilled despite the fact that we got a bill through the Senate Finance Committee, as we were instructed to do, to follow so-called regular order—have a hearing, have a vote, get it through the committee—but it was held up month after month, really from the fall of 2016 until April of 2017. That promise almost went unfulfilled, and it took far too long, but eventually we got it done.

At that time, we made another promise to those same coal miners that we would work on the pension issue for them. That was the second half of the original legislation.

When it comes to promises, we have promises to keep to those Americans who worked so hard in the most difficult job in the world.

We also have some promises that must be fulfilled. I would hope that the Republican leadership and Republican Members of the House and the Senate, along with the administration—one party in charge of two branches of government—would keep their promise to 9 million American children. The Children's Health Insurance Program is more than 100 days overdue from being reauthorized. Everyone says they are for it, but it is not done. It was set aside to get a tax bill done, which, in my judgment, was a giveaway to the superrich and big corporations. Even if you wanted to support the tax bill, why couldn't you carve out some time by the end of the year, I asked the majority, to get the Children's Health Insurance Program reauthorized? Nine million kids; one hundred eighty thousand in Pennsylvania. Why couldn't you get it done?

Here we are now in the middle of January facing yet another deadline, and the Children's Health Insurance Program is not yet reauthorized. That is a promise. We will see by the end of the week whether the majority keeps its promise to those 9 million children.

The pension issue is the one I am going to talk about tonight, but there is also a promise that was made to approximately 800,000 young people, the individuals in the so-called DACA Program, the Dreamers. That is another promise.

The promise we are talking about tonight, at least on this side of the aisle in the Senate, is the promise of pensions. Why do so many pension plans face the obstacles, the burdens, and the crisis they face right now? The two main reasons are, first and foremost, the financial crisis, which wiped out stock holdings just as these members were retiring, and, of course, the second reason is substantial job loss in the industries that are affected by these pension plans.

While Wall Street and the gross domestic product have recovered from the horrific financial crisis that the country has now recovered from, but some people are still being hurt by it, and as the wealthier are doing better than ever—the number that was cited a couple of months ago was that since 1980, the share of national income—if you took all the income in the country, the share of national income held by the top 1 percent was 11 percent in 1980. That is a pretty high number for 1 percent. They had 11 percent of the national income. What was it in 2014? It had almost doubled to 20 percent. So when I say that the very wealthy, the top 1 percent, have done quite well—I have even used the word “bonanza”—they have done very well since 1980—I can back it up with a number, and that is the number. So even as they are doing better, and those other indicators might seem better, wages and opportunities for the middle class have stagnated, and our pensions have paid the price.

Workers across the country—including tens of thousands of coal miners, teamsters, and bakery and confectionary workers in Pennsylvania—are living with the worry that their pensions may not remain solvent. They played by the rules. They paid their dues. They put in their time for their companies. They and their children paid the price during the financial crisis with their jobs and their wages. They should not have to continue to pay the price in retirement through reductions in promised pension benefits.

It is inexcusable and insulting for Americans to live with this type of worry, wondering whether they will have the quality of life in retirement they planned for and depended upon throughout their careers—careers of hard work and sacrifice, careers of giving so much to their companies and in many cases, so much to their country as well. Yet we have that uncertainty facing those individuals and their families. They are wondering whether, after decades of working in jobs that took a toll, in many cases, on their own bodies, they will need to go back to work so they can afford the heating bills or the cost of medication. That is insulting.

We must take action now to shore up our pension system, to keep the promise to the Americans who made our country what it is today—the greatest in the world, for sure. We know where Democrats stand on this issue. We are with workers. The question now is whether Republicans will work with us to get this done.

As I said before, Republicans have all the votes they need to get this done. They didn't flinch in December when it was a question of whether they would give $13 billion in tax windfalls to the Nation's largest banks. All of that, of course, was unpaid for. We know where Republicans stand when it comes to giving away billions of dollars in borrowed money to large, profitable corporations. That was the tax bill that I mentioned before. We will soon find out whether they stand with workers when it comes to their pensions.

The Republican Congress needs to act now to make sure that we pass what is called the Butch Lewis Act to give retirees in Pennsylvania and others across the country the peace of mind that comes with knowing their retirement is secure. It is fundamental. This is a promise. It is either going to be kept, or it is going to be violated. This is the week to ensure that it is kept for those Americans who have worked so hard. They deserve these pensions. They have earned them. We need to keep our promise. The majority needs to keep its promise.

Mr. President, I yield the floor.

I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The bill clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. ROUNDS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

MORNING BUSINESS

Mr. ROUNDS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the Senate be in a period of morning business, with Senators permitted to speak therein for up to 10 minutes each.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

REMEMBERING THE REV. DR. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR.

Mr. CARDIN. Mr. President, today I wish to celebrate the life and legacy of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., whose birthday the Nation celebrated yesterday. Dr. King once said: "The ultimate measure of a man is not where he stands in moments of comfort and convenience, but where he stands at times of challenge and controversy." These words are a specter, speaking to us now as though written for political moments precisely like the one we find ourselves in today. These words reflect the wisdom and tenacity of a man who deftly shaped his own moment and made our country better, fairer, and more just in the process.

Dr. King was a remarkable figure, perhaps most of all because he was an ordinary man—a husband and a father like so many others—who made extraordinary choices. In the face of a society that told him he must sit down, he chose to take a stand. In the face of evil and systemic bigotry, he chose to embody the tenets of love and peace. In the face of improbable odds, he chose to fight. As a result, his legacy of tolerance, respect, and equality is forever cemented in the very foundation of this country, and we are all the better for it.

Right up until the moment his life was taken from him, 50 years ago this year, Dr. King fought for an equal society, an equitable society, wherein we would judge one another not by the color of each other's skin, but by the content of our character. He was a shining beacon for all those who had come before him and all those who would come after, who, at tremendous risk to their own lives and livelihoods, have fought ceaselessly in the name of civil rights, fair wages, the eradication of poverty, and the right of all Americans to vote.

His wisdom still guides us even now, so many decades removed from his time here. When, in the 2013 case Shelby County v. Holder, the Supreme Court dismantled the Voting Rights Act that Dr. King was instrumental in passing, many of us vowed to persevere, to pass new legislation, knowing that is what Dr. King would have expected and would have done himself. Discriminatory practices such as voter identification requirements have made a resurgence in recent years, making it more difficult for citizens to exercise their most basic, fundamental right. Bigoted, hateful rhetoric has sadly continued into our lifetime, threatening the livelihoods and the dignity of people of color all across America. Misunderstanding of those from other countries or backgrounds all too often guides our politics, and fringe groups are all too often successful in stoking that fear into hate.

Despite all of this, I am optimistic about our future because, as Dr. King put it best, "The arc of the moral universe is long, but it bends toward justice." That is the other half of Dr. King's legacy: hope—pure, undiluted, undeterred. We have tremendous challenges before us, just as he did then. I am hopeful when I watch Dreamers march on the U.S. Capitol, asking us to live up to our own promise as a nation. I am hopeful when I see women of all races, creeds, orientations, and backgrounds rally together as one, demanding to be heard, to be believed, to be counted. I am hopeful when I watch Black Lives Matter organize incredible, peaceful protests, keeping us all accountable, and I am hopeful when I see Americans of all different stripes join them.

Today both Dr. King's message and methods are as relevant as ever. He lives on in the footfall of peacefully marching protesters and in every word spoken in opposition to inequality and injustice. He lives on in the diversity of our college campuses and the all-too-slow, but steady, representation of people of color in our government. He lives on in all the ordinary men and women of this country who, every day, make extraordinary choices, like meeting hate with love, and the darkness of our troubled times with the light of their own hope.

Even in difficult times, through violence and denial, Dr. King maintained his dream, and as he said in the last sermon he gave in Tennessee, through every plight, he saw the Promised Land upon that great mountaintop. As we come together to celebrate his birthday, let us pledge to follow his footsteps up that mountain, to carry on his dream, until we meet him there.

REMEMBERING JOSEPH WILLIAM NOVOTNY

Mr. TESTER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to have printed in the RECORD the remarks I gave at the medal presentation to Joseph William Novotny's family on January 13, 2018, in Glendive, MT.

There being no objection, the material was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

U.S. Senator Jon Tester
Joseph William Novotny Medal Presentation
January 13, 2018
Glendive, Montana

Thank you all for being here today. And a special welcome to Emma Bartholomew, Kathy Hegel and all of Joe's family.

Today is a day years in the making. The efforts to get Joe the recognition and military medal he deserves has spanned years and generations of his family.

One of my greatest honors in the U.S. Senate is recognizing the service of the brave men and women who serve our country. Men like Joe who don't often seek recognition for their bravery.

It's my honor to be here today to present Ms. Bartholomew with her brother's medal. I will now read the citation that was printed in the United States Congressional Record, forever commemorating Joe's actions and the long overdue medal that now belongs to his family.

CONGRESSIONAL RECORD

Mr. President, I rise today to recognize the service and courage of Mr. Joseph William Novotny.

Joe was born in Wibaux, Montana, the seventh of eight children, and grew up roaming the plains of Eastern Montana.

Joe had recently finished his second year of high school at Sacred Heart Catholic School in Miles City when he enlisted in the military. It was a week after his 17th birthday, nearly a year before he was eligible for the draft.

He would serve in the Navy, spending two years on board the U.S.S. John R. Craig. Joe would be honorably discharged in July of 1950, days before the three year anniversary of his enlistment.

Civilian life wouldn't hold Joe for long. He reenlisted, this time in the U.S. Army, in time to deploy to the conflict of the Korean War.

On March 1, 1951, Private First Class Novotny's unit was pinned down by intense enemy machine gun fire. Before long, several of his fellow infantrymen were wounded.

Looking around him, at wounded soldiers, with bullets whizzing around them, Joe made a gut decision.

He was the division litter bearer, and he went to work.

In the ultimate display of courage and selfless sacrifice, Joe abandoned his covered position to run across the bullet-riddled terrain toward some of the wounded American soldiers. Again he found himself pinned down by enemy fire, before he could reach his fellow soldiers.

Several times Joe moved to reach the wounded soldiers in his unit. Several times he risked his own life to reach his peers.

It was only after a bullet struck his knee that he crawled back to cover. He received treatment in the field before being transported to a military hospital. He remained there for about four months before he could travel back to the United States.

Like so many of his fellow soldiers, Joe's injuries followed him home. By his early 50's Joe was relying on VA assisted living facilities as he struggled with his injury and subsequent related illnesses.

Joe passed away February 24, 2005.

It wasn't until after his death that his brother began to look in to Joe's service. While his brother passed away before his search could bear fruit, his niece Kathy took things up.

Today, I want the record to show that this was a man who volunteered to serve his country, not once, but twice, in two branches of the military.

A man who despite heavy enemy fire, risked his own life to get his fellow wounded soldiers. He only stopped once he himself was wounded.

A humble man who didn't speak much about his military service after his discharge, despite the actions that earned him four distinct military honors.

Joseph Novotny is an American hero, and I am honored to present his story and to ensure that it is celebrated in America's history forever.

Mr. President, I yield the floor.

200TH ANNIVERSARY OF MEXICO, MAINE

Ms. COLLINS. Mr. President, today I wish to commemorate the 200th anniversary of the town of Mexico, ME. Mexico was built with a spirit of determination and resiliency that still guides the community today, and this is a time to celebrate the generations of hard-working and caring people who have made it such a wonderful place to live, work, and raise families.

The year of Mexico's incorporation, 1818, was but one milestone in a long journey of progress. For thousands of years, the land of fields, streams, and forests of what is now Oxford County was the home of the Abenaki. The reverence the Abenaki had for the natural beauty and resources of the region is upheld by the people of Mexico today.

In 1789, the Massachusetts General Court granted 30,000 acres on the banks of the Androscoggin River to Colonel John Holman, a hero of the American Revolution. Officially named Township Number 1, the new settlement was popularly known by its growing population as Holmanstown. Upon incorporation in 1818, the townspeople chose a name that was inspired by the ongoing struggle by the country of Mexico for independence from Spain and that reflected their own commitment to American liberty.

With the mighty Androscoggin River providing power, Mexico soon was home to many lumber, grain, and textile mills. When the first paper mill opened across the river in Rumford in 1893, the people of Mexico were part of the skilled and dedicated workforce that built a great Maine industry. The prosperity produced by hard work and determination was invested in schools and churches to create a true community.

Today visitors and residents alike enjoy Mexico's scenery, historic buildings, and outdoor recreation opportunities. The energy and planning that are going into Mexico's 200th anniversary celebration demonstrate the pride townspeople have in their town.

The celebration of Mexico's 200th anniversary is not merely about the passing of time; it is about human accomplishment. We celebrate the people who, from the dawn of our Nation to our time, have pulled together, cared for one another, and built a great community. Thanks to those who came before, Mexico, ME, has a wonderful history. Thanks to those there today, it has a bright future.

SUBMITTED RESOLUTIONS

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 32—AFFIRMING THE IMPORTANCE OF RELIGIOUS FREEDOM AS A FUNDAMENTAL HUMAN RIGHT THAT IS ESSENTIAL TO A FREE SOCIETY AND PROTECTED FOR ALL PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES UNDER THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES, AND RECOGNIZING THE 232ND ANNIVERSARY OF THE ENACTMENT OF THE VIRGINIA STATUTE FOR RELIGIOUS FREEDOM

Mr. DAINES (for himself, Mr. HATCH, Mr. LANKFORD, Mr. RISCH, Mr. BLUNT, Mr. INHOFE, Mr. COTTON, Mr. CRAPO, Mr. LEE, Mr. BOOZMAN, Mr. TILLIS, and Mrs. ERNST) submitted the following concurrent resolution; which was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary:

Mr. DAINES. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the text of the bill be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the text of the bill was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

S. CON. RES. 32

Whereas the democracy of the United States is rooted in the fundamental truth that all people are created equal, endowed by the Creator with certain inalienable rights, including life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness;

Whereas the freedom of conscience was highly valued by—

(1) individuals seeking religious freedom who settled in the colonies in the United States;

(2) the founders of the United States; and

(3) Thomas Jefferson, who wrote in a letter to the Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church at New London, Connecticut, dated February 4, 1809, that “[n]o provision in our Constitution ought to be dearer to man than that which protects the rights of conscience against the enterprizes of the civil authority”;

Whereas the Virginia Statute for Religious Freedom was—

(1) drafted by Thomas Jefferson, who considered the Virginia Statute for Religious Freedom to be one of his greatest achievements;

(2) enacted on January 16, 1786; and

(3) the forerunner to the Free Exercise Clause of the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States;

Whereas section 2(a) of the International Religious Freedom Act of 1998 (22 U.S.C. 6401(a)) states that—

(1) “[t]he right to freedom of religion undergirds the very origin and existence of the United States”; and

(2) religious freedom was established by the founders of the United States “in law, as a fundamental right and as a pillar of our Nation”;

Whereas the role of religion in society and public life in the United States has a long and robust tradition;

Whereas individuals who have studied the democracy of the United States from an international perspective, such as Alexis de Tocqueville, have noted that religion plays a central role in preserving the Government of the United States because religion provides the moral base required for democracy to succeed;

Whereas, in Town of Greece v. Galloway, 134 S. Ct. 1811 (2014), the Supreme Court of the United States affirmed that “people of many faiths may be united in a community of tolerance and devotion”;

Whereas the principle of religious freedom “has guided our Nation forward”, as expressed by the 44th President of the United States in a Presidential proclamation on Religious Freedom Day in 2011, and freedom of religion “is a universal human right to be protected here at home and across the globe”, as expressed by that President of the United States on Religious Freedom Day in 2013;

Whereas “[f]reedom of religion is a fundamental human right that must be upheld by every nation and guaranteed by every government”, as expressed by the 42nd President of the United States in a Presidential proclamation on Religious Freedom Day in 1999;

Whereas the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States protects—

(1) the right of individuals to freely express and act on the religious beliefs of those individuals; and

(2) individuals from coercion to profess or act on a religious belief to which those individuals do not adhere;

Whereas “our laws and institutions should not impede or hinder but rather should protect and preserve fundamental religious liberties”, as expressed by the 42nd President of the United States in remarks accompanying the signing of the Religious Freedom Restoration Act of 1993 (42 U.S.C. 2000bb et seq.);

Whereas, for countless people of the United States, faith is an integral part of every aspect of daily life and is not limited to the homes, houses of worship, or doctrinal creeds of those individuals;

Whereas “religious faith has inspired many of our fellow citizens to help build a better Nation” in which “people of faith continue to wage a determined campaign to meet needs and fight suffering”, as expressed by the 43rd President of the United States in a Presidential proclamation on Religious Freedom Day in 2003;

Whereas, “from its birth to this day, the United States has prized this legacy of religious freedom and honored this heritage by standing for religious freedom and offering refuge to those suffering religious persecution”, as noted in section 2(a) of the International Religious Freedom Act of 1998 (22 U.S.C. 6401(a));

Whereas Thomas Jefferson wrote—

(1) in 1798 that each right encompassed in the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States is dependent on the other rights described in that Amendment, “thereby guarding in the same sentence, and under the same words, the freedom of religion, of speech, and of the press: insomuch, that whatever violated either, throws down the sanctuary which covers the others”; and

(2) in 1822 that the constitutional freedom of religion is “the most inalienable and sacred of all human rights”;

Whereas religious freedom “has been integral to the preservation and development of the United States”, and “the free exercise of religion goes hand in hand with the preservation of our other rights”, as expressed by the 41st President of the United States in a Presidential proclamation on Religious Freedom Day in 1993; and

Whereas we “continue to proclaim the fundamental right of all peoples to believe and worship according to their own conscience, to affirm their beliefs openly and freely, and to practice their faith without fear or intimidation”, as expressed by the 42nd President of the United States in a Presidential proclamation on Religious Freedom Day in 1998: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate (the House of Representatives concurring), That Congress—

(1) on Religious Freedom Day on January 16, 2018, honors the 232nd anniversary of the enactment of the Virginia Statute for Religious Freedom; and

(2) affirms that—

(A) for individuals of any faith and individuals of no faith, religious freedom includes the right of an individual to live, work, associate, and worship in accordance with the beliefs of the individual;

(B) all people of the United States can be unified in supporting religious freedom, regardless of differing individual beliefs, because religious freedom is a fundamental human right; and

(C) “the American people will remain forever unshackled in matters of faith”, as expressed by the 44th President of the United States in a Presidential proclamation on Religious Freedom Day in 2012.

HONORING MARY YERGAN HUGHES

HON. DWIGHT EVANS

OF PENNSYLVANIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, January 16, 2018

Mr. EVANS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor an inspirational and dedicated woman from Northwest Philadelphia, Mary Yergan Hughes, a children's librarian and volunteer.

Mrs. Hughes was born in Alice, South Africa to missionary parents. Her father was an advocate for black civil rights in Africa. She later moved to Massachusetts and enrolled in Northfield Mount Hermon, a preparatory school, in which she served as the president of the student council and was one of a few African American students in her school. For college, she was part of the first group of African American women to attend Wellesley College. After her junior year, she contracted tuberculosis and had to leave school in order to recover. After three years of recovery, she finished her undergraduate degree at Columbia University.

She married Dr. Hughes and had two daughters. Mrs. Hughes went back to school and received her master's degree in library science from Drexel University which led her to become a children's librarian in Philadelphia's Northwest Regional Library. She loved reading to the neighborhood children during after-school story hours and inspired so many children to have a love for learning and reading.

Ever since Mrs. Hughes became an adult, she would volunteer. She was a Platinum Alumna member of the Philadelphia chapter of the Links, Inc., a service organization of distinguished women whose goal is to enrich and sustain the culture of African Americans and others of African ancestry. She was also a president during one of its National Assemblies. Some other organizations she was president of include: the Philadelphia chapter of the Circle-Lets, Inc., a social organization for black women, and Boulé wives, the women's arm of Sigma Pi Phi Fraternity.

Mrs. Hughes was part of our Philadelphia community in many ways. She was a member of the Germantown Cricket Club where she loved to participate in tournaments. She loved to play tennis. She was also a half-century member and elder at Summit Presbyterian Church in Mount Airy.

Mrs. Hughes devoted her life to engaging and helping her community. The 2nd Congressional District of Pennsylvania extends gratitude to Mrs. Hughes for all that she has done for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

HONORING WARDELL GRAY

HON. BENNIE G. THOMPSON

OF MISSISSIPPI

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, January 16, 2018

Mr. THOMPSON of Mississippi. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor a remarkable person, Mr. Wardell Gray.

Wardell Gray was born June 30, 1917 as the eldest son and first of two sons of Mr. Will Gray and Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Otis Gray in Carson, Mississippi. There was an older sister, Willa Mae, the first born who died of lockjaw at the age of 10. The year he was born, his father was a Foreman with the Illinois Central Railroad, and they lived for a number of years in Sumrall, MS where his parents operated a boarding house for the other men who worked under his father. Gray was exposed to hard work in the area of farming and business at an early age. Upon their return to Jefferson Davis County, his mother was the teacher in a one room school house on the grounds of the Holliday Creek M.B. Church.

Due to the fact that there was no school for blacks, he completed 8th Grade education there and continued his high school education at Prentiss Institute Junior College. He was a good student and an awesome athlete as a Baseball Pitcher with one of the Old Negro Leagues. His father Will Gray passed away at the age of 110 years of age and his mother Mary at age 97.

Gray was drafted in the U.S. Army on November 19, 1941 and fought in World War II in the following battles and campaigns: Naples-Foggia, Rome Arno, Rhineland, and Central Europe. He received the American Defense Service Medal, ATO Medal, Good Condition Medal, Meritorious Unit Award and the World War II Victory Medal. He returned back to his home from the Army on October 31, 1945.

While away at War, his parents were acquiring land. Upon his return, his dream was to do the same and continue his love for farming. In completing this vision, he met and married the love of his life, Quillie Ross Gray. She was a graduate of Jackson State University and continued out of state at Indiana University to obtain a master's degree. He was one of the first blacks to open a Dairy during the late 40s. His Uncle, Dr. J.R. Otis was President of Alcorn College. With this relationship to the college, students who were Agriculture majors would travel to Gray Farms to intern.

As a civil rights activist, Gray was involved in fighting for voter registration, and an avid and ardent supporter of the 1964 Civil Rights act. In 1959, he was the first black candidate to run for any type of public office; Constable for his district, Beat 2. He would later run for Election Commissioner. He became President of the Jefferson Davis Chapter of NAACP in 1959 and would remain through 1974. He picketed local stores and other national franchises regarding employment discrimination practices. Gray worked tirelessly with other civil rights giants such as Medgar and Charles Evers, Fannie Lou Hamer, Rev. Darby, Dr. Aaron Henry, his cousin, Charles Young and many others known and unknown.

As a member of Blackmon Temple CME Church, Gray brought his love of God, education, and children together, for it was during the civil rights movement that meetings of the NAACP, Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party, Mississippi Action for Progress (MAP) were held at churches throughout the State. He along with Mr. N.J. Booth was instrumental in acquiring the land for the first black school in Jefferson Davis County, Carver High.

Wardell Gray and his family suffered many attacks in his life, cross burnings, a barn burned to the ground with 3,000 bales of hay destroyed and on and on, but it did not stop him from fighting for civil rights. He partnered with the Lawrence County Branch of the NAACP to ensure the hiring of African Americans at St. Regis Paper Company (Now Georgia Pacific).

His wife was fired from the school system briefly due to Rev. Darby and Gray filing the lawsuit against the poll tax for the right to vote. Gray formed biracial committees to tackle the troubles in the county—such as colored and white separate waiting rooms at medical clinics.

When the NAACP was sued for millions of dollars, he was in the forefront of fund raising to assist the National Branch in meeting their need. He was the first black to be appointed under President Jimmy Carter to serve on the ASC Committee.

Volumes could be written about the number of people Gray counseled, inspired, encouraged and helped along in their lives. Gray will be remembered as a gentleman, friend, and servant; lover of his family, community and his God.

The loves of his life were his two children and his grand- and great-grandchildren. He was a mentor to many children in the community and beyond. Gray leaves to cherish his memory his children: Dr. Pene' Gray Woods (Curtis) of Cordova, TN; Joseph Willie (Sheryl) Gray of Hattiesburg, MS, grandchildren Christopher (Lynsi), and Dominic, Joseph Jr., Jayla,

CYBER VULNERABILITY DISCLOSURE REPORTING ACT

SPEECH OF

HON. HENRY C. "HANK" JOHNSON, JR.

OF GEORGIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Mr. JOHNSON of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I rise to support H.R. 3202, the Cyber Vulnerability Disclosure Reporting Act. H.R. 3202 directs the Secretary of Homeland Security to submit a report to Congress detailing the procedures involved in disclosing cyber vulnerabilities to the private sector.

This bill aims to safeguard the nation against cyber security threats by requiring the Secretary of Homeland Security to release a report disclosing specific cyber security vulnerabilities to the House Committee on Homeland Security and the Committee on Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs of the Senate. H.R. 3202 also requires that the report include examples of these procedures in action over the past year, noting when the disclosure took place and how the information was used to prevent cyber-attacks. Finally, the report will also explain how the Secretary of Homeland Security, other Federal agencies, and relevant industries are working collaboratively to prevent, detect, and mitigate cyber vulnerabilities.

To best combat cyber threats, we must support full cooperation between the private and public sectors. In the past, cybersecurity vulnerabilities have been collected by the Department of Homeland Security and monitored by the intelligence community. The disclosure of these vulnerabilities to the private sector is an important step to promote transparency and to encourage preventative action on the part of stakeholders and industries.

I fully support H.R. 3202 to strengthen documentation of cybersecurity threats across the public and private sectors. I believe that informing Congress of disclosure procedures is a critically important step in guaranteeing transparency at the Federal level and ensuring that vulnerabilities are acted on.

POST-CALIPHATE THREAT

SPEECH OF

HON. HENRY C. "HANK" JOHNSON, JR.

OF GEORGIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Mr. JOHNSON of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of H.R. 4564—Post-Caliphate Threat Assessment Act of 2017.

This legislation would direct the Department of Homeland Security, in coordination with the Department of State, and the Office of the Director of National Intelligence to perform a threat assessment of current foreign terrorist fighter activities. This multi-agency assessment will include a breakdown of any country or region with a substantial increase in foreign terrorist fighter activity, travel and trends of terrorist movement, and an analysis of travel trends in and out of Iraq and Syria.

To successfully continue the fight against the Islamic State of Iraq and Syria (ISIS), our government agencies must understand the current terrorist threat. This conflict is complex and ISIS has lost a significant amount of territory in their self-declared caliphate, while anti-ISIS fighters have successfully regained control of the cities of Mosul and Raqqa. After these recent victories for the anti-ISIS forces in Northern Iraq and Syria, the enemy has dispersed across the region. The anti-ISIS victories have been essential to reestablishing order in the conflict zone, but unfortunately present new challenges in defeating the terrorist group. Shifts in power have caused ISIS to disperse into countries that border Syria and Iraq, such as Libya, Afghanistan, and Turkey, in order to evade total defeat. Recent reports on the whereabouts of fleeing ISIS fighters have varied, prompting the need for a post-caliphate threat assessment.

As a former member of the House Armed Forces Committee, I understand well the complexity of this conflict. By creating this assessment for our intelligence and defense agencies we will provide them with the proper tools to fight ISIS and current terrorist threats. We must continue to update our intelligence as the war against ISIS goes on and forces hide, recuperate, and go underground. Some terrorist fighters have been believed to migrate to neighboring countries, others have relocated to their homes, and members of this group might even be seeking to return to Europe or the U.S. Keeping track of this terrible enemy will be of the utmost importance and H.R. 4564 will help us assess this threat and will bolster our arsenal to combat terror abroad.

VICTOR LOVELADY'S SPIRIT LIVES ON

HON. TED POE

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, January 16, 2018

Mr. POE of Texas. Mr. Speaker, on this day, five years ago, one of my constituents—Mr. Victor Lovelady—was brutally killed at the hands of al-Qaeda-linked terrorists in Algeria. Victor was killed not just for who he was, but also for what he represented. He was killed because he was an American. Before his death, Victor displayed some of the very best qualities of the American spirit: courage, conviction, and compassion. This is the American spirit that terrorists seek to kill. But today and every day, we let Mr. Lovelady's spirit live on. I would like to take a moment to tell you his story.

Like many Americans, Victor Lovelady was a hard worker who put in long hours to provide for his family of four. As an industrial engineer and master electrician, he worked most of his life in his hometown of Nederland, Texas. Victor never had a pension plan and always had to pay his family's insurance by himself. So, when given the opportunity to work overseas for British Petroleum, Victor knew a few years of hard work would provide him with enough money to retire. He made a sacrifice for his family.

On January 9, 2013, Victor arrived in a remote area of Algeria to begin his new job at the BP Gas facility. Seven days later, Victor and several other workers were in the cantina having tea when a colleague walked in with a gunshot wound to his stomach. Al Qaeda-linked terrorists had stormed their facility and were indiscriminately killing innocent employees.

In the ultimate show of heroism, Victor disregarded the sound of gunfire and instead began cleaning and dressing his colleague's wound. Victor then hid him in a food container for his safety. Even as the sound of gunshots grew louder, Victor selflessly continued to lift the other men into the cantina's false ceiling, hiding them from the attackers. Moments later, the terrorists stormed in, captured Victor, and held him hostage. Victor's selfless and heroic actions saved four lives that day. Sadly, Victor was killed when U.S. and Algerian forces attempted to rescue the hostages.

Victor Lovelady was a true American hero. He represented the very best of America; he represented selfless courage and sacrifice. He was there to work hard to provide an honest living for his family and when he encountered the evil of terrorism, thought first to protect others instead of himself. For his actions, I have requested that Victor be recognized with the Presidential Medal of Freedom, our nation's highest civilian honor to recognize individuals who have made "an especially meritorious contribution" to our society. Victor undoubtedly exceeded that standard.

While we continue to mourn their loss we should, to quote General George Patton: "Thank God that such men lived."

Mr. Speaker, courage like this should be praised and remembered. We should all take a moment today to reflect on the heroism of Victor Lovelady. He was a great man and his legacy continues through his family: his wife, Maureen, his two children, Erin and Grant, and his brother, Mike. May we continue to honor the sacrifice that Victor Lovelady made as a courageous husband, father, and American. And that's just the way it is.

RECOGNIZING JUDGE JOHNNY ROGERS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, January 16, 2018

Mr. ADERHOLT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to recognize Judge Johnny Rogers on the occasion of his retirement as Probate Judge of Lamar County, Alabama. I am proud to recognize Judge Rogers for his many years of public service to Lamar County and to the state of Alabama. He is truly a man who embodies the American principles of hard work, dedication, and devotion to one's community.

Judge Rogers is a native of Lamar County and was educated in the Lamar County school system. After operating Rogers Auto Parts, a successful automotive business in Sulligent, Alabama, for twenty-seven years, he decided to enter public service. He was first elected as Probate Judge, which also serves as Chairman of the County Commission, in 2000, and re-elected in 2006 and again in 2012. His re-election in 2006 was the first time a Probate Judge had been re-elected in Lamar County in over 30 years.

During his term in office, Judge Rogers committed himself to working hard for the citizens of Lamar County, conducting the Probate Judge's office and the County Commission in an effective, efficient and courteous manner and striving to improve the quality of life for all citizens of Lamar County. He created the "Existing Manufacturing Program" to help retain Lamar County's manufacturing jobs by offering incentives and abatements to local businesses. He also worked tirelessly with the local economic development authority on industrial expansions by Nacco Material Handling, Weyerhaeuser, and Steel Dust Recycling, resulting in a capital investment of over $250 million and the addition of hundreds of jobs.

Another goal of Judge Rogers was to expand the availability of county water. Since he took office he has secured $2.4 million in Community Development Block Grant funds to provide county water to 282 homes and constructed over 51 miles of new waterlines.

Judge Rogers is highly respected by the people of Lamar County for his honesty and dedication. He is also one of the friendliest people you could ever meet, and I am proud to call him my friend.

Mr. Speaker, it is a great privilege to honor Judge Johnny Rogers on his many accomplishments and for his enduring impact on his community, his state, and nation. I join his family, friends and colleagues in wishing him God's richest blessings in his retirement.

100TH BIRTHDAY OF NATHAN DRAYER

HON. DANIEL M. DONOVAN, JR.

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, January 16, 2018

Mr. DONOVAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to celebrate the 100th birthday of World War II veteran, Dr. Nathan Drayer.

Nathan Drayer was born on January 8, 1918, in Brooklyn, New York. It was in Brooklyn where Nathan met his future wife, Sylvia. After marriage, they went on to raise their four outstanding children, Carol, Barry, Gerald, and Dennis. When the call to serve came, however, Dr. Drayer immediately answered. As a licensed optometrist with a degree from Columbia University, he was made a U.S. Army medic, serving stateside during World War II. After the war ended, Dr. Drayer opened his own optometry practice in Brooklyn. He treated patients for over 40 years until he retired in 1990.

Residing in Island Shores for the past four years, Nathan has loved spending time with friends and fellow residents. Moreover, he treasures every moment he spends with his loving children, six grandchildren, and six great-grandchildren. He is very popular at Island Shores, with a great sense of humor and an ingenious wit.

Mr. Speaker, I wish Dr. Nathan Drayer a happy 100th birthday. I cannot thank him enough for his contributions to his country. When the war broke out, he stepped up when he was needed most in order to vanquish the evil of fascism. He is a shining example of a true American hero. I am immensely proud to represent him in Congress. I hope he has the happiest of birthdays, and I thank him for his service.

HONORING THE LIFE AND LEGACY OF MRS. GLORIA MARGIE BROWN

HON. CEDRIC L. RICHMOND

OF LOUISIANA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, January 16, 2018

Mr. RICHMOND. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the life and legacy of Mrs. Gloria Margie Brown, a native of New Orleans, Louisiana, who passed away on January 4, 2018, at the age of 82.

Mrs. Brown was the first child born of three children to the late Mr. Edward Davis, Sr. and Mrs. Maude B. Davis, in Lobdell, Louisiana. She was reared in a Christian home, where both the Catholic and Baptist faiths were taught, although the family mostly attended St. Paul Catholic Church in Brusly, Louisiana.

Mrs. Brown's childhood education began at St. Monica School, where she met her lifelong friend Bessie. Upon graduating the eighth grade she matriculated to Walter L. Cohen High School. She was in the second graduating class and one of the first majorettes. She was proud of her school and regularly participated in many of their functions.

As a teenager, Mrs. Brown was honored with the title of Miss Lincoln Beach. She enjoyed helping others and served as the monitor at the "baby pool" at Lemn Park Playground for more than 19 years.

Mrs. Brown married Mr. Eric Brown and together they raised three children—Melvin, Rhonda, and Margie. She supported her children in all of their life adventures, from the church house, ball parks, and dance recitals.

We cannot match the sacrifices made by Mrs. Brown, but surely we can try to match her sense of service. We cannot match her courage, but we can strive to match her devotion.

Mrs. Brown's survivors include her children, Melvin, Rhonda, and Margie; grandchildren AJ, Hass, and Maddi; one great grandson A'Jay; her sister Elaine (Jack), her brother Ed, sister-in-law Valentine and two god children Karen Lynn and Tommy. She was preceded in death by her husband Eric, parents Edward and Maude, grandson Melvin John Eric, sister-in-law Annie and nine brothers and sisters-in-law.

Mr. Speaker, I celebrate the life and legacy of Mrs. Gloria Margie Brown—a beloved wife, mother, grandmother, aunt, sister, and daughter.

COUNTER TERRORIST NETWORK ACT

SPEECH OF

HON. HENRY C. "HANK" JOHNSON, JR.

OF GEORGIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Mr. JOHNSON of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of H.R. 4578—Counter Terrorist Network Act. This legislation will allow the U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) to enhance border security operations that will interrupt and dismantle transnational criminal and foreign terrorist networks that threaten the security of our country. The purpose of this bill is to ensure the CBP has the authority necessary to prevent terrorists from exploiting legitimate avenues of traveling to and entering the United States.

We must continue to provide our law enforcement and security agencies with the appropriate resources to protect our great nation from terrorist networks. The CBP's primary mission is to keep the United States borders and ports safe against all threats domestic and foreign. The CBP mainly deals with transnational criminal organizations, smugglers and human traffickers, and terrorist networks. All of these groups pose significant threats to our national security and the safety of the American people. The CBP's border security mission uniquely situates this agency to combat terrorist threats that begin far from our homeland. Despite all the work performed by the CBP, the agency doesn't have explicit legal authorization to combat threats or to assign their personnel to other U.S. agencies both domestically and internationally to support their mission. This bill seeks to provide such explicit authorization.

As a former member of the House Armed Services Committee, I have always voted to support our law enforcement and our security agencies. This legislation will help provide the CBP with the proper authorization to collect intelligence on foreign terrorist threats before they reach the border. This will help ensure the safety of our homeland and the security of our border. I support H.R. 4578 and I urge my fellow members to lend their support as well.

TO COMMEMORATE ST. JOSEPH'S 25TH ANNIVERSARY

HON. TREY GOWDY

OF SOUTH CAROLINA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, January 16, 2018

Mr. GOWDY. Mr. Speaker, I include in the RECORD the following Proclamation to congratulate St. Joseph's Catholic School on twenty-five years of educating and preparing future leaders of South Carolina.

Whereas, St. Joseph's opened its doors in a small rented home to thirteen students in August of 1993 with the belief that God would provide. Today, that belief has paid dividends as St. Joseph's enrolls nearly seven hundred students and has been nationally recognized by the Catholic High School Honor Roll as a "School of Excellence."

Whereas, St. Joseph's commitment to providing students with the knowledge and skills to be successful in life is clear from the contributions of their alumni to our community. St. Joseph's alumni are serving our community in all professions from education and business to medical research, and many donate their time and gifts to serve as leaders in churches across the Upstate. Be it

Resolved, That I, TREY GOWDY, do congratulate the staff, students, and alumni of St. Joseph's Catholic School on this milestone and look forward to their continued contributions to our community and the Fourth Congressional District of South Carolina.

THE RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND KAZAKHSTAN

HON. FRANCIS ROONEY

OF FLORIDA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, January 16, 2018

Mr. FRANCIS ROONEY of Florida. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to discuss the important and strategic relationship between the United States and Kazakhstan. I was in Kazakhstan in 1992 as the nation was being reborn.

Since declaring its independence from the former Soviet Union in 1991, Kazakhstan has reached toward the West to build strong relationships, particularly with the United States. They have been allies in the region and have become a destination for American business investment. The United States was the first country to recognize Kazakhstan's independence and our friendship has grown ever since.

Kazakhstan works with us on issues like nuclear non-proliferation and counterterrorism. It exerts significant influence in Central Asia and has supported peace and stability around the world.

In 2015, after a protracted negotiation and having made material concessions, Kazakhstan was admitted into the World Trade Organization (WTO). However, since 1994, shortly after separation from the USSR, the United States has granted yearly normal trade relation status to Kazakhstan, due to its compliance with Jackson-Vanik, which requires non-market economy nations to improve human rights before allowing trade. However, the United States has not yet granted permanent normal trade relation status, which requires congressional action.

The United States has important economic interests in Kazakhstan and increased bilateral trade would strengthen our relationship. Therefore, we need congressional action to normalize trade with Kazakhstan.

COUNTERTERRORISM INFORMATION SHARING IMPROVEMENT ACT OF 2017

SPEECH OF

HON. HENRY C. "HANK" JOHNSON, JR.

OF GEORGIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, January 9, 2018

Mr. JOHNSON of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of H.R. 4569—Counterterrorism Information Sharing Improvement Act of 2017.

This legislation will require the coordination of counterterrorism information sharing to ensure that the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) has access to biographic and biometric data collected by the U.S. Government on individuals associated with a terrorist organization for counterterrorism purposes.

I believe counterterrorism information sharing between the U.S. Government and the DHS will be an essential asset to the United States. Lack of interagency cooperation prevents critical details from being shared in time sensitive situations, leading to avoidable errors and potentially fatal consequences. In the past few years, ISIS has suffered significant defeats in Iraq and Syria. In the wake of these losses, ISIS fighters have dispersed into surrounding states, Europe, and even the United States. The changing landscape where we meet this enemy necessitates information sharing between law-enforcement agencies. Though we first made contact with members of ISIS on a foreign battlefield, this threat is pervasive and dynamic.

H.R. 4569 will allow the Department of Defense to share intelligence with the DHS, should members of the Islamic State of Iraq and Syria attempt to enter the United States. The DHS will be able to utilize this intelligence for frontline screening, vetting, and protecting Americans on domestic soil.

As a former member of the Armed Services Committee I understand the obstacles facing our fight to eliminate terrorism worldwide. H.R. 4569 will remove at least one of these obstacles by promoting interagency cooperation. ISIS is not a traditional enemy and it is critical our security and intelligence agencies support one another. I support H.R. 4569 and I urge my colleagues to do the same.

INTRODUCTION OF THE FEDERAL EMPLOYEE SHORT-TERM DIS-ABILITY INSURANCE ACT OF 2018

HON. ELEANOR HOLMES NORTON

OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, January 16, 2018

Ms. NORTON. Mr. Speaker, today, I introduce the Federal Employee Short-Term Disability Insurance Act of 2018, which will help provide financial relief for federal employees who have a short-term injury or disability, become pregnant, or develop a pregnancy-related illness. This bill will offer federal employees short-term disability insurance at no cost to the federal government. Employees will be responsible for 100 percent of the premiums, and will be able to receive disability insurance benefits for up to one year, which would replace a portion of their lost income due to a non-work related injury or illness or pregnancy. These benefits will be particularly beneficial to ensure that our federal employees, who do not yet enjoy paid maternity leave, are able to utilize the 12 weeks of unpaid maternity leave permitted by federal law while continuing to pay their bills, buy groceries and make their mortgage, car and other loan payments without having to deplete their retirement or other savings accounts. Too many federal employees do not take advantage of federal unpaid maternity leave because they have no way to replace the lost income.

I decided to investigate how we could provide short-term disability insurance for federal employees after learning that many of them already buy short-term disability insurance as individuals in the private market at high individual rates. Although federal employees have good health insurance, federal health benefits do not replace lost income if employees are unable to work. Moreover, while federal employees may have available sick or annual leave days, they may not have enough such days to pay the bills if they have to be out of work for an extended period. Although there are long-term disability options for federal employees who become permanently disabled, federal employees do not qualify for such benefits until they have worked for the federal government for at least 18 months. My bill does no more than put federal employees in the same position as their private-sector counterparts, who often have access to disability insurance through an employer at group rates. This bill will not allow participating insurance companies to exclude persons based on pre-existing conditions. Because of the federal government's purchasing power, this bill will provide these benefits at a more competitive rate than is available if an employee sought such insurance as an individual, as many do.

According to the Social Security Administration, a 20-year-old worker has a one-in-four chance of becoming disabled by retirement age. The majority of disabilities are not caused by major accidents, but by injuries or illnesses, such as back injuries or cancer, according to the Council for Disability Awareness. There is every reason to allow our federal employees to take advantage of the federal government's group rates to obtain the most reasonable price if they choose to purchase short-term disability coverage on their own at no cost to the federal government.

I strongly urge my colleagues to support this bill.

HONORING THE LIFE AND LEGACY OF CONCEPCION "CONNIE" B.
DUENAS

HON. MADELEINE Z. BORDALLO

OF GUAM

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, January 16, 2018

Ms. BORDALLO. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the life and legacy of Concepcion "Connie" B. Duenas. Connie was a proud daughter of Guam and faithful public servant. She served as a Guam Mayor of the village of Tamuning-Tumon-Harmon from 2001 to 2005, and as the Vice Mayor of the village from 1998 to 2000. Connie was born on December 29, 1933 and passed away on January 4, 2018 at the age of 84.

Connie was the daughter of Juan Guerrero Balijadia and Anuncia Quitugua Reyes. She was married to Juan S.A. Duenas and together had four children. Connie was a member of Guam's greatest generation who survived the occupation of Guam during World War II.

Connie graduated from George Washington High School in 1954 and attended the Guam Territorial College and the University of Guam. She joined the Guam Police Department in 1956 and advanced to the rank of sergeant in 1971. Connie was the first female in the Guam police Department to achieve this rank. Connie worked in different capacities while at the Guam Police Department as an administrative and record specialist, and did field work in traffic control, vice squad and juvenile delinquency. She retired at the rank of lieutenant in 1978.

Connie was also very involved in the local community and volunteered her time with many organizations. She was a founding member and served as president for Victims Advocate Reaching Out, an organization which assists victims of crimes such as rape, abuse, and other traumatic experiences. She served as the treasurer for Guma Mami, Inc., a nonprofit organization dedicated to providing services to people with disabilities. She served as the president of the parent teacher associations of various schools in the village of Tamuning. Connie additionally served the parish of St. Anthony Catholic Church in Tamuning faithfully for many years as a leader in the church and Confraternity of Christian Doctrine teacher.

I am deeply saddened by the passing of Concepcion "Connie" B. Duenas and I join the people of Guam in celebrating her life. She was a dedicated public servant who worked to improve our village of Tamuning-Tumon-Harmon, and the broader community during her tenure. Her involvement in village events and service in public safety were testaments of her leadership and commitment to the people she served. My thoughts and prayers are with her family, loved ones and friends.

I extend my condolences to her husband Juan and their children Kathy, Eleanor, Yvonne and John and their numerous grandchildren and family members. She will be deeply missed, and her memory will live on in the hearts of the people of Guam.

GLOBAL AVIATION SYSTEM
SECURITY REFORM ACT OF 2017

SPEECH OF

HON. HENRY C. "HANK" JOHNSON, JR.

OF GEORGIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, January 9, 2018

Mr. JOHNSON of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of H.R. 4559.

H.R. 4559, the Global Aviation System Security Reform Act of 2017, aims to conduct a global aviation security review to improve global aviation security standards. H.R. 4559 directs the Transportation Security Administration (TSA) to comprehensively review challenges facing the global aviation system and review aviation security implementation. This legislation encourages cooperation between multiple agencies of the Federal Government, the Department of Homeland Security (DHS), and the TSA to ensure proper coordination and outreach both within and outside of the United States government.

The DHS and the TSA have expressed concerns about threats to inbound civil aviation. To manage these threats, key aspects of H.R. 4559 would work to improve the security at last point of departure airports overseas and more generally improve security at airports across the world. We must establish global aviation security standards to create safer skies across the world.

Additionally, as a member of the Transportation and Infrastructure committee, ensuring the safety of transportation mechanisms has been of paramount importance to me, and as a member of the subcommittee on Aviation, I am particularly concerned with this issue. Georgia is home to the busiest airport in the world; 55 million passengers annually travel through Atlanta's Hartsfield-Jackson International airport. I will do everything I can to protect passengers in Georgia, the United States, and the world. I wholeheartedly support H.R. 4559 and urge my fellow members to do the same.

HONORING THE LIFE OF
BRIGADIER GENERAL ANNA HAYS

HON. CHARLES W. DENT

OF PENNSYLVANIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, January 16, 2018

Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize the life and achievements of Allentown native Anna Mae Hays, the first woman in the history of the U.S. Armed Forces to be awarded the rank of a general. After a life spent serving in the army and contributing to the Allentown community, Anna passed away in Washington on January 6 at the age of 97.

Born in Buffalo, N.Y. in 1920, Brigadier General (BG) Hays moved to what is now

Pennsylvania's 15th Congressional District in 1932. Ten years later, inspired by the tragic Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, she traveled some 60 miles by trolley car from Allentown to Philadelphia to join an Army reserve unit affiliated with the Hospital at the University of Pennsylvania. In 1943, she shipped out to Asia, where she served at the 20th Field Hospital, tending to wounded soldiers in India.

As an Army nurse, BG Hays' compassion for others was unparalleled. Furthermore, she was resolute in her mission to provide the highest level of care to our nation's troops, even battling severe illnesses and hardships of her own to do so. Following WWII, she again served hundreds of wounded soldiers at the 4th Field Hospital in Inchon and the Tokyo Army Hospital during the Korean War.

After the wars, her compassion did not waver as she continued to serve in military hospitals. This included a stint at Walter Reed Army Medical Center, where two of her patients included General George C. Marshall and President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

When war broke out in Vietnam, BG Hays again answered the call of duty. She worked in the Army Nurse Corps and rose to the rank of chief, visiting Vietnam on many occasions to inspect medical installations.

On June 11, 1970, BG Hays was promoted to the rank of Brigadier General after being nominated by President Nixon, becoming the first woman to ever receive this distinction. Additionally, she was also awarded the Distinguished Service Medal, the highest noncombat award issued by the Pentagon.

Brigadier General Anna Mae Hays will always be remembered for her kindness and service towards others and her love of her childhood home in the Lehigh Valley. Even at 90 years old, Anna consistently drove back to Allentown to visit loved ones and donate historical items to local museums.

Mr. Speaker, I ask the House to please join me in recognizing the life of this remarkable woman and her monumental accomplishments. Her commitment to our armed service members and to our country will never be forgotten.

The Medals are awarded to U.S. citizens from diverse ethnic backgrounds who exemplify outstanding qualities in both their personal and professional lives, while continuing to preserve the richness of their particular heritage and culture. This momentous occasion was celebrated with a patriotic ceremony on Ellis Island and a recommitment by the leaders of the organization to their mission of honoring diversity, fostering tolerance and promoting religious and racial unity across America.

Since the Medals' founding, more than 2,500 American citizens have received the Ellis Island Medal of Honor, including seven American Presidents, numerous United States Senators and Congressmen, two Nobel Laureates, and many athletes, artists, clergy, and military leaders. This Medal is not about material success, nor is it about the politics of immigration; it is about the people who have committed themselves to this nation, embraced the opportunities America offers, and most importantly, who have used those opportunities to not only better their own lives but make a difference in our country and in the lives of its people.

Citizens of the United States hail from every nation known to man. The iconic metaphor of this nation as a veritable melting pot of cultures continues to ring true, and it is this diversity that adds to the unique richness of American life. It is the key to why America is the most innovative, progressive and forward thinking country in the world. The Ellis Island Medals of Honor not only celebrate select individuals but also the pluralism and democracy that enabled our forbearers to celebrate their cultural identities while still embracing the American way of life. This award serves to remind us all that with hard work and perseverance anyone can still achieve the American dream. In addition, by honoring these remarkable Americans, we honor all who share their origins and we acknowledge the contributions they have made to America. I commend NECO and its Board of Directors headed by my good friend, Nasser J. Kazeminy, for honoring these truly outstanding individuals for their tireless efforts to foster dialogue and build bridges between different ethnic groups, as well as to promote unity and a sense of common purpose in our nation.

Mr. Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me in recognizing the good works of NECO and in congratulating all of the 2017 recipients of the Ellis Island Medal of Honor.

IN RECOGNITION OF THE 150TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE SIERRA SACRAMENTO VALLEY MEDICAL SOCIETY

HON. DORIS O. MATSUI

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, January 16, 2018

Ms. MATSUI. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize Sierra Sacramento Valley Medical Society (SSVMS) as it celebrates its 150th anniversary. As the members of SSVMS gather today, I ask my colleagues to join me in honoring the Society's long history of service to the Sacramento region and beyond.

The Sierra Sacramento Valley Medical Society, originally known as the Sacramento Society for Medical Improvement, has been in continuous operation since the 1860s. It was founded by physicians from different areas of expertise dedicated to providing quality medical care for our community. Throughout its history, the Society has benefited from the leadership of dedicated public servants such as council members, a mayor, senators, and presidents of the American Medical Association, to name just a few of the preeminent individuals who have played a role in the Society's growth and development.

As the oldest medical society in California, SSVMS is a vital part of our region's history. The Society helps understand and fight disease, promotes community education, advocates for local physicians, and supports the principles of the medical profession. The Society is committed to increasing access to health-care services and providing scholarships to medical students. In 1947 it founded the Sacramento Medical Foundation, which so many of us in Sacramento now known as BloodSource. And its Joy of Medicine program seeks to relieve physician pain and help to reclaim the joy of practicing medicine through education, advocacy, and program services designed to nurture individual well-being and collegiality.

Mr. Speaker, as those who value the Sierra Sacramento Valley Medical Society's many contributions celebrate its 150 years of invaluable service to Sacramento, I ask my colleagues to join me in honoring this prestigious group. The health and well-being of untold numbers of my constituents in Sacramento are better thanks to the Society's vision, leadership, and efforts.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

HON. RON KIND

OF WISCONSIN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, January 16, 2018

Mr. KIND. Mr. Speaker, I was unable to have my votes recorded on the House floor on Thursday, January 11, 2018. Had I been present, I would have voted in favor of S. 139. While this bill is not perfect, the FISA program is needed to keep the American public safe. I am hopeful that stronger judicial oversight elements will be added in the Senate, as a former special prosecutor, I acutely understand the need for people's privacy rights must be protected at all times.

DIRECTING THE SECRETARY OF STATE TO DEVELOP A STRATEGY TO REGAIN OBSERVER STATUS FOR TAIWAN IN THE WORLD HEALTH ORGANIZATION

SPEECH OF

HON. HENRY C. "HANK" JOHNSON, JR.

OF GEORGIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, January 9, 2018

Mr. JOHNSON of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of H.R. 3320, a bill that directs the Secretary of State to develop a strategy to obtain observer status for Taiwan in the World Health Organization (WHO). This bill requires the Department of State to report to Congress the observer status for Taiwan at the annual summit of the World Health Assembly (WHA) held by the WHO in Geneva, Switzerland. If Taiwan fails to obtain observer status for a particular year, this bill requires the Secretary to include an account of the changes and strategic improvements that the State Department has made to help Taiwan regain observer status in the WHO.

Taiwan first sought to participate in the WHO as an observer in 1997. In 2009, with strong support from successive United States Administrations and Congress, Taiwan received an invitation to attend the WHA as an observer under the name "Chinese Taipei". Taiwan received the same invitation each year until 2016, following the election of President Tsai-Ing Wen of the Democratic Progressive Party. President Tsai-Ing Wen's administration has threatened Taiwan's engagement in the international community and Taiwan has faced increased resistance from the People's Republic of China (PRC) when seeking inclusion in numerous organizations. Taiwan's invitation to the 2016 WHA was received late and included new language conditioning Taiwan's participation on the PRC's "one China principle". In 2017, Taiwan did not receive an invitation to the WHA.

Taiwan remains a model contributor to world health efforts, providing financial and technical assistance in response to numerous global health challenges. Taiwan has invested over $6 billion in international medical and humanitarian aid efforts impacting over 80 countries since 1996. In 2014, Taiwan responded to the Ebola crisis by donating $1,000,000 and providing 100,000 sets of personal protective equipment. Through the Global Cooperation and Training Framework, the United States and Taiwan have jointly conducted training programs for experts to combat MERS, Dengue fever, and Zika. These diseases know no borders, and Taiwan's needless exclusion from global health cooperation increases the dangers presented by global pandemics.

H.R. 3320 expands the report the Department of State is required to produce discussing Taiwan's status at the WHO and encourages Taiwan's inclusion in this international organization. I support this legislation and urge my colleagues to do the same.

HONORING YOUNG ARTISTS FROM WHITKO HIGH SCHOOL

HON. JIM BANKS

OF INDIANA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, January 16, 2018

Mr. BANKS of Indiana. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize seven exceptional students from Whitko High School in South Whitley, Indiana. In September 2017, Whitko High School students participated in the 48th World School Children's Art Exhibition in Taipei, Taiwan. The exhibition is designed to promote artistic exploration and highlight the artistic achievements of students from 42 nations.

I would like to congratulate Whitko High School students Brielle Harrison, Megan Licata, Trysten Tucker, Chase Meade, Derek Stouder, and Katarina Rojas on being selected to participate in this prestigious contest. I also would like to congratulate Julia Seifert, whose painting "Indian Lore" received a bronze prize.

On behalf of northeast Indiana, I would like to congratulate these young artists on their accomplishments. I know that each of these students has a very bright future.

IN REMEMBRANCE OF CAPTAIN AARON J. EIDEM

HON. BILLY LONG

OF MISSOURI

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, January 16, 2018

Mr. LONG. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor Captain Aaron J. Eidem of Webb City, Missouri, for his service to this nation and his heroic act of selflessness.

Captain Eidem was an active duty member of the U.S. Army for 20 years, serving as a military police officer and instructor. Having been deployed three times, Captain Eidem earned the Bronze Star and Purple Heart for his valiant efforts on the battlefield. Since 2014, Captain Eidem was an adjunct professor of military science at Missouri State University Army ROTC and was highly respected by students and faculty alike.

Driving home one evening, Captain Eidem witnessed an accident that left a disabled vehicle dangerously protruding into the passing lane along a busy stretch of I-44. Being the man of service that he was, Captain Eidem pulled over to assist the individuals in the vehicle. As Captain Eidem returned to his vehicle and attempted to lead the individuals to safety, a tractor-trailer struck his vehicle, making this his final selfless deed.

I am honored that Captain Eidem resided in my district, and am proud to have represented such an unparalleled person. His service to this nation and to his fellow countrymen will not be forgotten.

TAIWAN TRAVEL ACT

SPEECH OF

HON. HENRY C. "HANK" JOHNSON, JR.

OF GEORGIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Mr. JOHNSON of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of H.R. 535, the Taiwan Travel Act.

H.R. 535 reaffirms congressional support for the Taiwan Relations Act and upholds the policy that allows U.S. officials at every level to travel to Taiwan to meet their counterparts, and allow Taiwanese officials to do the same in Washington. The bill also encourages the Taipei Economic and Cultural Representative Office (TECRO) to continue to conduct business in the U.S.

Since the enactment of the Taiwan Relations Act, ties between the United States and Taiwan have suffered from insufficient high-level communication, largely due to the restrictions that the United States placed on visits by high ranking officials to Taiwan. The United States and Taiwan maintain what the U.S. Department of State calls "a robust unofficial relationship." The relationship has been unofficial since January 1, 1979, when the Carter Administration established diplomatic relations with China and ended formal diplomatic ties with Taiwan. In the absence of diplomatic relations, the Taiwan Relations Act (TRA, P.L. 96-8), enacted on April 10, 1979, provides a legal basis for the U.S. relationship with Taiwan.

I fully support H.R. 535 and encourage officials at all levels of the U.S. government to travel to Taiwan to meet their counterparts. Official travel between our countries is an integral part of developing stronger diplomatic ties, and our international trade relationship makes this bond between us particularly important. Taiwan is currently our 10th largest trading partner, and in 2016 this partnership totaled an estimated $84.9 billion.

Our established trade partnership with Taiwan continues to help bolster the United States economy also by providing and sustaining jobs. According to the Department of Commerce, in 2015 U.S. exports of goods and services to Taiwan supported an estimated 208,000 jobs domestically. It is essential we support H.R. 535, the Taiwan Travel Act to encourage strong diplomatic partnerships between the United States and Taiwan.

IN HONOR OF COURTNEY WILBURN

DHS INTERAGENCY COUNTERTERRORISM TASK FORCE ACT OF 2017

SPEECH OF

HON. HENRY C. "HANK" JOHNSON, JR.

OF GEORGIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Mr. JOHNSON of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of H.R. 4555, DHS Interagency Counterterrorism Task Force Act.

This legislation provides the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) with the authorization to assign their workforce to participate in overseas interagency counterterrorism task forces. Participation in these task forces will aid in counterterrorism information sharing and combat the threat of terrorism and associated risks to the United States, as determined by DHS.

To continue to fight terrorism domestically and worldwide, I believe it is critical for agencies overseas to have open communications with one another. The more counterterrorism information that the DHS and other task forces overseas share, the more effectively these agencies can strategize. We must provide our security agencies with this critical asset to defend our country and citizens. Encouraging DHS personnel to participate in international task forces could create new solutions and help save the lives of our armed forces and personnel overseas. This task force could also assist the DHS in being more properly prepared to take on any counterterrorism efforts in the U.S.

As a former member of the Armed Services Committee, I have long advocated for protecting our personnel overseas. I strongly believe in providing our U.S. security agencies with the proper training and communication tools to successfully fight terrorism. This legislation will provide the DHS with the appropriate authorization to share information with allies overseas and will bring us one step closer to rooting out terror worldwide. H.R. 4555 will allow DHS personnel to not only build relationships with allied counterterrorism task forces overseas but also help better prepare them to take on terrorism at home.
